TOMAHAWKS.

INDIANS WRANGLE.

Lo's Descendants in Senate Mix.

Owen of Oklahoma and Curtis of Kansas in a Wordy War.

Former Is of Cherokee Stock, While the Latter Is a Kaw.

Affair Winds up With a Good-Natured Laugh by the Two.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—One of the most dramatic scenes ever witnessed in the Senate was enacted today when Senator Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma insisted in tragic tones, and with face showing much emotion, that the five civilized tribes of Indians were dead, and that he, as a member of the tribe of Cherokee Indians, was not under the control of the Secretary of the Interior.

The event was rendered all the more interesting by the fact that Mr. Owen was sharply engaged in controversy by Charles Curtis of Kansas, himself a Kaw Indian. It was the first time that the two men with Indian blood in their veins had ever locked horns as Senators in the Senate chamber.

The controversy arose during the consideration of the Indian bill, and was precipitated by a motion on the part of Mr. Owen to have the bill so amended as to recognize the citizenship of the five civilized tribes of Indians by putting the word "late" before this designation, and calling them the "late five civilized tribes."

CURTIS CHIPS IN.

Mr. Curtis sought to interrupt Mr. Owen before the Oklahoma Senator had concluded his first sentence.

"But," interposed the Kansas Senator, "your property is under the control of the Secretary of the Interior, and you know it."

"I do not," retorted Mr. Owen.

Mr. Curtis insisted upon his view of the status of the Oklahoma Senator. He did not contend that the property of the Senator from Oklahoma, aside from that owned as a member of the Cherokee tribe of Indians, was under control of the Secretary, but his tribe's property was.

"I think you ought not to be under the control of the Secretary, but you are," he said.

"I agree," quickly replied Mr. Owen, "with the Senator from Kansas, that I ought not to be; I disagree with him that I am."

GALLERY TAKES NOTICE.

The dramatic tone of the Oklahoma Senator rather startled the chairman, and people in the galleries leaned forward to see the participants in the wordy battle.

Senator Owen left his place in the rear of the chamber and advanced to the center aisle, where he was within sight of every one.

The two Senators of Indian blood now were facing each other, twenty feet apart. Both appeared to have lost sight of Parliamentary rules, and were carrying on a personal colloquy.

Mr. Owen proceeded to say that the Supreme Court of the United States had declared the Indians holding allotted lands are citizens of the United States.

OWEN'S DRAMATIC PERORATION.

Rising to his full height, his olive face showing that his pride had been pricked by the suggestion that he was under the control of the Secretary of the Interior, and with tone most tragic, Senator Owen continued:

"The Cherokee Nation can demand no allegiance from me. I owe them no allegiance. The only allegiance I owe is to my government, the United States, and to the State of Oklahoma. I say the Supreme Court has passed upon this matter, and I shall insist that it is right that the word 'late' shall be included in that amendment."

Mr. Curtis then took the floor, and began by saying he had merely desired to interrupt the Oklahoma Senator so that he might be able to make a correct statement to the Senate.

"When you made that statement about Delawares being absorbed by the Cherokee tribe, of which you are a member, you should have told how they were swallowed up by the Cherokees," he exclaimed, pointing his index finger at his antagonist.

Mr. Owen insisted that a man belonging to an Indian tribe is a subordinate, or ward, and an alien, which, he said, was not compatible with American citizenship.

"Am I an alien?" he exclaimed.

Senator Carter came to the rescue, and attempted to show that both Senators were right. He said he did not wonder that the Oklahoma Senator resented the idea that he was under the control of the Secretary of the Interior. His remarks brought the Senate into a better humor, and thereafter displaced the strained state of mind that had prevailed.

GORE OILS TROUBLED WATERS.

Senator Gore, the blind Senator, added to the relaxed tension, by making a suggestion for a way out of the difficulty.

"It would be well," he said, "for the Senate to recognize the belligerent rights of these two Indians."

Both of the objects of this sally joined in the laughter that filled the chamber.

At 2 o'clock p.m. the discussion was brought to a conclusion by the unfinished business, the Aldrich bill, and Senator McCreary of Kentucky, began to speak on that measure.

TWO HAVE FRIENDLY CHAT.

Senator Owen went over to the Republican side and approached Senator Curtis in a friendly manner, and took a seat by his side. The two laughed good naturedly, and appeared to be continuing the discussing so heatedly begun on the floor.

At the conclusion of Mr. McCreary's speech, Mr. Owen made a comprehensive argument with many references to court decisions to uphold the position he had taken. His contention was that his tribal property was at his disposal, and he could give it away or do with it as he pleased.

After further debate, in which Messrs. Owen, Curtis, Clapp, McCumber and Lodge participated, Mr. Owen's proposition to designate the Indians as the "late five civilized tribes," was voted down.

Mr. Owen's vote was the only one in its support.

CUPID'S GOLDEN SHAFT.

HEIRESS TO WED PET OF SOCIETY.

THE DAUGHTER OF MRS. HETTY GREEN TO BE A BRIDE.

Announcement of Her Engagement to Matthew Astor Wilks, Great Grandson of Original John Jacob Astor, for Years Cotillion Leader, Made in New York.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Announcement was made today of the engagement of Miss Sylvia Green, daughter of Mrs. Hetty Green and heiress to a large portion of that financier's millions, and Matthew Astor Wilks, member of the Union and Knickerbocker clubs.

Mr. Wilks is a great grandson of the original John Jacob Astor. For years he has been a conspicuous figure in cotillions and while he is not in his first youth, he has been regarded with favor for some time by the other sex. He is a son of Rev. Mark Wilks, who was chaplain of the British Embassy in Paris, where Matthew passed much of his youth.

When Rev. Mark Wilks came to New York he brought credentials that made a friend of John Jacob Astor. The financier induced him to forsake his ministry and go into the fur business and he won the hand of Astor's granddaughter, Eliza Langdon.

PROSPERITY RETURNS.

Chicago Sales Managers Say Number of Buyers Is Larger Than for Corresponding Time Last Year.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Arrival of throngs of retail buyers in Chicago has made optimism the ruling note in the wholesale district.

The influx of merchants from cities and small towns throughout the West, which started in earnest this week, promises to exceed that of last year, when thousands of buyers were brought by excursions. Sales managers in various lines of jobbing said today that the number of buyers is larger now than for the corresponding time in 1907.

Opinion was feely expressed today that the business of the country is rapidly turning to its normal level, and this view seemingly is shared by the retail merchants, who are making preparations for trade of at least ordinary volume during the coming months.

FIRST AUTHENTIC PICTURE OF ASSASSINATION TO REACH COAST.

The Tragic First of February in Lisbon, Portugal.

Photograph of special drawing received yesterday by the Times from the Sphere of London, England. This drawing was made by the Sphere's special artist in Lisbon, and as soon as it reached London a photograph was made of it and forwarded by special delivery to The Los Angeles Times. The authorities in Lisbon yesterday decided that Luiz was King of Portugal for the fractional part of a second that it took the bullet after piercing King Carlos's heart to reach a vital spot in the Crown Prince's body.

PORTUGAL.

DEAD PRINCE IS HONORED.

LUIZ TO BE RECOGNIZED AS HAVING BEEN KING.

Investigation of Portugal Assassinations Shows That Bullet Which Cut Short the Life of King Carlos Passed Through His Heart and Then Entered Body of His Son.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LISBON, Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Through the efforts of King Manuel II, and his mother, Queen Amelie, the name of Crown Prince Luiz will be inscribed on his country's list of rulers.

Investigation of the recent assassination shows that Luiz, the Crown Prince, who was killed, was actually the King of Portugal for the shortest reign in the history of the world. The principal assassin ran behind the carriage and pointed his revolver straight at King Carlos's back. When he was right down between the back wheels of the carriage hardly more than two feet from the King, he fired point-blank.

The King was then standing up, facing the other assassins, who surrounded the carriage, and the Crown Prince, in the forward seat, was also standing the bullet from the assassin's revolver that went through the King's heart from behind, passed clear through his body and struck down the Crown Prince.

For an instant of time, therefore, while the bullet was passing between the heart of the King and that of the son, Luiz was King of Portugal. There have been many kings for a few hours and kings for a day, but never before a king for the fraction of a second.

MEMORIAL SERVICES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BOSTON, Feb. 27.—Portuguese from many places in New England united today in services in memory of the late King Carlos and Crown Prince Luis of Portugal.

The Portuguese Church of St. John the Baptist was thronged with mourners. The throne was occupied by Archbishop O'Connell.

Gov. Guild and his staff, Mayor Hibbard, with representatives of the government and several Federal officials, were present. Viscount Devalle de Costa, the Portuguese Consul in Boston, was chief mourner.

The other consulates were represented at the service. The service took the form of a solemn requiem mass.

AFTER A NEW TRUST.

Federal Authorities Believe an "Affinity Trust" Exists, and Seek Evidence Against It.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Evidence of an "affinity trust," controlling every matrimonial society and organization in the United States and reaping financial harvests like other trusts, is being sought in Chicago by Gen. Stuart of the Postoffice Department, and wholesale arrests of the "heart brokers" are expected.

Through the trial and conviction of Miss Marion Gray and the recent arrest of Mrs. Jennie Scott, both of whom are alleged to have conducted branches of the "trust," the inspectors of the Postoffice Department and the United States District Attorney's office commenced a sweeping investigation, and both men declare that the guilty men will be under arrest within a few days.

DISCLAIMS A PANIC.

Tokio Newspapers Assert That Nothing of the Kind Exists in the Mikado's Dominions.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

TOKIO, Feb. 28.—Special cablegrams from New York and London, published in the Tokio newspapers, have created astonishment in financial circles, because it is evident that certain influences have determined to misrepresent and exaggerate existing conditions in Japan. These special cablegrams say that the decline of Japanese securities is due to a financial panic.

The use of the word "panic," as representing the present situation, is entirely unwarranted. No "panic" exists in any direction.

Owing to the continued depression of the silk market, due largely to the American situation, and the unsatisfactory cotton trade with China, a number of firms in Osaka and Kobe have failed during the last three weeks. The total liabilities approximate 4,000,000 yen.

Two or three minor banks in the provinces have closed their doors. The Stock Exchange has been extremely dull for the past two months in Tokio. Railway stocks have fallen heavily because confidence has been shaken concerning plans for nationalization which may fail. It is believed that the present depression will continue until after the general election.

A leading broker said to the Associated Press today: "Government securities were weak early in the week. Since then they have become firmer. Owing to rumors of failures and money stringency, prices in all shares have been downward, but the market shows a firmer tendency."

A dispatch from Kobe says it is believed there that the depression has reached its limit and that conditions are improving.

EDISON UNDERGOES A SECOND OPERATION; LIFE IN BALANCE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Thomas A. Edison, the distinguished inventor, is in a very grave condition, at the Manhattan Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital here. While the attending physicians hold out hope of his recovery, it is realized by his family and friends that his life hangs in the balance.

Mr. Edison submitted on Monday to an operation for abscess of the left ear. Since then an infection of an old mastoid wound has set in and necessitated a second operation. The physicians found that the infection had penetrated the inner wall of the mastoid cells and they at once decided upon heroic methods. The operation was performed at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Mr. Edison cheerfully assented, stating that he had every confidence that he was in able hands.

A bulletin issued late tonight states that while Mr. Edison's condition is grave, it is probable that he will recover.

DIVORCE.

CLIMAX COMES IN THAW CASE.

ALLOWANCE AND DIVORCE ARE ARRANGED.

Beautiful Young Wife to Live in Europe on $15,000 Per Year and Will not Contest Proceedings Which Will Be Instituted for Annulment of Marriage.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Thaw romance is smashed. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw today dropped all pretense of self-sacrificing devotion to Thaw in his asylum and moved out of the house at No. 446 Park avenue, where she had lived since the first trial.

This means that she will go to Europe at once, it is stated positively, with an allowance of $15,000 a year, never to return, and never to see Thaw again. For two weeks she has not gone to Matteawan to see him, and it is said all relations between them are broken off.

The wife's abandonment of the home where she has lived more than a year was given additional significance when it became known that her lease still had seven months to run. Her decision was apparently arrived at hastily, for the packing was done in a few days, and today she left. Her furniture will be put in storage, and her departure for Europe, it is said, will take place at once.

Young Mrs. Thaw admitted that her plans for the future were very "uncertain."

"I had hoped the newspapers would forget me," said she.

One of the guards at Matteawan stated that Thaw quarreled violently with his wife on the occasion of her last visit. This was two weeks ago, and she has made no attempt to visit her husband since.

It is reported that shortly after Mrs. Evelyn Thaw arrives in Europe proceedings will be begun for the annulment of Thaw's marriage, the young wife making no contest in return for the annuity provided her.

PROPOSES A NEW CANAL.

Danish Ship Owner Advocates Cutting One Through Limfjorden—Plan Contemplates Big Harbor.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

COPENHAGEN, Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A well-known Danish ship owner proposes to meet the competition of the Kaiser Wilhelm Canal by putting a channel through Limfjorden, a wide and shallow water between Cattegat and the North Sea, now closed to navigation by sand. If this route could be utilized it would shorten the voyage from the North Sea to the Scandinavian, Baltic and Bothian and Finnish ports by 170 miles and would avoid the dangerous passage around Skagen, at the extreme north point of Jutland.

The plan contemplates the building of a large harbor at the western outlet of the fjord, which would be of the greatest importance to the fishing industry on the west coast. The Limfjord Canal, if built, will afford strong competition with the Kaiser Wilhelm Canal, both commercially and strategetically, as the former will be much easier to navigate. The cost is estimated at about $5,000,000. It is expected the government will give a concession for the enterprise.

TAKES CHAIR AT YALE.

NEW HAVEN (Ct.) Feb. 27.—Prof. Max Farrand, now head of the department of history in Stanford University, has been called to a professorship of history in Yale College. He will take up his work at Yale next fall.

THREATENING.

JUDGE IS AGITATED.

Court Is Interrupted by Letter.

Mysterious Threat Against Grosscup and Directors on Trial.

Rough-looking Man Gives the Startling Note to the Sheriff.

Lawyers in the Manslaughter Case Shocked by Jurist's Nervousness.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHARLESTON (Ill.) Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A letter believed to contain threats of death against United States District Judge Peter S. Grosscup and his fellow-directors of Chicago, on trial here for manslaughter as a result of the Interurban wreck of August 30, last, brought the hearing to a temporary stop this afternoon. It was thought that the missive would bring a climax in the case, but it was suppressed by Judge Thompson, who ordered the attorneys to proceed with their arguments.

The mysterious letter was brought into the Sheriff's office this morning by a rough-looking, unkempt man, and placed in the hands of Deputy W. O. Glassco. Across the envelope, in a scratching scrawl, almost illegible, were written the words: "To the Sheriff of Coles County."

The epistle was placed in a pigeonhole and forgotten until this afternoon, when Sheriff Stover took it from his desk and carried it to the court. Judge Thompson read the letter while Attorney Graham of Springfield was in the midst of his argument.

JUDGE IS AGITATED.

A frown gathered on the judge's brow, his cheeks flushed, his hands trembled, betraying to attorneys and spectators that some unusual message was written on the crumpled page. The court was asked if the letter had any bearing on the case.

"Yes," said Judge Thompson, "and I am ready to settle the whole thing right now. My mind is made up on the question at issue."

The whole courtroom was astounded. Finally Graham resumed his argument. Neither Judge Thompson or Sheriff Stover will disclose the exact nature of the letter, and the public is in the dark as to its full contents.

Attorney McNutt, who is alone in the prosecution, continued his arguments, which began at noon yesterday, until noon today. He scored Judge Grosscup and his fellow-directors unmercifully, and quoted from numerous law books the duties and responsibilities of directors of corporations, and said they owed something more to the public than to sit in their office and clip coupons.

DIRECTORS' LIABILITIES.

He said that as directors of the traction line they owed protection of life to the people who paid them fares, and that by the employing of incompetent managers and employés they became personally liable for the damage wrought through such neglect.

Addressing himself to Attorney Levy Mayer, leading counsel for the defendants, Mr. McNutt said:

"Mr. Mayer contends that these directors are not amenable to the law in their capacity of directors, but to themselves only. I would have the learned attorney from Chicago to understand that we in Coles county value human life above property, and there is a law which makes these men responsible for their actions or failure to act as required by law, and that law is plain enough and strong enough to reach to unknown heights, even as high as the Federal bench."

It is believed that the arguments will not be closed before tomorrow noon, as Attorneys E. C. Craig and Levy Mayer are yet to speak in answer to the prosecuting attorney."

FINANCIAL DEPARTURE.

First National Bank of New York Forms Concern to Deal in Securities and Real Estate.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—The announcement that the First National Bank is forming a $10,000,000 corporation to be known as the First Security Company, for the purpose of dealing in real estate, caused much discussion among bankers yesterday.

The stock and bond item of the First National Bank has always been much larger than that of any other institution of the kind in New York City. On February 14 the First National Bank held $60,000,000 of securities in this account.

It was said positively by bankers that no other institution in this city is likely to follow the example of the First National in forming a separate company for dealing in securities. It was pointed out that the national banking laws prohibit national banks from lending money on real estate or acquiring and holding real estate other than that occupied by bank offices.

At the National City Bank and the Chase National Bank it was stated that neither institution had any idea of turning over its large holdings of securities to any company to be formed for a similar purpose.

Regret Expressed That Stay Cannot Be Prolonged.

Physicians from Lima Visit Rear-Admiral Evans.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LIMA, Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The party of Americans returned from Mount Meiggs at noon today and expressed themselves as delighted with the trip. They were much impressed by the evidence of the ancient civilization of Peru, as shown by the Temple of the Sun, built by the Incas, the former rulers of the country.

Gen. Elespuru, Minister of War and Marine, gave a most successful garden party this afternoon. There were 1200 guests present, including 300 officers from the fleet. There was dancing, which continued until 7 o'clock this evening.

Another bull fight was given this afternoon, at which there were 4000 spectators, among whom were 1500 men from the various battleships.

Doctors from Lima today visited Rear-Admiral Evans, who is suffering from a recurrence of his attacks of rheumatism. Their prognosis is favorable.

Tonight a grand banquet in honor of President Pardo was given on board the flagship Connecticut. The guests included many of the high Peruvian officials. After dark the bay of Callao presented a lovely aspect. All the warships in the harbor were decorated with vari-colored electric lights, and the other ships displayed illuminations. The city of Callao was also brilliantly illuminated in honor of the occasion.

The fleet is taking aboard stores of provisions here preparatory to its departure Saturday. Much regret is expressed among all classes of Peruvians that its stay cannot be lengthened.

TERM EXPIRES.

ORDERED HOME.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Capt. Aaron Ward, commanding the battleship Pennsylvania, with the Pacific squadron, has been ordered home to await orders, and Capt. Wilmer, commanding the League Island navy yard, has been ordered to command the Pennsylvania.

The change was made because of the expiration of the period of sea duty required of Capt. Ward.

ASSASSINATION.

REDS THREATEN CHICAGO PRIESTS.

SEVERAL PRELATES ASK PROTECTION OF POLICE.

Pastor of Italian Catholic Church Receives Warning by Letter That He Had Been Marked for Assassination—Editors of Italian Papers to Be Prosecuted.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Fear of the Chicago Catholic clergy that the lives of several priests are in danger from the anti-clerical propagandists, was given expression today, when Rev. Pasquale Renzullo, pastor of St. Roch's Italian Catholic Church, in Chicago Heights, appeared at Assistant Chief Schuettler's office to enlist the services of the police toward their protection.

Father Renzullo called at the assistant chief's office, after a consultation with Chancellor Dunne of the Chicago archdiocese. Copies of letters and Italian newspapers purporting to bear threats against members of the Chicago clergy, were presented by Father Renzullo for the consideration of the police.

These papers, it was said, cited specific instances in which threats have been made against certain members of the clergy, of whom Father Renzullo claims he is the most likely victim. Granted license to carry a revolver by the Mayor of Chicago Heights, Father Renzullo is taking every precaution to protect himself against possible attack.

United States District Attorney Sims and Col. Stuart, chief of postoffice inspectors, are looking toward the prosecution of editors of Italian newspapers in which denunciatory items against certain clergy of the city are made. Charges of criminal libel may also be made.

Father Renzullo was for a time Chancellor Dunne's assistant at the Guardian Angel (Italian) Church on Forquer street.

The first information of the planned Chicago assassination was given Father Renzullo in a letter from an Italian in Chicago Heights. The name of this man is held by Father Dunne, who claims that should the informant be known he would be found dead with a dozen knives in him before twenty-four hours had passed.

The information secured from the writer of a letter as to how the priest was to be killed, was given to Lee H. Hook, Mayor of Chicago Heights, and the police were notified. The men picked for the assassination in some manner got wind of the prospective arrest and disappeared.

Following the interview, which was held behind locked doors Assistant Chief Schuettler declined to give any information concerning the plans of the police toward affording the protection desired by the priests.

"I have not investigated these rumors and charges against the anti-clericals, anarchists, or whoever is back of these threats against the lives of the priests," said Chief Schuettler. "Every instance reported to me where threats have been made or any one endangered will be run down and every available officer will be detailed upon the case. The anarchistic movement seems to be more pronounced just at this time than it ever has been since the Haymarket riots. All this talk and agitation on the part of the anti-clericals may result in a decided outbreak among the anarchists unless they are checked in time. We are going to take particular pains to prevent any such outbreak."

If Emma Goldman, called by the police, "The Queen of the Reds," should appear in Chicago next week, as is reported that she will, she may be made the subject of deportation by the government.

Where the Big Fleet Will Engage in Target Practice.

Admiral Evans and his battleships will sail from Callao, Peru, tomorrow and the next stop will be at Magdalena Bay, where the gunners will be put through a strenuous month at the targets. It is believed many world's records will be smashed during the practice.

SOUTH BEND (Ind.) Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Married at Auburn, Ind., on Christmas Day, separated on February 11, and divorce proceedings started on February 22, is the record that has been made by Amos Luttman of Carunna, Ind., and all because Mrs. Luttman saw fit to call the two children of her husband by a former wife, "little devils." This allegation is the leading paragraph in the complaint filed in court today.

NO STAMPS ON SUNDAY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NORWAY (Mich.) Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Much to the surprise, as well as the inconvenience of the public, Postmaster Bolitho of this city positively refuses to sell postage stamps during the hour the office is opened on Sunday for the delivery of mail. The reason for the adoption of this blue law principle is, it is alleged, because the postmaster is too religious.

STRIKE FOR CIGARETTES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DES MOINES (Iowa) Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Because they were refused the privilege of smoking cigarettes in their own dining room, the bellboys at the Savoy Hotel struck and walked out. They maintained that, inasmuch as guests were permitted to smoke in the public dining room, they should have a similar liberty in the help's dining room.

WIFE WHIPS WOMAN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ROCK FALLS (Ill.) Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. William Bradshaw gave a woman accused of trifling with her husband's affections, a sound whipping on the street when they met today. Mrs. Bradshaw struck her alleged rival several times with a lash which she had concealed in her clothing, inflicting two great purple welts on her face and cutting her lips. The name of the woman whipped could not be secured, as she is a comparative stranger here.

TAKEN TO PENITENTIARY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MT. VERNON (Ill.) Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] George Adams, formerly a policeman of Benton, was taken to the Southern Illinois penitentiary today by the Sheriff and a delegation of leading citizens who objected to his indeterminate prison sentence for killing John Malone, who had threatened to kill him and who was attacking him when killed.

LONG TIME AT HOME.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SOUTH BEND (Ind.) Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] John W. Elder of Warsaw, claims the world's record as a home stayer. He has not been away from his home city for fifty-two years and has slept in Warsaw for 18,985 consecutive nights. He has been away from Warsaw on several occasions since his birth, but he always was able to return in time to spend the night in the town of his birth.

PARADE IN NIGHTIES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LAFAYETTE (Ind.) Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] More than 10,000 students from Purdue College marched into Lafayette early today and practically took possession of the city. They were in their own way celebrating Purdue's victory over Indiana at basketball and they marched into Lafayette dressed in night gowns. The police tried to suppress the disturbance, but were powerless. Many clashes resulted and a number of the boys were injured.

ALIO ARRAIGNED.

First Step Taken in the Trial of the Anarchist Who Slew Father Leo.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

DENVER, Feb. 27.—The first step in the legal proceedings which it is believed will speedily send Guiseppe Alio to the gallows for the murder of Father Leo was taken today in the West Side Court, when Alio was formally arraigned on the charge of murder.

Through an interpreter, Alio was asked if he expected to secure a lawyer to defend him, and replied that he expected the Italian Consul would attend to that. He was told that this was improbable, and was asked if he did not want the court to appoint counsel.

"If that is the law, yes," he replied.

Robert H. Widdicombe was then appointed as counsel for the defense, and Peter Bossie as interpreter for the trial.

Alio will plead to the charge of murder on Saturday, and at that time a date will be set for his trial. He was brought back from Colorado Springs early this morning, whither he had been taken to prevent lynching. Accompanied by four detectives from Denver, and closely handcuffed, Alio rode the entire trip with head averted and in sullen silence. Upon his arrival he was hustled into a waiting cab, and swiftly driven to the County Jail. There were but few persons at the station to witness his arrival, and no demonstration of any kind occurred.

According to Alio's statement, made to an interpreter, he will plead guilty when arraigned, and offer no defense for his crime. In this case it is expected his trial will come to a speedy end, and sentence be pronounced.

GETTING ANGRY.

ABDUL HAMID IS WRATHFUL.

SULTAN RESENTS SIR EDWARD GREY'S REMARK.

Hint Is Freely Thrown Out That Great Britain Seems Bent on War in Levant—Several Conferences Have Been Held Over the Foreign Secretary's Utterances.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Sultan and his advisers are in an ugly frame of mind over the menacing words used by Sir Edward Grey, the British Foreign Secretary, in the House of Commons the other night in regard to Macedonia.

Several conferences have taken place on the subject, and more are to follow. The hint is freely thrown out that Britain seems bent on getting into a war in the Levant, and that unless the other powers stand rigidly aside from these "machinations," there will be trouble.

While this is rather in the nature of a bluff, smart observers have little doubt that the Turks will fight in preference to scuttling from Europe, even if threatened by the Christian nations in solid phalanx.

The agitation lately begun in certain English quarters for an Anglo-Turkish entente hits the Sultan hard. The Turks admit that England is the next greatest Mohammedan power, but they say London is more or less the world's center of anti-Mohammedan policy, and that if they have to fight another war with the Christians it will be because of the restless meddling of the English in the affairs of the Turkish empire.

Austria's railway scheme and Secretary Grey's speech have caused an almost unprecedented rattling of dry bones in Southeastern Europe.

FOR REMOVAL.

JEROME IN HOT WATER.

Twenty-two Specific Charges Against Him.

Governor Asked to Remove District Attorney.

Failure to Prosecute Rich Is One Allegation.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Twenty-two specific charges are made in a petition praying for the removal of William T. Jerome, District Attorney of the county of New York, which was sent to Gov. Hughes at Albany today by a committee of stockholders of the Metropolitan State Railway Company, through their chairman, William F. King.

The petition alleged that Jerome failed to properly prosecute charges of alleged "jury fixing," and the giving of false testimony in street railway cases, that the prosecution of violations of the criminal law by the life insurance companies of New York, as disclosed by the Armstrong Committee, has been delayed; that an alleged criminal conspiracy to divert the property of the Metropolitan Street Railway Company of New York into the hands of a few men, was allowed by Mr. Jerome to go on and hundreds of stockholders were robbed of their money; and that no attempt was made to punish men alleged to have committed other fraud in connection with New York City traction deals.

Mr. Jerome's statements as to judges are alleged to have been not only improper but scandalous in their nature and to have tended to destroy the confidence of people in the integrity of their courts.

The committee also charges that the District Attorney misconducted himself in failing to indict and seek to convict some one of the officials of the New York Central Railroad Company in connection with the collision in that company's tunnel in 1902, when 17 persons were killed.

CAMPAIGN FUND.

Various other cases of alleged failure on the part of the District Attorney to perform his duty are cited in the complaint. The petition also charges that contributions to the campaign fund to elect Mr. Jerome were received by one of Mr. Jerome's assistants from men connected with large corporations seeking favors from the District Attorney, and that the sum, the amount of which is unknown, was upwards of $50,000.

Among those contributors, it is alleged, was the attorney for James H. Hyde, who contributed $5000.

It is also alleged that the assistant who received these funds and who has since resigned and entered law practice, has undue influence with the District Attorney.

"I'm not worried," was Dist.-Atty. Jerome's comment when told of these charges and asked for a statement today.

"This is another one, I suppose. They file them up there every week or so against me. The Governor has never asked me to explain. If he does, then we will take cognizance of them."

JEROME CRITICISED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ALBANY (N. Y.) Feb. 27.—Gov. Hughes said tonight that the charges against Dist.-Atty. Jerome would take the usual course. A copy of them will be sent to Mr. Jerome so that he may send an answer to them to the Governor, after which the Governor will decide as to his course.

William F. King, former president of the Merchants' Association, who filed the charges, gave out a statement in which he severely criticised Dist.-Atty. Jerome.

"I maintain," he said, "that much of the blame for the present deplorable condition of affairs is due to the failure of Mr. Jerome as District Attorney to prosecute the rich and influential grafters who have robbed our people and disgraced the name of our city, commencing with the ice trust, the infamous clique who filched the money of policy holders from the great insurance companies, and last in the list, but first in open, shameless audacity and barefaced stealing, the men who looted and wrecked the Metropolitan Traction Company.

"The public exposure of these rich criminals and the failure to prosecute them and others of the same ilk who owned and controlled many great banks and trust companies, is the primary cause of the want of confidence that caused people to rush to banks to withdraw their deposits and place them in safe-deposit boxes, and although the so-called panic is practically over as far as the banks are concerned, the want of confidence is here to stay and will stay until the people see some of these wealthy criminals punished—not fined, but put in jail, just the same as would happen to criminals of less importance. The failure to enforce our laws is breeding socialism and anarchy, and only the greatest vigilance will prevent us from a repetition of rioting, only on a greater scale, such as has recently disgraced a neighboring city."

MALTSTERS ALARMED.

They Are Now Endeavoring to Locate Friends and Enemies as Result of Cold Water Wave.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—Maltsters of Chicago frankly admit that the prohibition wave already has caused them great losses, and they have warned board of trade interests that the latter no longer can expect maltsters' patronage if they aid the maltsters' foes. One of the letters sent out says in part:

"As a matter of self-preservation we are compelled to find out who are our friends and who are our enemies. No firm that directly or indirectly assists the prohibition party can consistently do business with us, and we therefore take the liberty to ask you how you stand on the question."

LIBEL TRIAL SENSATIONAL.

Case Brought to Exploit the Water Companies.

Complaining Witness Talks of Million Bribe.

Prosecutors Fail to Have the Charge Dismissed.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27. — The trial of R. A. Crothers and Fremont Older, proprietor and managing editor, respectively, of the San Francisco Bulletin, on the charge of criminally libelling William S. Tevis, one of the wealthiest men in the State, took a somewhat sensational turn today. When court convened this morning, Asst. Dist.-Atty. William Hoff Cook arose and addressed the court, asking that the ten jurors already secured and the panel of twenty-five talesmen be sent out of the courtroom in order that he might make a statement to the court.

When the jurors and talesmen had left the court, Cook stated he had reason to believe that the case was instituted for the sole purpose of exploiting the respective merits of the Reich-Hetchy and Bay Cities Water system, and that he wished to institute an inquiry as to whether or not there was any collusion between E. P. E. Troy, the attorney who swore to the complaint, and the defendants, as Troy had refused to divulge to him at whose instigation he had brought the complaint.

GIVES REASON.

Prosecutor Cook then called Troy to the witness stand, and elicited from him that he had sworn to the complaint at the request of Daniel Murphy, a member of the Water Supply Committee of the Board of Supervisors, for the purpose of exploiting the water question and bringing it before the people.

When Troy took the stand he immediately began speaking.

"As long as the District Attorney has stated some things that are not true, and suppressed others——" rising to his feet, he shouted, "I want to make a statement before the District Attorney questions me."

"Sit down, Mr. Troy," ordered Judge Dooling.

"Never mind your statement now, Mr. Troy," said Cook. "I'll ask the questions and you can then make your statements and explanations."

"I have known you for a long time, and I never had any confidence in you," hotly declared Troy to Cook. "That's why I wouldn't answer your questions yesterday in your office. You didn't ask me about the evidence. You only wanted to know who instigated this."

"I have been an attorney for twenty-six years," said Cook, "and I don't want to be the attorney in a case that I cannot present properly, which I cannot do in this case because of the absence of Mr. Tevis, whom we have been unable to get here; neither do I want to be the attorney in a case that is a farce, if it is a farce.

COOK RETALIATES.

Turning to Troy, the Assistant District Attorney said: "I have no confidence in you, that's why I have placed you on the stand to interrogate you. If there is any collusion the District Attorney wants to know it. I think he is entitled to know it."

"Did you swear to the complaint?" asked Cook of the witness.

"Yes."

"Did you bring this case at the instigation of Mr. Tevis?"

"No," replied Troy.

"At whose request did you swear to this complaint?"

"I don't wish to state that as I told you in your office."

"Why not."

"Because as I told you, I don't want to bring in any other persons. I have not any confidence in you," retorted Troy.

"I ask that the witness be directed to answer," said Cook turning to Judge Dooling.

Being ordered by the court to answer the question, Troy said:

"A member of the Water Committee of the Board of Supervisors, Mr. Daniel Murphy. He suggested to me that it would be a good way to bring before the people the water question, the most vital question that confronts this city. I knew that if his charge was brought, the defendants would have to prove the charges that they have made against Mr. Tevis of the Bay Cities Water Company, that Ruef was to receive a million dollars for putting the deal through by which the city was to acquire for ten million dollars, the plant and sources of supply of that company and that all the evidences would be brought out before the people."

TIRADE AGAINST TEVIS.

"Then you did tell me that the purpose of swearing out the complaint was to exploit the water question?" asked Cook.

"Don't you put any words in my mouth," shouted Troy. "I swore to it to punish the guilty; second, to bring out the evidence in this case."

Troy then launched a tirade against the late Lloyd Tevis, father of William S. Tevis, and from whom the latter inherited about $20,000,000.

It developed from Troy's testimony that Supervisor Murphy had prepared the complaint to which he asked Troy to swear, that Dist.-Atty. Langdon, nor any other connected with his office, were consulted, and that the bond and warrant clerk demanded to "know why Tevis did not swear to it himself" and was at first reluctant to issue the complaint.

"Was not you main object to bring out the whole water question?" asked Cook.

"Yes, that was my main object," answered Troy.

ASKS DISMISSAL.

In answer to questions put to him by counsel for defense, Troy stated that he had not consulted Crothers, Older, or any of his attorneys before swearing to the complaint; that there was no collusion with the defense, but that he did casually refer to the case in a conversation with Hiram Johnson, one of the attorneys for the defense, some weeks after the complaint had been filed, and in this conversation had told Johnson what his purpose was in filing the complaint.

Asst. Dist.-Atty. Cook then arose and said:

"This case was not submitted to the District Attorney's office, nor was there any collusion with the defense, but whether Mr. Tevis was libelled or not, I do not know nor am I in a position to know. This case was instituted by Troy for the purpose of exploiting the relative merits of two water companies. We are not investigating the water question here. I don't feel, as an official, that I can present this case as I should present it, therefore I move that the case be dismissed. I make this motion at the request of Mr. Langdon and I don't want to be understood that I impute any improper motives to the defense."

Mathew Sullivan of counsel for defense then arose, strongly opposing the motion to dismiss, and demanded that the defendants be given a full hearing.

Judge Dooling said that it was rather late for the District Attorney to move to dismiss. He believed that the defendants wanted a full hearing and were entitled to it. He then ordered the case to proceed.

Whaling Vessels Being Fitted up at San Francisco for Cruise in Arctic Waters.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27.—The steamer City of Puebla came off Hunter's Point dry dock today, where repairs were made to her propeller. She will get away on her regular schedule tomorrow. One blade of the propeller of the steamer City of Topeka was broken, and two others damaged on her last trip to this port. She was repaired at the Sixteenth street dry dock and left for Eureka today.

In preparation for a new campaign against the whales up north, the steam whaler Bow Head will go into the Sixteenth-street dock to be cleaned, painted and overhauled. The Bow Head will fi out as soon as she comes from the dock and be prepared to leave on her north mission at the beginning of March, about the same time as the Belvidere, Thrasher, Jeannette and William Baylies.

The fire in the coal heap at the Western Fuel Company yards, near Beale street, was subdued yesterday after a fight extending over several weeks. Besides destroying a large amount of coal, the fire burned the timbers at the bunkers, and a staff of men had to be engaged to make repairs. It is understood the damage was covered by insurance.

The schooner Stanley was brought from Oakland today to Mission Bay for fumigation. As soon as the Stanley is fumigated she will fit out for another cod fishing cruise up north. Several others of the cod fishing fleet will start preparations for the season's work in a few days' time.

The steamer Tampico will go to the Oakland long wharf tomorrow to take on cargo for Seattle. After loading at Oakland she will take on 400 tons of explosives for shipment to the Treadwell mines in Alaska.

Mrs. Bidwell makes her offer through State Forester Lull, who, for several months, has been carrying on negotiations with the former, and making every effort to secure the rancho.

FINDS A MASTODON.

Huge Mammal Is Imbedded in Frozen Ground, and Found to Be Forty Feet Long.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA, Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Nome dispatches say a huge mastodon has been discovered on Kobuk River. It was recently found imbedded in frozen ground, but was partially visible on the surface. It is to be unearthed and will form an interesting feature of the Alaskan-Yukon-Pacific Fair. Surface measurements along the back to the end of its ivory tusks is forty feet.

W. H. Startsman of Catalla, last year reported finding another of these extinct mammals in a good state of preservation incased in almost clear ice, near the head of the Kobuk River, where it must have remained frozen for thousands of years. It has been turned over to the Department of the Interior, which is to remove it next summer.

Mrs. Charles Lux Imprisoned at San Jose at the Request of a Relative.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN JOSE, Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Charles Lux, wife of the son of the famous cattle king, has been confined in the woman's ward in the City Prison since last Tuesday. The fact became known last night, when a newspaper man discovered Charles Lux on the outside of the City Prison walls clinging to the bars of a cell and conversing with his wife within.

There is no charge against Mrs. Lux, but she, with her husband, has been drinking heavily for the past two years and she has been locked up at the request of ex-Dist.-Atty. Campbell, a near relative.

AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT.

Federal District Judge Van Fleet Decides in Favor of Alien in Naturalization Case.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 27.—Federal District Judge Van Fleet rendered an opinion today in the matter of the application of Thor Harold Poulson for citizenship papers in favor of the applicant, against the contention of the government.

The applicant made his declaration of intention when 19 years old, under the former naturalization law, which did not specify that an alien might make a declaration of intention before he was 21 years old. The government officials claimed this was a fatal defect, that his application for citizenship papers was void, as being without the foundation of a declaration of intention.

It was urged that an alien must be at least 21 years old before he may declare his intention to become a citizen of the United States. Although this has been amended under the new naturalization law, many declarations of intention were made by aliens who were minors, and to these the decision of Judge Van Fleet rendered today applies.

Under his ruling, those who made declarations of intention when under age are at liberty to apply for full papers of citizenship.

CHAMPION HARD LUCK TALE.

Loses All in Big Fire, Breaks Both Legs in Twenty-seven Places; Has Flag for Evans.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA, Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] L. L. Martin, a well-to-do grocer in San Francisco, was put out of business by earthquake and fire. He came north seeking work, finally becoming a street car conductor here.

Four months ago, in a fog collision on Pacific avenue he had one leg broken in twenty-two places and the other in five. The surgeons determined to save his limbs rather than amputate. They were encased in plaster casts.

For four months Martin has lain on a cot in the hospital awaiting the knitting of his shattered bones. Years ago he learned knitting and he has now begun to knit a large American flag, which is nearly complete. He desires to present the flag to Admiral Evans on the arrival of the battleship fleet at San Francisco. He will be able to leave the hospital in six weeks on crutches and probably will journey to San Francisco and present his patriotic gift to the American navy.

POLICE CHIEF EXONERATED.

Salt Lake Official Found not Guilty of Robbing Tourists of Ten Thousand Dollars.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 27.—Not guilty of receiving a bribe was the verdict rendered today by the jury before which the late Chief of Police, George Sheets, has been on trial.

Two men, convicted of taking $10,000 from a pair of tourists in a pretended raid on a prearranged poker game, testified that the police chief connived at their swindling operations and shared in the loot. So warmly was the charge pressed by Sheets's political opponents that he resigned his position. He was the first Chief of Police under the American party.

Members of the jury said tonight that the testimony of the alleged accomplices was not sufficiently corroborated.

HIS LOVE IS PERENNIAL.

And He Proposes Annually to the Stenographer of Oregon's Chief Executive.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] His annual proposal of marriage has just been made by Bohemia Sharpe, an old miner, to the stenographer of Oregon's Governors.

Sharpe has just made his yearly visit to the State Capitol, and incidentally called at the executive offices and made a formal offer of his heart and hand to Gov. Chamberlain's stenographer. As has been the case many times in the past, the offer was refused, but it is expected the hardy old mountaineer will return next year and renew his overtures.

Sharpe is now over 70, but is still an active prospector. He has a claim and a cabin in the mountains of the Bohemia district, twenty-five miles from Cottage Grove. Just why his fancy has settled on wedding a stenographer of the State's Chief Executive is not known, but his persistent proposals have been the cause of no little amusement around the Capitol.

DOCTORS BAFFLED.

MAN LONG UNCONSCIOUS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RENO (Nev.) Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] David Fleming, a Chicago car conductor, lies at the County Hospital unconscious, in which condition he has been since yesterday morning at 10 o'clock.

The medical authorities are baffled over the forty-hour stupor of Fleming.

Fleming fell to the floor yesterday in the Acme poolroom, where he had been watching the race bulletin board.

SLOPE BRIEFS.

Campbell-Johnsons Win.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27.—In a suit brought by the Pacific Electric Railroad Company to compel A. Campbell-Johnson, C. S. Campbell-Johnson and the San Rafael Ranch Company to perform a contract, and turn over to the company rights of way and franchises between Los Angeles and Pasadena, the Supreme Court today affirmed the judgment of the lower court, denying the petition of the railroad company.

Hoisting Works Burn.

REDDING, Feb. 27.—The hoisting works of the White Oak mine, three miles west of Redding, were burned this morning. Loss $4000. Short-circuiting of the high-voltage wires of the power company caused the blaze.

Collects Damages.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27.—The sinking of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company's steamer Acapulco in the harbor last summer has resulted in a collection of suits for damage to goods aggregating $12,566, filed by Attorney William Denman in the United States District Court this morning.

Transferred to Oakland.

BUTTE (Mont.) Feb. 27.—Oscar W. Lang, for the past two years stationed at Helena as special agent in the field division of the General Land Office, has left Helena for Oakland, where on March 1 he will assume the position of chief of the district comprising California and Nevada, one of the best divisions in the country.

GREAT COAL STRIKE IS POSSIBLE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A protracted wage war that will mean prolonged suspension and hardship is expected should representatives of the coal operators and miners be unable to come to terms at a national convention of interstate interests that is likely to be called tomorrow.

The tension between the two bodies is acute, and while it has not yet reached the breaking point, a snap of the thin ropes that keep the warring elements together is looked for at any moment.

Indications of the seriousness of the situation were given in Chicago tonight by dispatches from Bloomington, Ill., which said that the Chicago and Alton Railroad began the storing of bituminous coal in its surplus cars in anticipation of a strike.

Following the inability of the two interests to come to an agreement, President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers characterized the action of the coal operators as dilatory, and intimated that the operators were aiming to break off relations and precipitate a strike.

Failure to reach an agreement with the operators in either Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana or Illinois renders it impossible to call the interstate conference for the purpose of reaching an agreement that will be effective in this district.

The committee meeting in Indianapolis threatened to adjourn tonight without issuing a call for a joint interstate wage conference. The opposition to issuing a call seems to be general among the operators. Business conditions are such, it is asserted, as to make this a bad time to enter into the work of making a contract to govern operations for the mines of the country for the next two years.

Where Grapes Flourish Without Irrigation

The above is an actual photograph of the raisin vineyard of J. W. Guiberson at Corcoran. It thrives vigorously, entirely without irrigation. When one considers that grapes pay from $100 to $200 per acre and that grape land in the Corcoran district may be secured now for considerably less than $100 per acre (in fact a few pieces farther from town at from $25 to $45,) the profit on an investment of this character may be realized. Owing to the exceptional demand for land in the rich Corcoran district, and because of the exceptionally low prices that have been prevailing, a strong advance will be made in a few days. An opportunity to see the agricultural features of Corcoran will be given by the excursion Wednesday, March 4th. Register now for tickets with NEWPORT & MILNER, General Agents for Security Land and Loan Company, Offices at 357 South Spring, Corner Fourth.

WASHINGTON.

WILL REOPEN NAVAL DISPUTE.

Senate Committee to Extend Probing Operations.

Number of Questions Will Be Given Attention.

Among That of Making Surgeons Commanders.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—A general discussion today among members of the Senate Committee on Naval Affairs indicated the investigation of the charges of defects in battleship construction will be extended to a number of other questions that have attracted public attention.

Among them will be whether staff officers, such as naval surgeons, shall be given command of hospital ships or other naval vessels. This undoubtedly will result in reopening the controversy between Rear-Admiral Brownson and Surgeon-General Rixey, which was disposed of by the President supporting the latter in his contention that a surgeon should be given the command of the hospital ship Relief.

Rear-Admiral Mason, chief of the Ordnance Bureau, explained to the committee today the workings of the turret ammunition hoists from powder-handling rooms to big guns on modern battleships. His testimony was given with the view of arranging the criticisms made by Henry Reuterdahl in a recent magazine article. Mr. Reuterdahl charged there was great danger of accidents with the straight hoists and open turrets, and that a number of the life-destroying explosives, such as those on the Missouri and Georgia, were caused by faulty hoists. Admiral Mason denied this, and by comparisons with ships of other navies he endeavored to show that American methods are equal to any.

SUMMED UP BY HALE.

After an extended review of the different periods and changes that have been made in the hoists, Chairman Hale summed up the statement as follows:

"Then you believe that we have taken every step that can be taken to control and prevent this flareback danger, and that so far as hoists go, they are as safe as they can be made?"

"Yes, sir, I do," replied the admiral.

Senator Tillman referred to the charges made by Mr. Reuterdahl that the American battleships do not contain emergency hoists.

Admiral Mason admitted that there might at some time be need for emergency hoists, but said that there is not room in the turrets for their installation. He expressed the opinion that the necessity for emergency hoists is not an appreciable danger. It was brought out that the interrupted hoist of the new type of turret is not safer than the direct hoist, and that it was put in because of the insistent demand of officers and seamen who believe that it will permit of more rapid firing.

VICTORY MAIN IDEA.

"It would seem, then," interrupted Mr. Tillman, "that victory is more important to the navy than the protection of human lives."

"Of course," responded Admiral Mason, "the men on the battleship are right in thinking that the ship that gets in the most shots has the greatest advantage."

"I hope the Navy Department will go slow in what it does hereafter in sacrificing safety to rapidity of firing," said Chairman Hale.

Admiral Mason estimated that the cost of changing the turrets on all the battleships of the navy so as to bring them up to the most approved standard known, would not be in excess of $16,000 a ship.

Senator Perkins was greatly interested in the cause of the change made in the guns from the 13-inch type to the 12-inch type, which is the largest now used. Admiral Mason said the 12-inch gun was better than the larger gun, because in order to attain the same effectiveness, the larger gun would weigh fully thirteen tons more and that the weight could not be allotted.

At the conclusion of Admiral Mason's statement, the committee went into executive session.

CORRESPONDENCE AS TO FLINT RESOLUTION.

FROM MOTLEY H. FLINT.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 26.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Referring to my personal letter to you of February 24, in which I requested that you give publicity to the letter written by W. C. Mendenhall, director of the Chamber of Commerce, addressed to George H. Stewart of this city, permit me to advise that the letter in due course of mail reached this city, but owing to the nature of same it appeared that it was in the form of a personal communication and was more or less privileged, and while Mr. Stewart was exceedingly anxious to release the letter, he deemed it necessary that Mr. Mendenhall should consent to its release. Mr. Stewart was kind enough to let me read the letter, but, of course, the contents are held in absolute confidence, and I can no more than state that I regret exceedingly that publicity could not be given to same on account of the facts set forth, which I believe the public is clearly entitled to know.

However, I wired Senator Flint yesterday as follows:

"Your wire 22d, re Mendenhall letter, received. All papers anxious to publish same. Stewart anxious to release, but insists Mendenhall consents. Take immediate action. Wire."

The answer from Senator Flint was received a few moments ago, and reads as follows:

"I will not ask Mendenhall to permit publication of his letter, and would oppose this being done, for the reason that he would be placed in the attitude of a government official criticising officials of another department, which would certainly result in injury to him. I am convinced, after reading the criticism, that I made a mistake in offering first resolution, and was imposed upon by officials of the War Department; but I am willing to assume responsibility for my act and only ask that you and my loyal friends be not disturbed by criticism in the first skirmish of the battle, but wait patiently until the end of the contest and you will find I will come out to your satisfaction, and also have the indorsement of those honestly criticising the action I have taken.

"FRANK P. FLINT."

The Times received the above correspondence from Postmaster Flint and regrets that the Mendenhall letter cannot be published.

FOR SACRAMENTO RIVER.

Gov. Gillett Addresses House Rivers and Harbors Committee Favoring Its Improvement.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Gov. Gillett today appeared before the House Committee on Rivers and Harbors to assure that body that the State of California stands ready to appropriate $400,000 for the improvement of the Sacramento River whenever the government shall appropriate a like amount.

The Governor made an excellent statement of the conditions on this river, and explained fully the great amount of benefit which would result from improvements. He told the committee of the damage which had been done by hydraulic operations along the river, and said the proposed improvement was to remedy this.

The Governor also explained the improvements it is hoped to have done on the San Joaquin River up to Stockton, which, like the Sacramento, runs into the heart of the State. Representatives Knowland, McKinley, Needham and McLachlan also made statements before the committee.

SQUALLY.

FINANCE FIGHT IS EXPECTED.

LA FOLLETTE AMENDMENT TO BILL IS CAUSE.

Aldrich Believes Section of Hepburn Law Provides Means of Arriving at Physical Valuation of the Railroads and Will Oppose Adoption of Wisconsin Senator's Scheme.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A battle is impending over the La Follette amendment to the Aldrich Currency Bill providing for a physical valuation of railroads before the bonds of railroads can be accepted by the Secretary of the Treasury as security for issues of emergency currency.

Recently Senator Aldrich, author of the financial legislation now before the Senate, indicated that he would accept an amendment to his bill providing for a satisfactory valuation. He has now made it clear that in his opinion Section 20 of the Hepburn Rate law, providing for a uniform system of accounting, provides a means whereby the Secretary of the Treasury, through the Interstate Commerce Commission, can ascertain the financial stability of railroad bonds.

The La Follette amendment supporters will fight the proposition on the ground that these figures represent the book value of railroads as made by themselves.

SENT TO SENATE.

Results of The Hague Conference and a Letter from Secretary Root Are Transmitted by President.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—President Roosevelt transmitted to the Senate today thirteen treaties and a declaration, the product of The Hague peace conference.

The treaties are accompanied by an exhaustive report of the doings of the American delegation at The Hague written by Solicitor Scott of the State Department, and a letter of transmittal by Secretary Root.

The declaration forbids the dropping of high explosives from balloons in time of war.

Three of the treaties did not receive the approval of the American delegation to The Hague. These were the convention relative to the status of merchant ships at the commencement of hostilities, relative to the conversion of ships into ships of war, and the convention defining the rights and duties of neutral powers in maritime war. The delegation also withheld its approval of the explanation agreed upon as to the reason for non-action by the convention on a compulsory arbitration treaty.

KICKED OUT OF CAPITOL.

Committee on Ways and Means Is Compelled to Occupy Rooms in New House Office Building.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—The all-powerful Committee on Ways and Means of the House today was put to rout and by an overwhelming vote ordered out of the Capitol to the new House office building, a block away.

Various members of the committee, led by Messrs. Payne and Dalzell, strenuously objected to the removal, but they had only a weak following, and their protests availed them nothing. The committee's present rooms are desired in order that the Speaker may have more commodious quarters.

The Army Appropriation Bill was discussed at length, and the provision for pay of non-commissioned officers and privates was finally stricken out. With the bill still under consideration, the House adjourned.

During the day Representative Lilley introduced a series of resolutions, calling upon the Secretary of the Navy for information in his possession concerning submarine boats.

APPROVES FOWLER BILL.

Author Makes Public a Letter from Andrew Carnegie Commending His Measure.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Representative Fowler of New Jersey, chairman of the House Committee on Banking and Currency, last night made public the following to him from Andrew Carnegie, in reference to the former's currency bill:

"Dear Mr. Fowler: You have started on the right line, and your proposed bill is the result. There is only one right path—we must base our currency upon gold. Your proposed redemption cities is just following our Canadian friends. Their system has worked well. There is no reason why our own should not. Sooner or later we must follow other civilized nations and place our banking system upon the same lines—the sooner the better.

"There is a great contrast between the House and Senate at the present juncture. The Aldrich bill is a mere makeshift. It cannot be needed in years to come. Panics have to grow, and when it is needed, it compels the banks to use their much-needed funds to purchase bonds before they can get the increased circulation required.

"The bill before the House, on the contrary, will accomplish a result imperatively needed, and place our banking system on a par with the banking systems of the other nations.

CHINA'S INDEMNITY BONDS.

REDUCTION IS FAVORED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—It was decided today by the House Committee on Foreign Affairs to report favorably on the Senate resolution decreasing from $24,440,778 to $11,655,492 the bond given by China to the United States to provide for indemnity under the protocol of 1901, on account of losses sustained and expenses incurred by reason of the Boxer uprising of 1900. The committee, however, amended the resolution by adding $2,000,000 to the amount of the bond, making it $13,655,492. The additional $2,000,000 is to be available for payment of further awards by the Court of Claims to claimants, whose cases may be reopened within the next year.

Senate Committee on Commerce Favorably Reports Senator Flint's Resolution to That Effect to the Upper House and Is Is Promptly Adopted—Free Harbor in Sight.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—The Senate Committee on Commerce today reported favorably Senator Flint's resolution authorizing the War Department to establish harbor lines on both the east and west basins of Wilmington harbor, Cal., and the resolution was adopted by the Senate. The text of the resolution is as follows:

"That the Secretary of War is hereby authorized to fix and establish pierhead and bulkhead lines, either or both, in inner harbor of San Pedro, otherwise known as Wilmington harbor, California, beyond which no piers, wharves, bulkheads or other works shall be extended or deposits made, except under such regulations as shall be prescribed from time to time by the Secretary of War."

Prelate Wrestles With the Demon Rum in a Public Meeting and Retires Defeated—Man Stated He Could Drink a Quart of Scotch Whisky a Day.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—Bishop Samuel Fallows entered a new field with "religious therafeutics" at St. Paul's Reformed Episcopal Church last night, but as "the horrible example" who presented himself as a subject had evidently taken too many "bracers" for the ordeal, it is feared the cure proved unavailing in this instance.

It was the regular weekly "health conference," and the bishop spoke on "Thought, the Master Builder." He was reaching the apex of his address when he remarked that "God would cure the evil in one who would get the thoughts of liquor out of his heart and fill it with thoughts of temperance."

A silence fell over the rest of the audience as a man in the rear of the room loudly asked, "Will God do that for me?"

"He will, dear brother," said the bishop, and then, addressing the audience, he said:

"This man came to see me last night at my home. I invited him to this meeting tonight. He has his wife and baby here with him now."

"Show me that God will do it," insisted the intoxicated one.

"Keep still," kindly requested the aged bishop.

But the man refused to do so, and insisted on bringing the lecture to a sudden end by taking a front seat. Laying both hands on the forehead of the man, Bishop Fallows asked a special prayer from the congregation to seek the grace and strength of God to cure the subject of his evil habit.

"You will be helped if you get pure thoughts and thoughts of temperance in your heart," the bishop began, but as the man continued repeating, "I'm all in," the bishop ceased experimenting, and announced that the women were ready to serve luncheon.

The man refused the offer of cocoa, and said he could drink a quart of Scotch whisky a day. The church women fondled the baby and spoke kindly to the wife, who, seemingly, did not appear mortified. All three wore costly clothes. The woman explained that this was the "final test" for her husband, whom she called "Charlie."

Once, when "Charlie" became particularly loud, the bishop had the congregation sing, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee."

Windy City Will Spend $5,000,000 on New City Hall and More Than That on Boulevards.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Plans for two great improvements for the city, to cost $10,000,000, assumed tangible shape today.

Work was begun on specifications for contracts on the new City Hall, which is to cost about $5,000,000. The board of local improvements announced its intention of having a public hearing next month upon the boulevard link proposition. It is estimated that if this plan is adopted the cost will be nearly $6,000,000.

A conference, held in the Mayor's office, led to the rushing of work on the City Hall plans. It was decided if contracts for the new building were let soon 10 per cent might be pared off of the price paid for the new county building.

Humorist to Be the Head of the Society for Suppression of Unnecessary Noises.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Mark Twain's acceptance of the presidency of its junior branch was announced at the first birthday celebration of the Society for the Suppression of Unnecessary Noises at the St. Regis Hotel last night.

Encouraging progress in interesting children in the work of suppressing unnecessary noises was reported, hundreds of young people having shown a disposition to help the society in its campaign, particularly that branch of it which aims to secure stillness in the vicinity of the city's various hospitals. Health Commissioner Darlington commended the general society for the aid it has given the board of health

DENIAL.

GERMAN AIMS ARE DEFINED.

Baron von Sternburg Writes Magazine Article.

Denies That His Country Is After Other Lands.

Ambassador Says That Open Door Is Demanded.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Baron Speck von Sternburg, the German Ambassador at Washington, has an article in the North American Review, which appeared today on "The Truth About German Expansion," refuting reports of Germany's designs on Holland and Belgium, and explaining Germany's real policy of expansion. The Ambassador says:

"Especially during the last two years it has been noticed by those interested in the world's development that a number of papers of Western Europe have circulated the reports that the independence of the two small States of Holland and Belgium is jeopardized in consequence of the war spirit and lust for territory alleged to exist in Germany.

"The reports to which I refer seek also to interest the American people by asserting that the underlying reason for Germany's purpose to acquire The Netherlands, arises out of our ambition to possess territory in the western hemisphere. The island of Curacoa, in the Caribbean Sea, is pointed to as a constant object of our keen solicitude. Should Germany, it is stated, succeed in annexing The Netherlands, her colonies naturally will pass with the mother country.

"Usually it has been stated that Germany has an annual increase in population of 800,000; that these new masses must be supported by manufactories, and that the German Empire will thus be coerced, with or against its will, into expansion, in order to procure the raw material, and to establish the requisite markets for its industrial growth.

"PLAUSIBLE BUT NOT TRUE."

"The annexation of Holland and Flemish Belgium, containing Antwerp, are described as a mere preliminary necessary to make possible such measures of expansion. Germany must enlarge its maritime basis and should have control of the Lower Rhine and its harbors. To the alien, these arguments may seem plausible enough. Whoever is acquainted with existing conditions, however, knows, that though seemingly plausible, this is not the truth.

"In the first place, it is not true that colonial expansion is a necessity for Germany, resulting from its industrial growth. The impetus given to German commerce and German manufactures is to be ascribed far more to the increase in buying capacity of other nations—England, France, Russia or America—than to all the German colonies combined.

"Germany needs no colonies—what she wants is merely free competition on all seas, the open door, and the right to cooperate freely on an equal footing with all other commercial and industrial nations, in opening up new and as yet unopened districts and markets.

FAVORS OPEN DOOR.

"Hence the principle of the open door is the leading motive of the foreign policy pursued by Germany. It is the red thread that winds itself through the Eastern Asiatic, the oriental and the Moroccan policy of the German Empire. The high quality of all German products obviated the necessity of unfair preferences accruing to political power. All they need is a fair chance to compete on equal terms with other countries. The world is large enough and rich enough, in still dormant possibilities to admit of a pacific cooperation by all nations in this great work.

"I certainly do not believe that these fairy tales of annexation originate in Belgium or Holland. Their sources are to be found elsewhere. The feeling of safety and assurance which each of these two States, in view of existing conditions, has in relation to the other, and logically must have, is exemplified in the close relations existing between them. These have become traditional. The closeness of these relations is guaranteed amply by parallel interests on both sides and by cultural and mental motives."

Wife of Russian Revolutionist Says His Health Is Being Undermined by His Confinement.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSURG, Feb. 27.—The surgeon in charge of the fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul, where Nicholas Tschaikovsky, the revolutionist, is confined, has been instructed to examine the prisoner with a view of deciding whether or not he shall be visited by two specialists to determine the actual state of his health.

Tschaikovsky's wife, who is in St. Petersburg, has made representations to the Russian authorities that her husband was threatened with nervous collapse through the strain and circumstances of his imprisonment and the uncertainty as to his fate, and it is because of her statements that the medical examination is to be made.

In order to break the tedium of his solitary confinement, Tschaikovsky is working on a series of lectures on the present situation in Russia. He is hopeful of a speedy release, but judging by the statement made in the last day or two by the Russian officials, his trial is still remote.

JOY FOR CRIMINALS.

Freedom for Many Insured Because St. Louis Court of General Sessions Is Illegal.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

JEFFERSON CITY (Mo.) Feb. 27.—An opinion written by Judge Gantt was handed down by the Supreme Court today, holding that the law creating the Court of General Sessions in the city of St. Louis is unconstitutional and the court is invalid and void.

The bill creating the Court of General Sessions was passed in April, 1907. Gov. Folk appointed Judge H. P. Rodgers to preside and over 700 cases have been tried in this court.

According to the Supreme Court's decision criminals who are confined on pleas of guilty and on sentences imposed by Judge Rodgers are illegally restrained of their liberty and are entitled to freedom.

NEW YORK TO PARIS.

Motorists Have Exciting Experience in Indiana.

Pay Forced for Use of Horses in Snowdrifts.

French Party Is Relieved of Valuable Goods.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SOUTH BEND (Ind.) Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Because, it is alleged, they refused to pay for the use of horses said to have aided them in plowing through the snow near Kendallville, Ind., members of the French Moto Bloc car in the New York-Paris race were chased to South Bend today by an Elkhart, Ind., constable.

Constable Dwight came to South Bend and made an attempt to attach the machine and goods at the Studebaker garage, but a settlement for $23 was made. The French party reported to J. M. Studebaker, Jr., that they had been relieved of nearly $1000 worth of goods near Kendallville.

The German car, Protos, left Elkhart for South Bend at 7:56 this morning, and arrived in South Bend at 12, making the run of sixteen miles in a trifle more than four hours. The French car, Moto Bloc, arrived at 11:40. Several repairs will have to be made before the machines will continue to Chicago.

The men in charge of the American Thomas, French De Dion and Italian Zust cars rested in Chicago today, and were given a dinner at the Automobile Club tonight. They will start West tomorrow.

G. Bourcier St. Chaffrey, in charge of the Italian car, Zust, announced today that his company will lodge a formal protest against the Thomas car. He refused to reveal the nature of his protest.

Denial was made today by St. Chaffrey that the route of the race would be changed, cutting out Alaska altogether, and shipping by boat from San Francisco to Japan.

"I refused to consider it, for the race is now started, and it must continue as originally laid out. We must catch the boat in Seattle by March 8, and to do this we will continue running until March 5, then put our cars on a train and ship to Seattle. I see no reason why we should cut out Alaska, and I believe we will successfully work our way through that country."

Dissension in the crew of the DeDion car resulted in the announcement this afternoon that Capt. Hans Hendrick Hensen would not accompany the car any farther on its trip around the world. His place will be taken by Emanuel Lascares, a native-born Frenchman, but now a member of the Chicago Motor Club and a resident of the Windy City.

Alice Neilson Receives Offer to Appear at Opening of New Theater in Buenos Ayres.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—Alice Neilsen, it is announced today, has received an offer to sing the role of Zerlina in "Don Giovanni" at the opening of the new Colon Theater in Buenos Ayres in May.

If Henry Russell, who has Miss Neilsen under contract for three more years, will release her, she will be the only American singer to appear at that inauguration.

Mme. Tetrazzini and Mme. Melba will be among the singers who will take part in the opening.

Canton Home of President McKinley Will Be Sold at Public Auction.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CANTON (O.) Feb. 27.—The plan of the trustees of the McKinley National Memorial Association to take over from Mrs. M. C. Barber, sister of the late Mrs. McKinley, the President McKinley home as a public memorial gift, has been found impossible.

Heirs to the William McKinley estate would not sell at the price of $25,000, tentatively agreed on months ago, and the matter was finally taken into court, with the result that the property will be offered at public sale.

An order was issued in Common Pleas Court today appointing a board to partition the property. The order was made on application of James F. McKinley and other heirs to the William McKinley estate. The work of partitioning is to begin at once.

PEKING, Feb. 27.—Kolochin, a Mongolian, who has been prominent in the efforts of his countrymen for the reorganization of Mongolia, has asked the Chinese government to aid him in establishing in Mongolia a system of banks, railroads and mines, a local constabulary, a diplomatic bureau, a system of education, and an army.

The Chinese government continues to approve schemes for progress that involve the expenditure of vast sums of money. In the absence of any financial reform, however, the finance department will not take into consideration plans for reorganization of the army and navy.

Handsome Young Woman Doctor Is Awarded Damages for Injury to Grecian Facial Adornment.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—Beauty attendant upon a perfect Grecian nose was valued at $2500 by a jury in the Superior Court yesterday.

Dr. Bessie Andrews, a handsome young physician, suffered injury to her nose on a street car some time ago, and sued for $20,000 damages.

Dr. Andrus was injured in October, 1906, while boarding a car. She was stepping up to the front platform, when the brake was suddenly released by the motorman and the handle struck her in the nose. She was rendered unconscious, and physicians found that she had suffered a compound fracture of her nose. Seven stitches were necessary.

On the witness stand in Judge McSurely's court, the young physician commented upon the form of her nose.

"It was of the perfect type," she said. "Many persons admired the beauty of my nose and commented upon its graceful and perfect lines. It was what is commonly called a perfect Grecian nose. Since the accident its beauty has been marred and spoiled."

CHILD WILL RECOVER.

Gourd Seed Which a Little Girl Had Swallowed Removed by an Unusual Operation.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 27.—Ruth Steffen, the 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Steffen of McKeesport, whose life had been despaired of, is now recovering, after a surgical operation in a local hospital, such as physicians say was never before performed.

Last September the child swallowed two gourd seeds. She coughed one up, but the other became lodged in her lung. Dr. Jackson of the Eye and Ear Hospital in this city, using a delicate instrument which contains a small electrical bulb, located the seed and removed it.

Railroads Say Operators Cannot Be Had.

Thirty-seven Lines Ask for an Extension.

Assert Law Will Close Many Small Offices.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Operating officials of railways from all parts of the country today were in attendance upon the hearing given by the Interstate Commerce Commission upon applications for an extension of time for the going into effect of the nine-hour law.

Thirty-seven applications were received by the commission asking for the extension. Two of them already have been denied, those of the Georgia Southern and Florida Railroad and the St. Joseph and Grand Island Railway, because, in the opinion of the commission, the petitions did not show what, in the terms of the act, would constitute "good causes" for granting the relief requested.

The applications of the other thirty-five roads are being heard as one case because the petitions are substantially identical. All of them assert that they have found it impossible to secure the services of competent, efficient and dependable telegraph operators in such numbers as will enable them to comply with the provisions of the law, and that even if they could obtain the necessary operators, the enforced employment of so many additional men would be a financial hardship which the carriers ought not to be subjected to.

Nearly all of the petitions also indicate that, in the circumstances, if the law is enforced, the companies will be obliged to close many small stations on their lines, thus interfering with the service, causing an inconvenience, especially to the traveling and shipping public, and preventing the prompt movement of trains.

Coupled with this offer, it is said, will be another, proposing that the city enter into a partnership with the Belmont interests for the operation of cars through the tunnel. It is proposed the cost of operation be shared, and whatever profits may arise from the operation be, in a like manner, divided.

This is the plan of Theodore P. Shonts, president of the Interborough-Metropolitan Company, who also believes that such a plan is feasible in the building and operation of new subways in the city.

EAGERLY PURCHASED.

Bonds for Improving Chicago's Street Railways Grabbed Almost Before the Ink Was Dry.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] To rehabilitate the street-car systems of the North and West sides of the city, the $2,337,500 of first mortgage bonds issued by the Chicago Railways Company were grabbed up almost before the ink was dry on the published announcement. The price was 92½.

It was announced authoritatively that more money would be provided as fast as the engineers can use it; that work on the improvement of the system will be pushed to give Chicago the best surface transportation in the world, and that 300 new cars will be put in service as rapidly as they can be turned out of the shops—probably by July. Supervising engineers today approved the specifications for the new equipment providing for the purchase of new cars.

WILL COMPLY WITH LAW.

THREE ROADS SO ANNOUNCE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

OMAHA (Neb.) Feb. 27.—It was announced by the Union Pacific, Northwestern and Burlington railroads today that they would observe literally the nine-hour law, which becomes effective March 4. These three roads will employ about 200 additional telegraphers on lines west of the Missouri River.

Train service is to be curtailed where it is found possible to do so.

Will Cut Salaries.

NEW HAVEN (Ct.) Feb. 27.—Salaries over $2000 will be cut 10 per cent., and those between $1200 and $2000 5 per cent., by the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, beginning March 1.

CONVENTION CLOSES.

Department of Superintendence of National Educational Association Adjourned Last Night.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON (D. C.) Feb. 27.—The seventh annual convention of the Department of Superintendence of the National Educational Association closed tonight. At the afternoon session there was a lively debate over a motion to leave the question of the next meeting place to the Executive Committee, although the convention yesterday selected Oklahoma City.

Augustus S. Downing of New York offered a motion to the effect that there was a great deal of apprehension as to the ability of Oklahoma City to accommodate the members. A member from Oklahoma City proposed the motion and C. G. Purse offered a substitute rescinding the action of the convention yesterday, and leaving the matter to the Executive Committee. This motion was tabled and the motion of Mr. Downing authorizing the Executive Committee to investigate the conditions and if necessary to select another place for the convention, was adopted.

Resolutions were adopted placing the convention on record in favor of the study of agricultural subjects in the schools of the rural districts, granting Federal aid to the State normal schools for the training of teachers in the subjects of agriculture, manual training and home economics; the maintenance in all large cities of schools for the special care of backward children; the opening of ungraded rooms in large cities for the instruction of the children of immigrants unable to speak the English language; the maintenance of evening schools for the instruction of adult immigrants in the English language and the duties of citizenship, urging an increased appropriation for the National Bureau of Education, commending the action of the National Civic Federation; the adoption of the plan for the sending of American teachers to Great Britain and the European continent for the inspection of their schools.

WOMEN'S CLUBS.

Ruskin Tea.

The members of the Ruskin Art Club were entertained yesterday afternoon with a beautifully-appointed tea, given by Mrs. J. P. Kanst at her residence on Westlake avenue. The Ruskin colors of green and gold were carried out in yellow jonquils and acacia blossoms, which decked the drawing-rooms, while the library was gay with red carnations.

Twenty-three paintings by local artists—Redmond, St. Clair, Jackson, Leta Horlocker and others—were disposed about the rooms, and the guests strove to identify the artist in each case. Mrs. I. L. Hibbard, president of the club, won the prize given to the most successful.

The hostess and Mrs. Hibbard were assisted in receiving by the members of the Hospitality Committee, Mmes. D. C. Barber, W. H. Bradley, O. F. Brant, W. B. Brown and J. S. Chapman. Musical features were furnished by Mrs. Frances Thoroughman, and Miss Cooper, who rendered vocal selections.

The club is planning an exhibit of etchings to the given April 1, at which no admission fee will be charged. The exhibit will come as a fitting close to a year's study of etching and kindred processes in art.

Eschscholtzia Chapter.

Eschscholtzia Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will meet at the Ebell clubrooms next Tuesday at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon, when Miss Agnes Elliott will give a talk on "Colonial Women." Mrs. H. C. Dillon, Mrs. Addie de B. Mitchell, Mrs. John Peacock, and Mrs. Louise Pinney Castle will be the hostesses.

Washington's Birthday was delightfully observed by the D.A.R., the local chapter and the Pasadena chapter being entertained by Mrs. R. B. Ashley at her residence in Prospect Square, Pasadena. Mrs. Robert J. Burdette gave a talk on patriotic subjects, and the holiday marked the most successful meeting of the season for both chapters.

Cosmos Club.

The Cosmos Club enjoyed a lecture on "Common Sense in the Household," given this week by Mrs. Emma M. Greenleaf, who touched upon a number of vital and practical problems in the average woman's daily life. The last social meeting was a brilliant occasion for the Cosmos Club. Members and their friends thronged the Ebell Clubhouse all during the afternoon. Mrs. Robert J. Burdette was the guest of honor and talked to the members on "The All-Round Woman."

Wednesday Morning.

An attractive schedule has been issued by the Wednesday Morning Club for the month of March. The first Wednesday will be occupied by a Shakespeare lesson at 10 a.m., led by Mrs. H. E. Brett, on "Henry VIII"; a business meeting at 2 p.m., followed by a musical and literary programme. Mrs. J. B. Willard will talk on "Woman's Patriotism in the Home," and Mrs. Willoughby Rodman will talk on "Woman's Patriotism as Shown in the Community."

The following Saturday at 8 p.m. Prof. Baumgardt will lecture on astronomy. On the second Wednesday Mrs. Brett will lead the Shakespeare class in the forenoon, and at 2 p.m. Mrs. Jessica Hazard of the State Normal School will conduct a cooking class. The third Wednesday offers Shakespeare work in the morning and current history at 2 p.m., led by Mrs. Lou V. Chapin. The following Friday evening will be occupied with a lecture by Prof. Baumgardt on Rome. "Richard III" will be the play considered by the Shakespeare class the morning of the fourth Wednesday, and at 2 p.m. Mrs. W. H. Housh will conduct an afternoon of art.

Last Wednesday a musicale of high order was given at this club through the courtesy of Mrs. Fred Hooker Jones. A number of local artists took part.

Shrove Tide Party.

The ladies of the Good Shepherd Auxiliary have received flattering responses to the 800 invitations sent out for the fancy-dress party to be given next Monday evening at the Woman's Club-house. Besides officers and directors, many of the active members are doing splendid service in preparing for the affair. Mrs. G. A. Bobrick, Mrs. D. F. Donegan, Mrs. Frank Shafer, Mrs. Elizabeth Daly and Mrs. J. M. Schneider are actively interested. In deference to the leap-year season, patrons have been chosen instead of patronesses. They are: Count Bozenta, G. Allen Hancock, James C. Kays, Daniel Murphy, Arthur B. Mullen, Dr. P. G. Cotter, W. E. Hampton, C. C. Desmond, Charles L. Whipple, Carroll Daly, Henry Daly, J. M. Schneider, J. R. Grant, J. P. Delaney, Victor Ponet, Francis Montgomery, George A. Bobrick, Frank Shafer, Philip Forve, D. F. Donegan, Lucian Brunswig, Dr. Randolph Hutchinson, Thomas W. Phillips and J. E. Hannon.

On Boyle Heights.

The Boyle Heights Entre Nous Club held an enjoyable meeting at the residence of Mrs. John Findley, No. 206 South Boyle avenue, Wednesday afternoon, when Mrs. Julia D. Phelps conducted a parliamentary drill. "Women in Literature" was the subject of a paper read by Mrs. Dalzell. Mrs. Findley read one on "Motley," and Mrs. Anderson gave one on "Bancroft."

Dr. George Frederick Kunz, president of the American Scientific and Historical Associated, and connected with the United States Geological Survey, received through the Norwegian charge-d'affaires at Washington yesterday from King Haakon VII, the cross of the first class of the Royal Order of St. Olavin, in recognition of his distinguished services in the department of mineralogy. This is Dr. Kunz's third foreign honor.

Do You Deliberately Torture Yourself Alive By Neglecting Your Stomach?

Remedy Free For the Asking.

A great outcry has arisen during the last few years against scientists who torture dumb animals alive in the interests of science. How many people are there, however, who needlessly torture themselves by causing their stomachs to overwork. Dyspepsia, indigestion, heartburn, sleeplessness, loss of vim and energy are the inevitable result.

Are you one of these?

Why not give your stomach a rest?

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will relieve your stomach of all its work and do it for you. They are compounded of the very elements and do the work which the stomach performs when in normal health, aseptic pepsin, malt diastase and like ingredients.

Dr. Richardson in writing a thesis on treatment of dyspepsia and indigestion, closes his remarks by saying, "For those suffering from acid dyspepsia, shown by sour, watery risings, or for flatulent dyspepsia shown by gas on stomach, causing heart trouble and difficult breathing, as well as for all other forms of stomach trouble, the safest treatment is to take one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal. I advise them because they contain no harmful drugs, but are composed of valuable digestives, which act promptly upon the food eaten. I never knew a case of indigestion or even chronic dyspepsia which Stuart's Tablets would not reach."

Cheap cathartic medicines claiming to cure dyspepsia and indigestion can have no effect whatever in actively digesting the food, and to call any cathartic medicine a cure for indigestion is a misnomer.

Every druggist in the United States and Canada sells Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and they are not only the safest and most successful but the most scientific of any treatment for indigestion and stomach troubles.

Price 50c a box at all druggists.

SPEEDY

DRIVERS AFTER NEW RECORDS.

Sensational Time Expected in Big Hill-Climb.

Dealers' Meet at Pasadena Is Attractive Card.

Autos Bowl Over the Hill in Try-out Preliminaries.

Paul J. Q. Derkum, the flying wonder who smashed world records at the motorcycle meet at Agricultural Park Saturday, and W. G. Collins, who took second honors, making almost as fast time, will race up the Pasadena-Altadena hill-climb course on motorcycles Saturday, as a preliminary to the automobile events. This attractive feature is expected to add great interest to the day's sport.

Though there has been a disposition on the part of some of the auto drivers to cancel their entries at the last moment, Leon T. Shettler announced last night that twenty-nine cars will start.

The course is in fair shape, and when the bridge is built over the tracks, ought to be particularly fast.

Scores of cars went out to the Pasadena-Altadena course, yesterday, and a dozen speedy machines bowled up the hill in fast time. Watches were held on the cars, and from the time made yesterday there is reason to believe that at least one machine will cover the course in less than two minutes.

The utmost secrecy is being maintained by those who are entered in the contest, but it is safe to say that almost every car which will race Saturday has been up the course several times under a stop watch.

With a bridge across the tracks, the most dangerous point of the course, the race meet will be safer and much more enjoyable. Several of the cars which hit the rise near the railroad yesterday bounded into the air, leaving all four wheels clear of the ground. The bridge will also make the course faster.

It is planned to build the wooden structure in the shortest time possible, and to tear it down again after the races. The lumber will be prepared for use. Each piece will be fitted so that the construction will be rapid. No cars will be allowed on the course Saturday morning.

ONE EACH MINUTE.

The start will be roped, and cars will be sent away one minute apart. Drivers of cars failing to comply with this section of the rules will be fined $10. The fine will be repeated for each offense until the forfeit money is exhausted, when car and driver will be disqualified.

According to Shettler, the rules for the climb will be strictly adhered to. "They are ironclad," said Shettler, "and must be obeyed."

"I'll enforce the rules to the letter," said Shettler yesterday, "even if it means the losing of friends. Other meets have been marred by drivers holding their cars at the start. The machines will get away on time at the Pasadena-Altadena hill climb this year."

At least one car entered in the race, the big Stearns, is an unknown quantity. Though several profess to know just how fast the Stearns has climbed the hill, it is safe to say that all times mentioned are at the best only guesses. That the Stearns will be a factor is conceded by every man in the race. There are many who are confident the Stearns will make a splendid showing.

Edgar Apperson, with his Jackrabbit, is expected to make a fine showing. The Apperson is one of the fastest cars entered, and as its driver has had experience in track and road racing, the machine will have the best of handling and will be given every opportunity to show its speed.

The Stoddard-Dayton must be reckoned with in the Saturday climb. This trim little machine, which took first honors at Riverside Thanksgiving Day, will be raced for all there is in it. The Stoddard-Dayton undoubtedly will gather more honors to itself at the Pasadena meet, think those who have watched it this week.

The Buick has warm supporters. The Kisselkar is well liked, and the Packard will not lack for a bunch of enthusiastic rooters as it starts over the course. The Tourist is a favorite with many.

Perhaps the best vantage point on the course will be at the railroad tracks near the approach to the bridge. Cars can assemble there and watch the racing machines as they fly around the first bend, and spin to the second along the fastest stretch of the hill. Many will desire to see the finish.

HOW TO GET THERE.

It is possible to reach the finish without driving over a foot of the hill-climb road. Cars can reach the top of the hill by driving directly to Altadena, and thence north to the hill top, where an excellent view of the finish can be had.

No time will be announced until the close of the ninth race. This is the final statement of the committee after its conference last night. As a reason for withholding the time from the public, Shettler states that if it is given out after each race, some who have entered would scratch their cars at the last minute, if they found they had no chance to win.

A. I. Stuart of the Los Angeles Driving Club and three men whom he will choose, will be the official timers. They will keep tab on each machine, and after the ninth event the times will be announced, and the four cars which have qualified for the tenth event will be chosen.

The whole course will be carefully guarded by police. At least thirty uniformed patrolmen will watch the cross roads and approaches to the track over which the cars will speed. Every provision to insure the safety of the spectators will be taken. No cars will be allowed on the course.

The committee promises to start the first event promptly at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon and to keep the races going in rapid succession.

Echo Park Baseball.

The baseball team of the Echo Park playgrounds will meet the L. A. Business College nine this afternoon at 2:30, at Echo Park. Tomorrow afternoon the playgrounds team will play the Los Angeles teachers. Coach Best has a second team which he is anxious to match against a grammar school or a second high school nine, with players about 15 years old, for a game Saturday morning.

Baseball at Joy Park.

The Title Insurance and Trust Company baseball team will play the Southern California Business College at Joy Park, at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The batteries will be Hawkins and Eagle; Briswalter and Walsh.

OCCIDENTAL AND PASADENA.

Y.M.C.A. Boys Expected to Give Presbyterians Hard Contest on the Cinder Path.

Occidental and the Pasadena Y.M.C.A. will meet in track and field events tomorrow afternoon at Occidental. The Crown City team is the strongest that has ever been gotten together in Pasadena, and although Occidental expects to win by a close score, the Pasadenans have an even chance to secure the larger number of points.

A feature of the meet will be the discus throw. Tyler of Pasadena is strong in this event, and will probably take first place from Thomson of Occidental.

Silver and bronze medals will be awarded to place winners, and the winner of the meet will be presented with a large banner.

The entries follow:

The 100-yard dash: Smith, Hamilton, Gibbs, Pasadena; Bird, Brower, Kellogg, Blee, Occidental.

The 220-yard dash: Smith, Flanders, Shutt, Hamilton, Pasadena; Bird, Kellogg, Brower, Highstreet, Occidental.

The 440-yard dash: Smith, Gray, Shutt, Taylor, Pasadena; Bird, Rush, Blee, Bradbeer, Occidental.

The 880-yard dash: Millsap, Eldredge, Murphey, Colyer, Smith, Hole, Pasadena; Spring, Carver, Salisbury, Occidental.

The 120-yard hurdle race: Comstock, Kern, Keller, Pasadena; Thomson, Wieman, Fish, Occidental.

Officials: Judges of finish, La Spada, Esterly, Donnell; judges of weights, Tyler, Thacker, Eldred; judges of jumps, Thomson, Hammack, Chapin; timers, Savage, Test, Bristol; inspectors, Richmond Stevenson; referee, Price; announcer, Morgan; clerk of course, McDonnell; starter, Al Merrill; marshal, Demaree.

SECOND U.S.C. MEET.

Polytechnic to Take Part in Last Methodist Preparatory Track Contests Today.

U.S.C. meets Polytechnic High School this afternoon at Bovard Field in the last preparatory track and field contest preliminary to the first intercollegiate meet with Stanford on Saturday of next week. According to the previous schedule of the 'varsity, Harvard School was due to meet the Methodists tomorrow afternoon, but Coach Hamilton yesterday canceled the date on the grounds that the prep team was in no condition for a severe test against the university.

The 'varsity will present its full strength today, and a large number of mediocre candidates are entered today in a last endeavor to show their worth prior to the big meet with the northerners, and the results of today's contest will largely determine the make-up of the 'varsity against Stanford. Trotter is again in fair shape and will essay the shot and low hurdles. Harry will also enter the shorter dashes, and is counted the find of the season in the hundred. Grant Richardson will try the low hurdles, and Lennox will also enter one of the hurdle events.

The fifty-yard dash will be added to the list of events, and should furnish an exciting race between Conant and Burek. Burek is very fast in a short dash, starting with a short, strong stride and very quickly develops speed.

The two-mile race will be run for the first time this season, with Cornwell, Garbutt and Bowser representing the 'varsity.

The other entries are practically identical with those of last Saturday.

The officials are: Hamilton, starter; Lowsley, Bovard and Thompson, judges of finish; Bristol, Lowsley and Coleman, timers.

GLENDALE IS DEFEATED.

U.S.C. Girls' Basketball Team Rolls up Big Score Against High School Six.

The girls' basketball team of Glendale High School was defeated by the strong five of the University of Southern California, yesterday afternoon, on the university court, by the score of 30 to 9 in favor of the 'varsity. The visitors secured but one field goal, the remaining seven points being registered by goals from the foul line. Ella Winstanley was frequently penalized for overguarding, and Miss Goode, rarely failed in ringing the basket on the free trials.

Ethel Hogan again showed herself one of the most consistent and accurate forwards in the league, throwing eight field goals and scoring six points on foul baskets. Katherine Asher showed marked improvement, scoring four difficult field goals. Miss Goode played the best game for Glendale, but her brilliancy was overshadowed by the persistent guarding efforts of Miss Winstanley.

Miss Stella Knoles, who has been making a strong bid for a 'varsity position at center, appeared to good advantage in yesterday's game, and will in all probability be assigned the regular berth at center.

L. A. Gym Try-out.

A try-out for the L. A. High gym team last night in the High School auditorium resulted in the election of three new members, with the following percentages: John Bryant, 76; Max Grueb, 72.7; Roy Crocker, 70.5. Other candidates made the following scores: Paul Lowenthal, 66.8; Horace Elder, 60; Grover Shepard, 56.5; H. Decius, 51.2.

CARDINAL.

STANFORD TEAM TO PLAY TODAY.

ST. VINCENT'S WEAK, BUT HOPES FOR GOOD RESULTS.

Lamer to Pitch First Game Against Cardinal While Kerfoot Is Slated for the Second Contest—Pat Phillips Still Too Ill to Work—Southern Boys With Visitors.

The Stanford University baseball team is expected to arrive from Palo Alto early this morning for a series of two games with the St. Vincent's nine this afternoon and tomorrow afternoon. Eleven men and Coach Presley make up the squad. They expect to return North Saturday night.

The two pitchers selected to make the trip are Ray Witmer of Pasadena and W. C. Thiele. The Cardinal nine is also carrying two backstops, Mow Mitchell of Los Angeles will be behind the bat in the first game, while Ganong will catch in the second contest. Carroll Owen of Pasadena will take his old position in left field.

The Vincentian squad completed its preparations with a short practice game on the Chutes diamond yesterday afternoon with L. A. High. The entire nine men, with the exception of Lamer and Callahan, who have experienced trouble with sprained ankles, are in good condition.

As the Saints have not been playing consistent ball, it is rather difficult to get a line on how they will perform against the university team. They have one of the weakest diamond aggregations in several years, as most of the players are youngsters, who, though playing a good fielding game, have given rather erratic exhibitions with the stick.

Capt. Lamer will oppose Witmer and pass them over for the Saints in the game today, as Hempel is holding Kerfott in reserve for Saturday's contest. On account of the absence of Phillips, the Vincentian pitching staff has been badly crippled and in the emergency Lamer, who has speed and good control, though not a regular twirler, has been shifted from his old position at short. Grindle will catch.

Jimmy Toman, a former Los Angeles player, will officiate as umpire. The game will be called at 3 o'clock.

The men in today's contest are to occupy the following positions:

Stanford.		St. Vincent's.
Witmer	pitcher	Lamer (c)
Mitchell	catcher	Grindle
Bell	first base	O'Rourke
Scott	second base	Yaborrondo
Sampson	shortstop	Flick
Fenton (c)	third base	Corbin
Wirt	center field	Gray
McGregor	right field	Brannen

RANDOLPH ARRIVES.

Manager Berry Sure of His Pitcher. White Sox Team May Attend Britt-Nelson Fight.

Baseball headquarters took on a pleasant look yesterday, for Red Randolph, the crack pitcher who might have joined the outlaw State league, if he had not thought twice, came to town and will probably be out for practice this morning with the other boys. Randolph, of course, is satisfied with his contract with the Los Angeles team and he probably realizes that if he pitches up to his speed in this league this year, he may get a chance to go east next season, for good pitchers are always in demand. He says that in all probability Brick Devereaux will be the only Coast League player to jump to the outlaws. The story is that Devereaux is to receive $350 per month from Santa Cruz; a half interest in a saloon and a cottage on the beach. All this is a lot more than he is worth and the Santa Cruz team owners will doubtless realize it before their season is over.

Catcher Easterly reached town yesterday also and Berry has received word that Pitchers Koestner and Thorsen are on the way and will arrive today or tomorrow. Oakes's ticket was sent him several days ago and the fact that no word has been received from him makes Manager Berry think he has started, or will do so this week.

Catcher Jack Bliss was here yesterday, on his way to join the St. Louis Nationals, and he certainly does not have a very good opinion of the outlaw league in this State.

WHITE SOX DUE TUESDAY.

The Chicago White Sox team is scheduled to leave Chicago for this city tomorrow evening in its special train and if it arrives here on time, will roll into the Arcade depot at 7 o'clock next Tuesday evening. That will be the night of the Britt-Nelson prize fight and it is possible the ball players will be taken to the fight in a body. In any event, they will be welcomed by a band and a number of the local fans.

GAME AT COLTON.

L. A. HIGH TEAM SATURDAY.

The County League baseball season will open tomorrow with four games. L. A. High will not play a league game but will go to Colton to play a return game with Colton High School. The league game scheduled with San Fernando will be played at a later date.

Polytechnic and Long Beach will play at Praeger Park. Pierce will pitch as Lafferty is barred from County League games until May 1. The rest of the line-up will be the same as in the previous games of the season.

South Pasadena and Hollywood will play at Hollywood, and Throop and Santa Monica at Santa Monica.

WHOLESALERS' LEAGUE.

SCHEDULE OF CONTESTS.

The Wholesalers' League was reorganized last night and now includes the B. T. and T. C. team, the Simpsons, the Racycles and Andersons. A series of twelve games will be played, beginning next Sunday. Prizes valuing $25, $10 and $5 will be given the three teams winning places.

The schedule for next Sunday is: Andersons and Simpsons, at Agricultural Park; Racycles and B. T. & T. C., at Thirty-eighth and Santa Fé.

Officers of the Wholesalers' League elected are: W. A. Guthrie, president; Frank Kearns, vice-president; "Red" Perkins, secretary-treasurer.

Two protests were considered by the Valley League last night. The Lions were given the protested game with the P. C. P. Co. team, and will play the Esperanzas at Pasadena March 8 to settle a second dispute. No protests will be allowed in the future.

CINNABAR'S LAST RACE.

Poor Old Nag Breaks Leg on Arcadia Track and Is Shot—Favorites Win Three Events.

One poor, old plug of a horse that the suckers have lost money on a number of times, will not cause any more pangs of regret, for he fell and broke his leg in the fifth race yesterday and was shot. This one was Cinnabar and his death probably was a good thing for the owner, for the beast never came near one-two-three in any of the seven or eight starts he made at the Arcadia race track. His jockey, Vogt, was thrown in the spill, but luckily escaped serious injury.

This was about the only feature of a poor day's racing, for the programme was made up of cheap selling dogs without any class. The first three races were won by nags that were outsiders and the last three went to favorites, but there was so much betting on so many beasts in each race that the "talent" did not carry away any money. Results:

Seven furlongs, selling: Orcagna, 112 (Preston,) 12 to 1, won; Sparkles, 109 (Burns,) 6 to 5, second; Wise Child, 112 (Hayes,) 9 to 2, third. Time, 1:27. Montclair, Belarius, Barney Oldfield, Diamonito, Waldorf and Bonnie Bairn also ran. Harvey Clark and Karoda scratched.

Three and one-half furlongs: Lady Rensselaer, 109 (Rice,) 7 to 1, won; Queen Grove, 105 (Preston,) 4 to 1, second; Antioch, 111 (Dugan,) 3 to 1, third. Time, 0:41. Mattie Russell, Paradise Queen, Frieze, Madeline Musgrave and Marion Delorme also ran. Silk Hose scratched.

Five furlongs, selling: Fair Fagot, 103 (Hayes,) 5 to 1, won; Our Anna, 98 (Callahan,) 15 to 1, second; Dr. Crook, 100 (Shriner,) 7 to 1, third. Time, 1:03 2-5. Playlit, Al Lindley, Audubon, Antigo, Gonzales, Norska, Rosemary D., Royal Ascot, Edna Felice, China Lily and Rubber Boy also ran. Frascuelo scratched.

Six furlongs, selling: McChord, 109 (Taylor,) 4 to 5, won; Prince Frederick, 112 (Rice,) 8 to 1, second; Bauble, 107 (Harty,) 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:15 4-5. Lady Vashti, Virginia Lorraine, Judge Denton, Royal Rogue, The Don, Bird of Passage, Josie Wheeler and Red Thistle also ran. Kuropatkin, Good Player, Talarand, Don Hart and Don Domo scratched.

Mile and one-eighth, selling: Elle, 106 (Goss,) 2 to 1, won; Bonnie Prince Charlie, 106 (Moriarity,) 7 to 2, second; Leash, 105½ (Harty,) 5 to 1, third. Time, 1:54 2-5. Rama, Belasco, Sherry, Col. Jewell, Bejovis, Anvil, Colewort, Cinnabar and E. Primero also ran. Taos, Paul L., Meddling Daisy and Lady Laughter scratched.

Seven furlongs, selling: Toupee, 103 (Shriner,) 2 to 5, won; Canardo, 107 (Dugan,) 3 to 1, second; Daruma, 97 (Rose,) 4 to 1, third. Time, 1:26. Chalfonte, Chippewa, Fisher Boy and Leo Bright also ran. Pal, Mary F. and Killter scratched.

Women's Basketball League Unable to Arrange Games and Resort to Practice.

There is a dearth of dates for the Women's League this season. Los Angeles High School has not entered, both on account of the newness of the basketball material, and because last season's schedule was so heavy that the school authorities would not allow the girls to play in two leagues this year. Last year's team had a record of twenty games.

Ontario and Polytechnic have also withdrawn, and this leaves only U.S.C. and Santa Ana, and Long Beach High Schools. In consequence, the girls will use up their surplus energy and time in playing practice games.

In the league games, only five play on a team, and halves are played, according to the old way, but in the practice games one half will be played with two centers, and one half with only one.

The schedule has so far been arranged as follows:

U.S.C. and Santa Ana, March 7.

Santa Ana and Long Beach, March 4.

Long Beach and U.S.C. April 4.

Water Polo Contest.

The Los Angeles Athletic Club and Bimini water polo teams will play at Bimini Baths tonight. Next Wednesday the same teams will play an exhibition game at Venice. The line-up tonight will be:

Only ten cents a week to keep yourself at your best. To always feel as you feel on your good days. Cascarets ward off all the little ills.

Primitive men did not need Cascarets.

They lived out-doors, ate plenty of fruit, and all of their food was coarse.

We modern people are different.

We exercise too little, eat little fruit; and our food is too fine, too rich.

We can't have the bowels clogged up and keep well.

It means that the food retained there decays. The decay means poisons. And those poisons are sucked into the blood through the ducts intended to suck in the nutriment.

So we must make our choice.

We must live, to an extent, like the primitive man, else we must use Cascarets.

Cascarets do what the right food would do, what plenty of exercise would do.

The effect is as natural from one as the other.

The question is one of convenience.

If you choose Cascarets, take them as you take food. Not as one does rarely, but a tablet at a time.

That is the way to keep well.

Cascarets are candy tablets. They are sold by all druggists, but only in bulk. Be sure to get the genuine, with C C C on every tablet. The price is 50 cents, 25 cents and 10 Cents per Box.

FOR SALE—
ALFALFA LAND WITH FREE WATER.
"Sunset" 9 miles north of Marysville, in Sutter county, where over 6000 tons of alfalfa was produced last summer, and sold at good prices.
THE GREATEST ALFALFA DISTRICT IN THE WEST.
"Sunset" has the land, pure soft irrigation water, R.R. transportation, both electric and steam; creameries, canneries. Packing houses, most beautiful farming district in State; home of the Big Oak Tree. "Sunset" lands, $100 per acre, one-fourth cash, take possession and pay balance in five years.
Plant to Alfalfa—We will furnish you the dairy cows, and you can pay for them from your profits; which would be about $150 per acre each year; over 700 acres now being planted to alfalfa, gardens and fruits; this land planted will increase $50 per acre each year in value, besides the income.
Consider this—Think of the location, the rich land, the abundance of water, the excellent markets, and the Ideal Climate. Talk to Coats about it, he has lived there 20 years, and can tell you from personal knowledge. Write for the "Sunset" Book.

SUSPICION.

TRIO UNDER CLOUD OF PLOT TO ROB.

AN ALLEGED plot to dynamite the safe of the East Hollywood Bank and ransack the postoffice station there led to the arrest of three men last night. Although the men, who are alleged to have planned the burglaries, are in jail, the police refuse to divulge the name of a woman who gave the information against them. It is stated, however, that she will go to the City Jail today and try to identify the men.

The plans of the trio were cleverly laid, the police say, and it is further stated that detectives working on the case have material evidence in hand.

As soon as the police were informed of the scheme, officers were sent to Hollywood to guard the bank and postoffice Wednesday night. Yesterday detectives went carefully over the ground, and it is asserted that important evidence was uncovered.

The men arrested were living in a rooming-house on East Fifth street. They gave the names of Ralph McCabe, Charles Brown and R. H. Hall. McCabe had a revolver and a black silk handkerchief in which eyeholes were cut. Brown also carried a gun. Their rooms were ransacked and a suit case found there was taken to Police Headquarters. What was found in their possession, however, has not been given out.

WOMAN TELLS OF PLOT.

The first information the police had concerning the alleged plot was Tuesday night, when a woman living in a rooming house on East Fifth street said she had overheard the men talking at that place. She gave her name and address and recited what she had heard.

Sheriff Hammel was notified and so were the police at Hollywood. A watch was kept on the bank and postoffice during the remainder of the night. The woman understood that the safe was to be blown open Wednesday, and several officers were detailed to stand guard. The safe-crackers did not appear, however, and the police thought they had been misinformed.

Yesterday the woman went to police headquarters and gave further details of what she had heard, and officers went to Hollywood to investigate. The clerk in charge of the postoffice gave a description of three men who had twice called at the general delivery window during the last three days. It is stated that other evidence was found, but the detectives working on the case refused to talk about it.

SHE POINTS THEM OUT.

The woman indicated the three men to Patrolman R. M. Green, who was detailed to watch for them last night, and they were taken in custody. It is said they answer the description of the men, given by the clerk at the Hollywood postoffice.

The woman said she notified the police of the alleged plan because it might implicate somebody else if it were carried out.

The men were questioned by detectives as soon as they were taken to the Police Station. L. N. Woodward, an employé of the

THE CITY IN BRIEF

A "life-termer!"

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Claims He's Native Born.

Wong Kee Din, a Chinaman ordered deported by Commissioner Van Dyke, filed appeal in the United States District Court yesterday. He claims to be native born.

Woodstock Picnic.

The Woodstock Association of Southern California will hold its annual picnic in Eastlake Park tomorrow. In case of rain the affair will be postponed to Saturday of next week.

Col. Soule Dead.

Los Angeles friends of Col. and Mrs. Ruel W. Soule will be pained to learn of the colonel's death, which occurred after a month's illness at his home in Augusta, Me. Col. and Mrs. Soule had passed four winters in this city, and made many friendships.

Lady Broome Loses.

Lady Frances Broome, who brought suit against McCaleb of Santa Barbara to recover possession of her country home, which had been sold for delinquent street assessments, lost her case in the United States Circuit Court. She probably will appeal to the Circuit Court of Appeals.

Occidental Contest.

The annual home prohibition contest will be held at Occidental College tonight. The speakers will be Geofrey Morgan, Williel Thomson, Charles List and Edmund Pugh. The prizes are $15 and $10 for first and second places, respectively, and the winner will represent Occidental in the contest with Pomona, Whittier and U.S.C. in April.

Lull Funeral Today.

The Automobile Dealers' Association of Southern California will attend the funeral of Linford C. Lull, late vice-president and general manager of the Auto Vehicle Company, this afternoon at 2 o'clock. The members, in twenty automobiles, will leave the Bresee Brothers' chapel after the service and will follow the remains to the grave. Mr. Lull died of heart failure a week ago this morning in Detroit.

Oriental Tour.

Several Los Angeles people are planning to go on a personally-conducted tour of the Orient, to be conducted by Miss C. H. Ober, a professor at the University of Washington, who proposes to start with her party of about twenty persons on the Minnesota, which sails June 2 from Seattle. Last year she had charge of a similar party, and engaged a Japanese professor who gave a number of enlightening lectures at the various points of interest in his country.

Chance Comes Late.

Postmaster Flint yesterday received blank forms for proposals to supply Admiral Evans's fleet with potatoes, onions and flour. As the bids must be in the hands of Pay Inspector Z. W. Reynolds at San Francisco March 2, it is believed too late for local jobbers to compete with northern concerns. The government requires 75,000 pounds of onions, 750,000 pounds of potatoes and 300,000 pounds of flour. These supplies are to be delivered on board the collier Culgoa at San Diego, about March 17.

Michiganders to Meet.

A fair audience of Michigan people assembled at Symphony Hall last evening to participate in a social meeting of Wolverines. Former Judge J. S. Noyes made an address, Mrs. J. J. Morgan gave recitations, Dr. A. J. Scott, former president of the society, reviewed the doings of the organization in past years, and the Y.M.C.A. athletic boys gave an exhibition of their skill. It was voted to meet at Playa del Rey in July, the exact date to be announced later, The meeting wound up with a half hour of dancing.

BREVITIES.

Sunday Real Estate Liners. Classified real estate advertisements for insertion in THE SUNDAY TIMES must be in the office not later than 10:30 o'clock Saturday night. Other "want" advertisements for Sunday insertion taken over the counter until 11:30 p.m. The great volume of liners printed in The Sunday Times, numbering regularly over 5000 separate announcements, makes this regulation absolutely necessary in order to get the big Sunday issue out on time.

TWO MORE "MARTYRS."

Socialist Woman With Baby in Arms Speaks on Street and Is Arrested; Husband Also.

With a babe in her arms, Mrs. Hazel Hubbard mounted a boot-black stand at Winston and Main streets last night to address a gathering of Socialists. She was arrested by Sergt. Adams on the charge of speaking on the street without a permit. Her husband was in the crowd, and rushed to the stand. He declared that the right of free speech had been attacked by the police, and that they ought to defend themselves. Hubbard was arrested, also, and taken to the Police Station. The Socialists' committee furnished $100 bail in each case.

Traffic was blocked on Main street several minutes by the crowd of Socialists and labor unionites. They hissed and shouted when the police arrested the speakers, and with some difficulty the meeting was broken up.

SUICIDE HAS MONEY.

Over Two Hundred Dollars Found in Pockets of Man Who Kills Himself in San Diego.

A dispatch received by The Times last night from San Diego said that the body of a man about 30 years old was found in a Fourth-street lodging-house there yesterday. He had committed suicide by taking carbolic acid. He arrived there from Los Angeles a day or two before. On a paper that lay near the body was written:

"Notify Mr. McDonald, No. 111 West Ninth street, Los Angeles, that Morris Gotthiel is dead and to come to San Diego and have him buried in Jewish Cemetery." Nearly $250 was found in the dead man's pocket.

An effort was made to find Mr. McDonald in this city, but he had recently moved, and the search for him failed. He is manager for the Heilbonner Furniture Company of the address given.

Handsome new Los Angeles-Pacific passenger station, excavation for which was started yesterday.

SWIFT.

FINE STATION READY SOON.

Los Angeles-Pacific Rushes Work on New Depot.

Hill Street Terminal in Use Within a Month.

Increased Facilities Planned For Heavy Traffic.

Excavation began yesterday for the foundations of an ornate and commodious new passenger station for the Los Angeles-Pacific Railroad Company on its extensive depot grounds on the west side of Hill street, between Fourth and Fifth. Work on the building is to go forward with a rush, and the contractors agree to have it ready to accommodate the jam of passengers attending the visit of Admiral Evans and his battleships at the various Los Angeles ports. It even is predicted that the station will be ready for use within thirty days, when it is expected that the broad-gauging of the Sixteenth-street tracks to the beach will have been completed.

While this is to be but a temporary structure, to be used only until the company builds the immense station projected for the present site of the old Masonic Temple, it is to combine architectural beauty with utility, and, if necessary, can be used for many years.

The building will occupy an area approximately 80x319 feet, extending through from Hill to Olive street. It will be mission in outline, and will afford ample accommodation for hundreds of passengers, while the tracks at the side will give room at one time for at least two of the three-car trains that the company proposes to run as soon as the work of broadening the gauge of its tracks is completed.

The site of the station is just north of the Masonic Temple and south of the old automobile garage near Fourth street, which is owned by the railroad company, but which is not to be disturbed at present, there being ample room for the station as now projected without razing this building.

As planned, the new station will be of brick and steel, a story and a half in height. The lower floor will be used for waiting-rooms and ticket offices, while the half-story above will give room for company officials. Hunt & Eager are the architects.

Later, when the great new terminal station shall be built, it is possible that the structure now going up will be used as a freight or express depot, or it may be removed entirely to make room for tracks.

When the new station goes into use, the old quarters on Fourth street, between Hill and Broadway, will be abandoned. The facilities at this terminal long have been inadequate to care for the traffic; it has been necessary to switch cars in the street, and there always has been more or less delay in loading and unloading passengers and dispatching trains. The change will make a great difference in traffic conditions on Fourth street, a thoroughfare too narrow even for automobiles and horse-drawn vehicles, to say nothing of the hundreds of street cars that now use the street.

It is planned, when the new station is ready for use, to carry trains in from Hill street on tracks running between the main body of the depot and an artistic arcade which will cover a broad cement walk. Two trains of three cars each may stand at the side of the station at the same time, one discharging and the other loading passengers. Incoming passengers will alight at the long, covered platform north of the station, and outgoing travelers will board trains from the main building. All will be under shelter when taking or leaving the trains.

In addition to the track room immediately north of the depot, there will be long storage tracks and ample switch yards on the station property, so that cars may enter and turn promptly without interfering with street traffic. No stops will be made at the Hill-street front of the building.

One of the main reasons for rushing this temporary station to completion is the fact that trains of the new broad-gauge cars could not be handled in the cramped quarters on Fourth street. Besides, the present station of the company long has been inadequate and immediate relief is demanded.

IN BEAUTY'S PRESENCE.

Lad Kicked in Face by Jealous Rival While Showing Off Before Little Maid.

Adam Kuymatan of No. 609½ North Bunker Hill street was painfully injured yesterday morning when a companion kicked him in the face and almost dislocated his jaw.

The boy had been dazzling the children of the neighborhood by gymnastic feats. His chief performance was standing on his head. He did the trick well and often.

Yesterday, while performing his stunt for the edification of a good-looking little girl, he came to grief; a jealous companion kicked him in the face. The youthful athlete will have a disfigured visage for some time.

HEN FIRED BY POWDER.

Vegetable Compound Will, It Is Claimed, Confound the Real Layer.

"Biddy" may as well "quit" her cackling and retire beneath the roost. She's a back number, like the old "hand-set" printer.

There's an old saying that "eggs is eggs." They aren't. They're vegetable compound, and arrangements have been made to manufacture them in Los Angeles.

This new product is nothing like the desiccated affair that made its appearance in the heyday of the Klondike boom, and which came to a frozen end somewhere between Hootalinqua and Dawson.

This new "hen fruit" is declared to equal the fresh egg for all purposes, and it can be placed on the market at a price which will compel the real eggs to come down to 7 cents a dozen if they are to compete with it.

If that price doesn't make the prize Plymouth Rocks, Minorcas and Rhode Island Reds hang their diminished heads in shame, it will play "the deuce and all" with the poultry ranches.

The housekeeper, of course, will say it's too good to be true, but a company has been formed to manufacture these vegetable eggs here, and expects to supply the trade within a few months. It is investing $35,000 in special patented machinery, which makes it look bad for the barnyard ladies.

LIBRARY BUILDING LIKELY.

Highland Park Losing Present Quarters, but Generous Offer Made If People Co-operate.

The patrons of the Highland Park library are exercised over the prospect of the loss of its present quarters at Pasadena avenue and Avenue 50. The building was erected by Charles M. Stimson in 1904-5 at an approximate cost of $20,000, and donated to Occidental College and Highland Park. In a small corner room on the main floor a branch of the Los Angeles public library has been maintained for the use of the Highland Park people. So cramped is the space that when a few new volumes were at long intervals doled out to it, a corresponding number of the few hundred the shelves accommodated had to be removed to make room for them. "A poor place—but mine own," murmured the patron, looking for the book that was never there when he could get in, for it was claimed that the library was not sufficiently patronized to justify the expense of keeping it open save at intervals, and especially was this said of the children's department.

The first of this month the president of Occidental notified the city librarian that the space occupied by the branch library is needed by the college, and that it must be vacated within the month. The less than thirty days allowed was too short a time in which to find suitable quarters available, and the indications are that the books will have to be brought back to the city.

Though Garvanza has a good library of its own, some of the people of that suburb favor the erection of a joint library building at New York street and Pasadena avenue, on a lot now filled in from the grading of New York street, a location about equidistant from the best populated parts of the two places. It is in a sparsely settled neighborhood, and the streets leading to it from both Highland Park and Garvanza are in anything but an attractive condition. The superintendent of branches reported favorable to this plan.

It is understood, however, that Mr. Stimson has generously volunteered to aid in the erection of a suitable Highland Park library building if the people there will coöperate. Most of the patrons of the library, who are able to back their opinions financially, and have expressed themselves, appear to favor the location of the building somewhere in the vicinity of Pasadena avenue and Avenues 56 and 57.

SWITCH ENGINE KILLS.

San Pedro Man With Money in Bank Here, Steps Into Death's Way.

Pierre Quieto, aged 60 years, was killed by a Southern Pacific switch engine yesterday afternoon at Alameda and Ducommon streets. His body was taken to the Bresee morgue, where an inquest will be held today.

According to witnesses, Quieto stepped in the way of the engine, which was backing. Engineer Albert Porter applied the brakes and blew the whistle. Before Quieto could leap from the track he was struck and dragged several feet. A letter and a bank book, which showed that he had $200 deposited in this city, give his address as San Pedro.

STARTLING DECISION.

RAISES HOPE OF SLAYERS.

Reversal in Besold Case May Free Many Felons.

District Attorney Takes It to Supreme Court.

Contends Appellate Justice Is in the Wrong.

Meskil, the murderer of Patrolman Lyons, may be saved from hanging by the decision of Appellate Justice Allen in the Besold murder case.

So many convicted murderers may escape through this decision that the District Attorney is hurriedly preparing a petition to the Supreme Court, asking for a rehearing and review of Justice Allen's decision. Unless he succeeds, there will be a wholesale rehearing of all murder cases.

The instruction declared faulty by the Court of Appeal was, as a matter of fact, one of the stock printed instructions given in nearly all murder trials. It was in the nature of a definition of the different varieties and grades of killing.

The Court of Appeal declared in effect that the instruction given by Judge Smith invaded the province of the jury; that it virtually declared the defendant to have been present and to have done the killing. Hence that it attempted to establish a matter of fact; not of law.

The District Attorney's office argues that the instruction given is sound law and cites a yard of authorities to controvert Justice Allen's opinion.

If the Supreme Court grants the District Attorney's petition for a rehearing, the Besold case will be held in abeyance. The appeal of Besold will be then taken before the Supreme Court exactly as though the appeal from the Superior Court had just been taken.

In the event of Justice Allen being sustained, Besold will have another trial before a jury in the Superior Court, and all the testimony will be threshed out again.

If the Supreme Court overrules Justice Allen, Besold's life sentence will stand.

Meanwhile, criminal lawyers are rushing for the criminal courts to find out how many murder cases this same instruction figured in. They presume that, to be logical, the Court of Appeal will grant new trials to every murderer in whose trial this instruction figured.

In order to save time, all District Attorneys have reduced to printing some of the old reliable instructions they intend to ask the judge to give in behalf of the prosecution. This in the Besold case was one of the faithful old truisms relied upon.

In case new trials should be granted to the men now doing time in State's prison for murder, many of them would go free. It would be impossible to collect the scattered witnesses who testified at the first trials.

WAR NEWSBOY DEAD.

Brother of Local Veteran and Noted Character in Great Conflict, Passes in East.

Through the death recently at Milwaukee, Wis., of the "newsboy of the Army of the Potomac," the memories of hundreds of Civil War veterans now in and around Los Angeles will revert to one of the youthful characters of that bloody conflict—Cullen B. Aubery—who, too young to enlist, made a living for his mother and himself by selling newspapers to the soldiers. He was a brother of James M. Aubery of this city, himself a veteran, now president of the American Railway Axle Company of Los Angeles.

Cullen Aubery, denied the privilege of enlisting because of his youth, ran away from his Vermont home in the early days of the great conflict and went to the front, where he engaged in selling newspapers to the soldiers, becoming known as "Doc" Aubery. Later he was captured by a guerrilla band and was sent to Libby Prison, where he spent several months, resuming his old vocation upon his release. For many years after the close of the war he was employed in Milwaukee, and was a foremost figure in conducting the recurring celebrations of the birthdays of Gen. Edward S. Bragg, commander of the "Iron Brigade."

Aubery was the author of "Recollections of a Newsboy in the Army of the Potomac, 1861-5," and made a valuable collection of war relics. His father and an elder brother died in California during the early days of the gold rush.

MICHIGAN SOCIETY EXPANDS.

At a meeting of the Michigan Society last night at Symphony Hall, it was decided to enlarge the scope of the organization by making it embrace Southern California as well as this city. Hereafter members will be admitted from all sections of this part of the State. It already has a membership of 2200, and with a little canvassing, it is expected that several hundred new members will be secured in a short time. Previous to the business session, a squad of Y.M.C.A. athletes gave an acrobatic exhibition. J. S. Noyes gave an address, and Mrs. Morgan read several selections.

COMING BACK FULL.

But of Information, Says Wiggins, as the Excursion to Imperial Valley Leaves.

"Good-by. When we get back, we will be full—of information." These were the parting words of Secretary Frank Wiggins last night as he stood on the rear platform of the Chamber of Commerce special to Imperial, as it pulled slowly out of the Arcade station. One hundred and fifty enthusiastic boosters were on the train which one of the party dubbed the "Skiddoo Special" for as he explained, "This trip cost us each just $23."

Owing to systematic distribution of sections, each member of the party easily found his own berth and there was not the confusion that generally accompanies the departure of a large excursion train.

It left promptly at 8:30 o'clock. It will arrive this morning at Brawley, where carriages will be in waiting to carry the visitors about that section of the valley. At noon the Angelenos will reach Imperial, where another drive will be taken. This evening, the citizens of El Centro will give them a reception. Tomorrow morning will be spent at Calexico. At noon the visitors will reach El Centro on the return trip, and there, W. F. Holt of Holtville will take the excursionists to the latter town over the Interurban Railroad. The festivities will be wound up at Imperial tomorrow night. The excursionists will then seek their berths and will awaken in Los Angeles Sunday morning.

FINALLY AT ITS END.

Federal Judge to Decide This Morning in Contempt Case Against Desser and Lifrand.

After dragging through the Federal Court for months, the contempt proceedings against Jacob Desser and Louis Lifrand, who are accused of fraudulently concealing goods prior to going into bankruptcy, came to an end in the United States District Court yesterday afternoon. Judge Wellborn announced that he will render a decision this morning.

Concluding arguments were made by Attorney Craig, who represents the Board of Trade, and Attorney Bowen of counsel for the two defendants.

The court stated that he had given more time to the case than it apparently merited, but he was desirous of getting all the light possible on the situation before passing judgment. If he sustains the opinion of Referee in Bankruptcy Helm, the two partners will go to jail for several months.

When the firm of Desser & Lifrand, formerly in the dry goods business on Central avenue, filed a petition in bankruptcy, the creditors were astonished, as a few months previously the firm had issued a statement showing the assets to be about $8000 and debts were nominal. The firm failed for $15,000. A searching examination by representatives of the creditors apparently disclosed that $9000 worth of goods was missing.

After an examination before Referee Helm that lasted for weeks, the referee ordered the bankrupts to turn over to the trustee approximately $9000 worth of goods. The debtors refused, and were cited for contempt.

DAY OF TRUNK SHAKE-UPS.

Proprietor of Three Stores Forced Into Bankruptcy, and Pioneer Sells His Business.

T. L. Caroe, trunk manufacturer and retail dealer, with stores at Nos. 311 and 349 South Spring street, and No. 425 South Broadway, has been forced into bankruptcy by his creditors, with debts approximating $12,000. Fixtures and stock on hand are valued at about $6000.

W. H. Holmes, P. Lazarus & Co., and the Los Angeles Saddlery and Finding Company, local creditors, filed an involuntary bankruptcy petition in the United States District Court yesterday. At their request, H. B. Rossiter, secretary of the Wholesalers' Board of Trade, was appointed receiver, with bonds of $10,000.

Caroe's failure is attributed to his desire to branch out in his business. He was apparently prospering in his first Spring-street store, but became involved soon after opening two other stores.

Yesterday was a day of shake-ups in the trunk business, apparently. J. C. Cunningham sold his trunk factory and stock to Fred J. Whitney. Cunningham is the pioneer trunk maker of Los Angeles.

TRAILING SUPERVISORS.

Large Representation on Petition Backing up Request for Money to Repair Mt. Wilson Trail.

The old trail up Mt. Wilson, which has been climbed for generations by seekers after exercise and wonderful views, as well as health, is in bad condition and needs repairs, according to a petition filed with the Board of Supervisors by much of the voting population of Sierra Madre and a slice of Pasadena, as well as other favored spots.

The petition accentuates with the board the necessity of keeping the old trail in condition for use, and asks that sufficient money be donated to put and keep the trail in repair. No mention is made of the new and rival private right of way trail.

There are spots on the old trail up Mt. Wilson which are often dangerous after a heavy rain, when earth or rocks are washed down, or washouts threatened. To keep the trail clear and in good repair is the object of the petition which will be considered by the Supervisors at their next meeting.

WHERE?

DEEDED AWAY HER INFANT.

Gift Baby Now Grown up and Seeks Parents.

Given to Friends by Mother Twenty Years Ago.

Local Records Do not Tell of Transaction.

Somewhere in this world, and possibly in Los Angeles, is the father or mother of young William Henry Dixon of Dallas, Tex., and he is anxious to hear from them or either of them. For twenty years they have kept a silence that might well have been of the grave, yet no intimation has come to him that they are dead.

It was nearly twenty years ago, and when Dixon was less than 2 months old, that his mother, who was only 19 years of age, signed a deed of gift to Mr. and Mrs. Michael C. Tebo of her baby. The infant was at that time given to Mr. and Mrs. Tebo, and the mother disappeared.

Frederick F. Dixon, once of Chicago, is the father of the young man who hopes to hear that somewhere in the world he has a parent living. Frederick F. Dixon came to Los Angeles in 1883 and visited a sister living here, but from that day to this, if still living, has never known that he has a son who is alive.

Dixon deserted his wife when their baby was a week old, in Chicago. As soon as possible after the desertion Mrs. Dixon came to Los Angeles with her baby and instituted a search for the recreant husband and father. She found his sister, but the latter refused to give the forlorn wife any information. The family had been opposed to his marriage.

While in this city the young mother had been befriended by the Tebos, and when her funds gave out and she was in despair of ever seeing her husband again, she decided to give her darling away. It was for his own sake she acted.

HEARS OF REAL MOTHER.

Shortly afterward the Tebos moved to Texas, and William Henry Dixon grew up and thrived, believing all the time that he was the son of his foster parents.

But one day last November he was told the truth, and there was placed in his hands the legal-cap sheet of paper upon which was written in faded writing the story of his birth and the deed of gift of the "infant child, William Henry Dixon."

It is not with any idea that there may be an estate waiting for a claimant, nor is it with the purpose of forcing himself upon the father who so heartlessly deserted him, nor the mother who gave him away, that Dixon seeks after knowledge of his parents.

This deed of gift is headed: "In the Superior Court of Los Angeles County," but there is no record of the paper having been filed in the office of the County Clerk; neither is there any record of a divorce having been granted at any time in this county to his father or mother.

After making over her baby to Mr. and Mrs. Tebo, "the same to all intents and purposes as if he was their own child," Mrs. Dixon tells why she had to do it. She says:

WHY HE WAS GIVEN.

"I further certify and declare that I am 19 years of age, and the wife of Frederick F. Dixon. That I was married to him on the 22nd day of December, 1887, at the city of Chicago, in the State of Illinois. That about six weeks ago my husband left me in Chicago penniless and destitute, without money and without friends, with this little boy, who was then only a week old. He is now not quite two months old.

"I have followed my husband to the city of Los Angeles. I have called upon his sister here to ascertain his whereabouts, but have got no satisfaction from her, and I am satisfied from her actions and my husband's conduct that he does not intend to live with me again, and, thrown as I am upon a strange community without any means of support, I am compelled to place my child in the hands of those who can care for him and I therefore consent that the within-named Michael C. and Nancy Tebo may adopt said child, in the belief that it will be properly cared for by them."

The mother then proceeds to stipulate that if ever the father shall find the whereabouts of his little son and seek to gain possession of him, his foster parents shall hold possession until the father has paid them at the rate of $15 a week for their care of William Henry for every week he has been in their possession.

Whatever became of the despairing young woman, or if she again met the husband who deserted her, whether the father ever heard that he has a son living—these are things which the foster parents could not tell the young man when he read the story of how and why he was given away, and his heart yearns for the lonely mother he would be glad to know and love.

Dixon is anxious to hear from his parents, or from some one who knew them and can give information of them. A letter to the young man in the care of Mrs. M. C. Tebo, Dallas, Tex., will reach him.

In the local courts there is nothing which will give a clew to Mr. or Mrs. Dixon, and whether they are alive or dead.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Tax Collector yesterday sent out notices calling for the payment of the property owners' part of the downtown lighting system.

The Civil Service Commission announces a series of examinations for applicants for city jobs.

The Clarence-street sewer assessments were approved by the Board of Public Works yesterday.

Judge James yesterday heard evidence in the suit of Charles F. Schroeder against his father, Charles Schroeder to gain title to real estate, for an accounting of proceeds and an accounting of their partnership affairs.

Justice Selph yesterday dismissed the charge of obtaining money by false pretenses made against Harry Wilson by Mrs. S. R. Floyd.

Judge Hutton heard evidence in F. W. Cain's suit against J. R. Lane to recover $5500 commission alleged to be due on a financial deal.

Judge Conrey denied a motion that he instruct the jury to acquit D. J. Lewis, accused of illegal registration at Ocean Park, for lack of evidence. Arguments before the jury will be concluded this morning. The court appointed James G. Scarborough as prosecutor in the contempt proceedings against two deputies of the District Attorney, and will hear arguments on the matter this morning.

Justice Summerfield yesterday took under advisement evidence in J. O'Donnell's suit against C. G. Grider for $300, allegedly due for training the race horse "Arrowmaker."

Louis Willey, alias "The Rabbit," who escaped from the County Jail Wednesday, was recaptured yesterday.

The Abbot Kinney Company filed an injunction suit in the Superior Court against the Ocean Park city officials to prevent enforcement of the anti-tent ordinance, saying it is unconstitutional.

AT THE CITY HALL.

GUESSING AT THE RATES.

IRATE CITIZEN WANTS TO BUY 'PHONE BUSINESS.

Bills for the Fancy Lights in Business Zone of City Sent Out Yesterday—Heavy Assessment for Clarence Street Sewer System—City Jobs Coming.

The main subject for speculation about the City Hall yesterday was as to what the City Council will do on Monday, with reference to rates for the public utilities. Almost every man and woman in the city is a user of gas, electric light or telephone, and there is a deep interest in the subject.

Some members of the City Council were said to be at work yesterday on a plan for raising the rates of both telephone companies to $2.50 per month, for residence phones, but nobody believes they can do it. Councilman Dromgold is in favor of scaling the Sunset rate down to $2 a month, to correspond with the Home rate, but several Councilmen said the probability is that there will be no change whatever.

An irate citizen stamped around the City Hall yesterday hunting for a Councilman or anybody else who is in favor of raising the telephone rates. He said he was ready to organize a company and buy them out on the basis of paying them 8 per cent. per annum for their investment and take the business off their hands. He wanted to see the Mayor, and when told that Mr. Harper was out of town, went away declaring that he would see him as soon as he came back. Just what he thought the Mayor had to do with it is not clear.

FOR LIGHTING.

FOURTH STREET COMING IN.

Tax Collector Johnson yesterday began sending out the notices to business men and residents of the ornamental light zone for the year's lighting bill. It averages about 5 cents per month, per front foot, or 60 cents per foot for the year. The notices for the payment of the assessment for the proposed lighting of Fourth street, from Main to Hill, on the same plan, were also mailed yesterday. The system of posts and wiring will cost the property owners $1.75 per front foot.

CIVIL SERVICE JOBS.

COMPETITIVE EXAMINATIONS.

The Civil Service Commission announces a series of examinations for applicants for city jobs, that will no doubt attract a large number of men.

The first will be held in the Grand-avenue school building at 9 o'clock a.m., Saturday, March 7, for City Hall guide; draftsmen, engineer and aqueduct departments; deputy Assessor, Tax Collector and clerk. On Saturday, March 14, at the same place, and same hour, for draftsmen for engineer and aqueduct departments; carpenter, school department; boiler inspector, cement inspector. On Saturday, March 21, same time and place, for carpenter, water department; messenger, aqueduct department; foreman, pipe fitter, aqueduct department; inspector of animal slaughter, health department. On Saturday, March 28, same time and place, voucher clerk, aqueduct department; time and warehouse keeper, aqueduct department; boseman, fire department.

The examinations will include tests in reading, writing, spelling, arithmetic, knowledge of the duties of the several positions named, general and specific experience tending to fit the applicant for such position; physical health; muscular strength; soundness and acuteness of faculties; personal habits; moral character and such qualifications as will fairly attest the capacity of persons examined to discharge the duties of positions which they seek. Applicants must appear in person at the office of the Civil Service Commission not less than eight days before the date fixed for the examination, and file, under oath, an application in form prescribed by the Commission, blanks for which will be furnished on request.

CITY HALL BRIEFS.

FIREMEN WANT TO KNOW.

At the meeting of the Fire Commission yesterday, notice was received from the Civil Service Board that the application for reinstatement of Hoseman George Urick and H. E. Boesch was denied. Commissioners McGarry and Koeff were appointed a committee to learn why. They may not publish the reply.

The killing of a fire horse and the injury of another, some days ago, when they collided on Bellevue avenue, will be investigated at the next meeting of the Fire Commission.

Building Superintendent Bacchus says that there is a large increase in the number of building permits issued, as compared with the same time last month, and the buildings are of much greater average value. He remarked with pleasure yesterday that building operations are picking up very rapidly.

A conference will be held in the office of the Mayor this morning to consider the question of location of flower vendors on the streets. The permanent dealers are stirring the question up, but people who buy flowers and are satisfied with the opportunity of buying them at one-fourth the price asked for them by the stores, will be at the conference to plead for more street vendors instead of fewer.

SEWER ASSESSMENT.

CLARENCE-STREET DISTRICT.

The assessment for the Clarence-street sewer district was completed yesterday and delivered to the Board of Public Works by Clerk Palomares of the street department. It is a big district, in which will be collected from the property-holders over $24,000. The report was signed by the officers of the board, and it was delivered to the contractor for the work, whose business it is to collect the several amounts assessed against the property in the district. Work will be commenced on the sewer at once.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

SON ATTACKS FATHER'S WORD.

VALUABLE LAND IS CAUSE OF A BITTER FAMILY FEUD.

Parent Schemed to Get Property Away from Sick Son, Latter Says, and Then Broke His Word, After Trust Deed Had Been Given Under Shadow of Death.

"My father said to me, 'If you die, your wife will probably get married again to some drunken Irishman and blow in all your money, so you had better give me a deed to it,'" testified Charles F. Schroeder in Judge James's court yesterday, in telling his side of his dispute with his parent over six acres of land on Pico-street extension, which the younger Schroeder charges his father with trying to acquire fraudulently.

"I was sick, and thought I would die, so I gave father a trust deed, on the understanding that when he had realized enough from it to pay off my debt to him and the $1000 mortgage that I authorized him to place on the land, he would devote all other proceeds from it to my family, if I should die. He was to turn the land over to me, after payment of my debt to him, should I recover. Now he denies my right to the property."

Schroeder asks that the court confirm his right to the land, which was bought in April, 1906, for $1600, and on which the elder Schroeder has now given an option of sale to David Fulcks at $3000 cash and $15,000 on a ten-year note. He also asks that his father account for royalties from the sale of brick clay on the place under a five-year lease to R. B. Hubbard.

Under the name of Schroeder & Son, the plaintiff and defendant engaged in the brickmaking business on the property, and the son asks a dissolution of the partnership and an accounting, as he charges his father with violations of the agreement.

The elder Schroeder denies all the charges of his son, and asserts that he never dealt fraudulently by him.

NEARLY ENDED.

LEWIS CASE FOR JURY.

After closing arguments by E. A. Meserve for the defense, and Chief Deputy District Attorney Hartley Shaw for the people, have been made this morning, the case against David J. Lewis, accused of illegal registration at the Ocean Park election, will go to the jury.

No evidence was introduced in behalf of Lewis after the prosecution closed its case yesterday noon, but the attorneys for the defense moved the court to instruct the jury to bring in a verdict of acquittal on the ground of insufficient evidence. Judge Conrey denied this motion, after lengthy argument, but ordered struck out all the prosecution's evidence of Wednesday that Lewis had not occupied the Hotel Decatur room during December. This order was made because of gaps in the hotel's card system of charging rooms.

John D. Johnson, Lewis's negro porter, arrested on a bench warrant Tuesday afternoon for failure to appear as a witness, told Judge Conrey yesterday that he was in attendance at the Courthouse, but got into the grand jury room by mistake. He testified that during July and through September last he worked about the premises, No. 850 San Julian street, three times weekly under Lewis's orders. Thomas O. Evans, proprietor of the Hotel Decatur, testified that he never saw Lewis about his hotel last September, and that Lewis never paid any bill there. C. G. Taylor, a bellboy, said he never saw Lewis about the hotel then.

Opening arguments were made by Deputy District Attorney G. Ray Horton for the prosecution, and by John G. Mott for the defense. The latter had not finished when court adjourned.

Judge Conrey announced yesterday morning that he had appointed James G. Scarborough, of Scarborough & Bowen, and a member of the Grievance Committee of the Los Angeles Bar Association, to act as prosecutor in the contempt proceedings brought against two deputies of the District Attorney G. Ray Horton by the attorneys for the men accused of election frauds.

Asst. Dist. Atty. McComas stated that the District Attorney would at once serve Mr. Scarborough with the demurrers of his accused deputies, and Judge Conrey set the hearing on the contempt charges for this morning at 9 o'clock. E. W. Britt was not appointed prosecutor, as he informed the court that business engagements would not permit him or W. J. Hunsaker to undertake the prosecution.

The court continued the trial of T. F. Thompson to March 2; of C. B. Daniels to March 4, and Tom Mack to March 16.

TRAINER SUES.

OWNER DENIES SALARY CHARGE.

Another chapter in the contention over the race horse "Arrowmaker" was opened in Justice Summerfield's court yesterday, when J. O'Donnell, trainer of the horse from December 3, last, sued C. C. Grider, alleged owner, for $300, alleged to be due for services.

"My agreement with O'Donnell was solely to bet $200 on the horse when it was in proper racing condition," said Grider. "I was to divide half the proceeds with him if the horse won. If it lost, O'Donnell was to get nothing. The horse was not in proper racing condition when O'Donnell entered him at Santa Anita race track, and I then refused to pay the jockey fees and scratched him. I agreed to pay training bills and incidental expenses, but not a stated sum to O'Donnell."

Early in February Grider caused the arrest of O'Donnell and G. H. Mires, alleged owner of the horse, on a charge of stealing it from the Santa Anita stables, but the case was dismissed, as the ownership was not established. Justice Summerfield took under advisement the evidence in O'Donnell's suit.

RECAPTURED.

"RABBIT" RETURNED TO JAIL.

Crouched on the water box of a toilet in a dark bathroom of a house at No. 1322 Channing street, Louis Willey, known as "The Rabbit," who escaped from the County Jail Tuesday afternoon, was found yesterday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff W. T. Woods, who drew his gun on him and ordered him to surrender. Willey gave himself up without resistance, and was taken back to the County Jail.

Sheriff Hammel received a telephone message yesterday afternoon that Willey was in hiding at No. 1322 Channing street, and, with Deputy Sheriffs Woods, Mathewson, Aguirre and Crowley, went to the place at once. As Deputy Sheriff Woods was searching the bathroom he heard a slight noise over his head, and found Willey crouching above him and clinging to a beam for support.

Willey, who was taken to the County Jail from the City Jail Tuesday afternoon, after his arrest on a charge of holding up a Chinaman near Florence, explained his escape by saying that as he was being taken to his cell by the jailer, he slipped behind, mixed with the stream of visitors passing out of the jail and got away. He spent the night in a box car, and later took refuge where he was found. Sheriff Hammel offered $50 reward for Willey's recapture, but the name of the informant has not been disclosed.

CAIN WANTS TO RAISE.

SAYS HE PROMOTED DEAL.

That J. R. Lane of the J. R. Lane Dry Goods Company has refused to pay F. W. Cain $5500 commission for carrying on negotiations by which Murphy, Grant & Co., San Francisco, were led to invest $110,000 in the dry goods business of Crandall and Lane in February, 1905, was Cain's testimony before Judge Hutton yesterday when his suit to recover the sum came to trial.

Cain said that in September, 1904, Lane told him that unless he could get a large amount of money for the business it would go to the wall, and he signed an agreement to pay Cain 5 per cent. commission on any price up to $125,000 that he could secure for the business, offering him as a bonus all he could secure over that sum. Cain asserted that through his efforts, Murphy, Grant & Co. invested in the business, yet Lane refused to pay the commission.

Lane denies absolutely that Murphy, Grant & Co. were induced to advance funds through Cain's efforts, says he did not make the alleged written agreement and that the commission is not due. The trial will continue this morning.

ASKS INJUNCTION.

TENT CITY IS IMPERILED.

That George M. Jones, president of the Board of City Trustees of Ocean Park, has stated to different persons that he will shed the last drop of his blood before he will let up on Abbott Kinney, that the Ocean Park City Trustees are all his creatures, appointed by him, and that Jones has done everything possible to the detriment of Venice because he is interested in Ocean Park real estate on the Santa Monica side of town, are charges made in an injunction suit filed yesterday by the Abbott Kinney Company in the Superior Court against the City Trustees and officials of Ocean Park.

The court is asked to permanently enjoin the officials from prosecuting the forty-seven suits now pending against the Abbott Kinney Company for failure to remove as many tent houses from Venice, and from enforcing the anti-tent ordinances of July, 1904, and January, 1908, which Kinney says are unconstitutional.

The complaint states that the Venice tent houses are sanitary, safe, necessary and properly protected against fire, that permits for the erection of tents in other parts of Ocean Park have been issued by the city officials, and that the attempt to do away with Venice tent houses is dictated by personal motives and not by consideration for the welfare of the city.

PROMOTER FREED.

COMPLAINANT MADE MISTAKE.

"It might be well to investigate this matter with a view to determining whether perjury has been committed," was Justice Selph's comment yesterday in dismissing the case against Harry Wilson, a mining promoter, brought from Oakland Monday to answer a charge of obtaining $5000 by false pretenses from Mrs. S. R. Floyd, who invested the money in his Mexican mining venture in January, 1907.

Deputy District Attorney Donnell stated in court yesterday morning when Wilson appeared to have his trial set, that Mrs. Floyd had visited the District Attorney's office the day before and informed him that she had acted under a misapprehension in swearing to a complaint, and wished the charge dismissed, as she was satisfied Wilson had not dealt improperly by her. Justice Selph then dismissed the charge against Wilson.

"The woman acted without a full knowledge of the facts," said Maj. Donnell. 'She told me that after the arrest was made she learned other facts that put a different face on matters. She was not actuated by criminal intent."

"I do not blame Mrs. Floyd," said Wilson. "She was misled by others and I intend to proceed against Attorney James H. Creely of Oakland, counsel for the San José Mining and Reduction Company, against which company I have brought an injunction suit which was to have been heard in Oakland Monday. Creely came to Los Angeles last week, and I am informed was the person who gave Mrs. Floyd the false information on which she acted.

"If it is true that Creely gave Mrs. Floyd the information which led to my arrest, I interpret it as a dodge on his part to frustrate my litigation against his client, and I shall ask for his disbarment. I leave for Oakland tonight.

"I organized the San José Mining and Reduction Company last September to finance and take over a rich mine in Sonora, Mex., which has been worked for 400 years. Mrs. Floyd got an eighth interest in the mine. Now an attempt is being made by other directors to freeze me out by fraud, and I have brought suit to dissolve the corporation."

"I received no information directly or indirectly from Mr. Creely," said Mrs. Floyd last evening. "I got information from other sources. I had heard nothing from Mr. Wilson for a long time, and I thought that I had lost my money, so I made complaint."

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

ASK INJUNCTION. Asking that the court enjoin the Board of Public Works and city of Los Angeles from opening Grand avenue from Temple street to California street, C. E. Stoner and over twenty other property owners in the district filed suit yesterday in the Superior Court. They say the law was not compiled with in the proceedings to open the street, and that their protests were overridden without right.

CHARGES FRAUD. Charging that through a fraudulent report issued by the directors of the Salt Lake Oil Company in October, 1904, he was led to dispose of his holdings of 1834 shares for $13 a share less than their real value, Isaac Wolf yesterday filed suit in the Superior Court against J. E. Bamburger, J. D. Wood and others to recover $23,842.

TO ENJOIN BANK. Asking that the United States National Bank of Portland, Or., be enjoined from collecting a $2000 judgment secured against him in the Superior Court last year for the alleged benefit of Caples Brothers. Portland, J. H. Waddingham yesterday filed suit in the Superior Court. He also asks $3240 damages of Caples Brothers for alleged failure to conform to the terms of a contract for the supply of merchandise.

CHARGES INJURY. Stating that she received incurable internal injuries August 15 last on Temple street, when a car collided with a load of hay, Mrs. Dora R. Housel yesterday filed a $5707 damage suit in the Superoir Court against the Los Angeles Inter-Urban Railway Company.

GUILTY. With a recommendation to mercy, the jury in the case of Mrs. Anna Barnett, a negress, charged with assault with a deadly weapon on Mrs. Bergie Morris, another negress, December 16 last, brought in a verdict of guilty yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Barnett will be sentenced this morning.

DISMISSED. At the District Attorney's request, Judge Smith yesterday dismissed the charge of raising a $1 clearinghouse certificate to $10 brought against Gilbert E. Collins, as new evidence has been discovered which is alleged to implicate Collins's brother. It is stated that a new complaint will be drawn to include both.

DIVORCE CONTESTED. Judge Crow yesterday began hearing evidence in the contested suit of Mrs. Ruth E. King, who seeks to divorce Elmer E. King on grounds of cruelty. Mrs. King charges her husband with beating and striking her, calling her vile names, and constantly attacking her character, as well as denying the paternity of their child. King accuses his wife of misconduct with different men.

GETS DAMAGES. Justice Selph yesterday awarded H. C. Pfuhl $75 damages in his $250 damage suit against the Pacific Electric Railway Company for being ejected forcibly from a Long Baech car last August, after he had been given a transfer to the car by the conductor of another car, which was going to the barns. It was held that negligence was shown by the conductor of the car giving the transfer.

UNDER BOND. John Buchanan was placed under $200 bond yesterday by Justice Summerfield. He was arrested for threatening to assault a woman of his acquaintance.

WILL FILED. Over $8000 is left to the Barlow Sanitarium of Los Angeles, and $1000 to the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society of the Protestant Episcopal Church, by the will of Miss Ella E. Dickinson, filed for probate in the Superior Court yesterday by the executrix, Mrs. Lizzie D. Sherer, of Scranton, Pa., a cousin of Miss Dickinson, who died at Pasadena February 18. Miss Dickinson's aged father is given a life estate in her residence; Mrs. F. L. Drake, Kingfisher, Okla.,

MINES AND MINING.

ART TO HAVE CUSTOMS MILL.

Reported Deal Involves Quarter of a Million.

Canby's President Looks for Higher Priced Copper.

Klondike Stampede Puts Klondike in the Shade.

F. A. Sommerfeld, a leading operator of the new Hart district, who is now spending a few days in the city, has received telegraphic advices from the camp conveying the information that a deal was closed yesterday by which the Oro Belle and Oro Belle No. 1 claims, the original locations made by Hitt & Hart, have been conveyed by bond to Col. Hopkins of the big Quartette mine of Searchlight. According to this authority the price of the bond is $250,000, and of that amount $20,000 has already been paid in cash. No further particulars are obtainable at this time, but it is known that engineers representing Col. Hopkins have been on the ground for the past two weeks, and that negotiations were opened for the Hitt & Hart property over a week ago. The ground has always been held at a high figure, and a large body of high-grade ore was recently uncovered in a tunnel driven by the owners.

Report brings reliable news of the latest in California gold camp, and says that there is now little doubt that the district will fulfill the enthusiastic predictions of the first locators. Among the most important recent developments is the assurance that the camp will soon be supplied with a customs mill. It will be erected by George W. Glover, and will be of fifteen tons capacity. It will consist of a Little Giant quartz mill and a Christensen concentrator and classifier. The machinery, originally ordered for erection at Goldfield at the Butte Boy mine, but never has decided to divert it to the Rawhide camp, and it is now on its way. It will be set up as soon as possible around at the head of Main street, practically in the town. A pipe line from springs four miles to the southwest has already been partially layed, and it is expected that water will be flowing into the town by the end of this week.

According to the same authority, the mineralized belt extends to Leeds, five miles away, by five miles in width with the railroad. The present population of the new mushroom camp is conservatively placed at 600, and people are coming in every day in spite of the attractions of the feverish oil boom at Rawhide. About fifteen wooden buildings of all descriptions have already been erected, and the townsite is covered with from 150 to 200 tents. The townsite company has already disposed of all the lots in the original plat, and is now quarreling over the right to ground which would be suitable for another addition to the original townsite. About fifty leases are being worked, but it is expected that many of these will lapse, owing to the fact that some who have acquired them have not the means to carry on work indefinitely.

Sommerfeld says that the showing in the original Oro Belle No. 1 consists of nine feet of ore that will go between $50 and $60 at a conservative estimate, and that a two-inch streak of the wall will run as high as $200. Samples have run away up into the thousands, but, of course, these have little bearing upon the general average of the product. The most important strike in the short history of the camp was made upon the Bell and Freeman lease, on the Florence claim, which is on the same dyke as the Oro Belle, but 1500 feet lower. The fissure is five feet wide, and a drift has been run in on it for twenty feet. Preparations are now being made to sink upon the high-grade ore chute exposed. Pannings from this point show values well over $50 in coarse gold. Gus Hamandt, known locally as the "King of Clipton," has recently bonded two leases on the Oro Belle No. 2, and is sinking a shaft, which is now sixteen feet deep.

Predicts Higher Copper.

Jay P. Graves, president of the Granby Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company, owning the largest smelter in the Dominion of Canada, and president of the Inland Empire Railroad Company, operating 200 miles of electric railroads in Spokane and the surrounding country, is a guest at the Hotel Alexandria, having arrived by automobile from Santa Barbara yesterday. He is accompanied by Mrs. Graves and Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Strahorn. Strahorn is president of the North Coast Railroad, supposed to be affiliated with the Northwestern, and which has spent millions in obtaining right of way across the State of Washington in the past two years. The party will make this city their headquarters for some weeks, and will take automobile tours to surrounding points of interest.

In speaking of the present condition of the copper market, President Graves says that every indication points to an improvement in prices within the next few months. While it is, of course, a difficult matter to estimate to what extent general business conditions will improve, he believes that the natural increase due to a gradual resumption of normal conditions will put the price of copper to a point between 14 and 15 cents.

Eight furnaces are now in operation at the Granby works handling 2500 tons of ore a day. The capacity is being increased 1000 tons, and when that is completed the plant will be among the largest in the world. During the past few months new ore bins, stacks, converter building and other improvements have been installed, all wooden buildings having been replaced with steel. At the Victoria shaft a new powerful electric hoist has been installed, and the underground workings equipped with an elaborate electric-haulage system. The Gold Drop group, recently acquired by the Granby, has also been equipped in a similar manner. Crushers with a capacity of 6000 tons have also been set up. The property of the company now covers four square miles and over 1000 men are constantly employed. Labor troubles, occasioned by reduction of miners' wages from $4 to $3.50, have now been settled, and the property is being run with a crew which appears satisfied with conditions. The company produced copper last year at 10.10c, the figures for the previous year having been 8.35c. The increase is accounted for by the higher price of labor and supplies. The cost of production for the present year is running in the neighborhood of 9c, and Mr. Graves anticipates no difficulty in keeping it at or below that figure.

Rawhide Beats All.

Whatever may be the ultimate destiny of Rawhide, the new Nevada mining camp, whether it passes away to oblivion after a few hours upon the golden stage or becomes a permanent producing camp, it is at least certain that the present stampede to the district puts all previous rushes of the past few years in the shade, and brings back to the memory of old-timers the days of the Comstock craze.

Rawhide Beats All.

Whatever may be the ultimate destiny of Rawhide, the new Nevada mining camp, whether it passes away to oblivion after a few hours upon the golden stage or becomes a permanent producing camp, it is at least certain that the present stampede to the district puts all previous rushes of the kind few years in the shade, and brings back to the memory of old-timers the days of the Comstock craze.

It is said that the late strike upon the Hooligan property has shown values of $76,000 per ton, and that the news has added even more zest to the scramble for property. The town is literally seething, money mad. University men elbow with lawless drunks and drink from the same bottle, every one is rushing hither and thither, making deals on the wing as they go, and consecutive and orderly thinking appears to be impossible. It is said that fifty automobiles are now engaged in carrying passengers at $10 per head, and that their capacity is taxed to the utmost. It is also reported that the Hayes & Monnette Development Company has secured two promising properties which will be developed by their mine manager, Rannells, and that the Red Top has just uncovered eight inches of ore that will run $200 per ton. A twenty-five foot vacant lot in the main thoroughfare has been leased for $400 per month.

The fever has already attacked Los Angeles in a virulent form, and every day some local men join the rush. Last night J. L. Boyle, vice-president of the Los Angeles-Nevada Stock Exchange, became a stampeder and expects to arrive at the new diggings on Saturday. The Times has arranged with him for authentic news of the present state of affairs, and, if they are satisfactory, will send its own correspondent to the camp at once.

Tecopa Deal on.

Information obtained yesterday confirms the story which appeared in this column yesterday with reference to rumors connecting the Tonopah Mining and Tecopa Mines in a merger being planned in Philadelphia, where many of the heaviest stockholders of both companies reside. It is further learned that the option upon the control of the Tecopa has been in existence for some time and that it will expire upon the seventh of March. Late messages received from Philadelphia make it practically certain that the deal will be closed before that time, but it is not yet definitely known whether the contemplated merger will be made or the control of Tecopa taken over by individual stockholders of the Tonopah Mining Company. In any event the two properties will be closely identified. The Sloan interests of Philadelphia have recently acquired a large interest in the Tecopa and are believed to be responsible for the contemplated amalgamation.

Chamber of Mines Meets.

At a well-attended meeting of the new directorate of the Chamber of Mines, held yesterday with President Fielding J. Stilson in the chair, the following new members were elected: L. F. Parsons, secretary Los Angeles Stock Exchange; Security Savings Bank, Mines & Parish, Los Angeles Saddlery and Finding Company; W. E. Wild, Pasadena; John H. Mahoney, Santa Maria; Investors' Protective Association, and the Pacific Tank Company.

The efforts of the Municipal League and other bodies in seeking to eliminate objectionable features from the proposed bill introduced into the House of Representatives by Mr. Crumbpacker, so as to insure a correct census in 1910, were heartily approved.

Plans were discussed whereby a more perfect business relationship between the merchants of Los Angeles and the mining camps can be established, and this matter will be closely followed by the chamber.

F. A. Summerfeld, representing the new town of Hart, addressed the board on the progress and prosperity of that camp.

Movements of Mining Men.

George E. Pfunder, one of the most widely-known mining men operating in the Southwest and now interested in Hart and Searchlight, has secured an option upon the control of the Blossom mine in the latter camp and was in the city yesterday on his way to Butte, where he will confer with principals interested in the deal.

James W. Abbott, a prominent mining engineer, who is now extensively interested in Pioche, is a visitor in the city on his way back to the camp following a trip to Portland, Or., and other northern points.

H. W. Boyer, a member of the Los Angeles-Nevada Stock Exchange, of the firm of Boyer & Thomas, mining brokers, of Goldfield, has joined the Rawhide stampede and is now in that camp. Among other well-known brokers who have also gone to the front is A. K. Wheeler, of Goldfield. They report conditions as very lively in letters recently received by friends in this city.

BUYING ORANGE GROVES.

Twenty-eight Thousand for Glendora Place and One at Upland Is Sold at a Good Figure.

W. H. Gafford has purchased from Jesse C. Macquad an orange grove of twenty acres and a foothill ranch of eighty acres at Glendora for a consideration of $28,000. The sale was made through the agency of C. W. Comstock. With the ranch are included water rights, buildings, stocks and implements. As part payment the grantor accepts a vacant lot in Eagle Rock, on which he will build a handsome home.

T. H. Woodbridge has purchased the A. H. Regier grove at Upland, through the agency of L. M. Pratt & Co. and J. O. Enell. This property is at the northeast corner of Twenty-third street and San Antonio avenue, pland, and consists of five acres of Eureka lemons and five acres of Washington navels. The trees are ten years old. The consideration was $11,000.

C. W. Parsons Co. and S. Preston report the following sales: For O. C. Williams to R. C. Roberts of Utica, N. Y., a forty-foot lot, south side of Jefferson street, between Second and Third avenues, for a cash consideration of $1000. Mr. Roberts is improving this lot with a store building, which will be used for a grocery and meat market, and which will cost $2000. To John E. Parsons for Frank M. Tyler a five-room bungalow, south side of Jefferson street, between Sixth and Seventh avenues, for a consideration of $3200.

Seventy-five thousand dollars is the reported consideration paid by a wealthy Ohio man for the handsome home of Oliver C. Bryant in Westmoreland Place. The property is at the southwest corner of West Eleventh street and Westmoreland avenue and is one of the show places of the city. It is a two-story brick, stone and frame building, containing twenty-eight rooms, handsomely finished in rare woods, special hardware, electric light fixtures, and other costly finishings. It is in what is known as Clark and Bryan's Westmoreland Place tract. The sale was made through the agency of A. T. Jergins & Co.

The purchaser is a wealthy easterner with extensive mining interests in Mexico and other parts of the Southwest. He arrived in Los Angeles several weeks ago.

The ...rty will make this city their head...arters for some weeks, and will take ...tomobile tours to surrounding points ... interest.

In speaking of the present condition ... the copper market, President Graves ...ys that every indication points to an ...provement in prices within the next ...w months. While it is, of course, a ...fficult matter to estimate to what ex...nt general business conditions will ...prove, he believes that the natural ...crease due to a gradual resumption ... normal conditions will put the price ... copper to a point between 14 and 15 ...nts.

Eight furnaces are now in operation ... the Granby works handling 3500 tons ... ore a day. The capacity is being ...creased 1000 tons, and when that is ...mpleted the plant will be among the ...rgest in the world. During the past ...w months new ore bins, stacks, con...yor building and other improvements ...ve been installed, all wooden build...gs having been replaced with steel. ... the Victoria shaft a new powerful ...ectric hoist has been installed, and ... the underground workings equipped ...th an elaborate electric-haulage sys...m. The Gold Drop group, recently ...quired by the Granby, has also been ...uipped in a similar manner. Crush...g with a capacity of 4000 tons have ...so been set up. The property of the ...mpany now covers four square miles ... and over 1000 men are constantly em...oyed. Labor troubles occasioned by ...duction of miners' wages from $4 to ...50, have now been settled, and the ...operty is being run with a crew ...hich appears satisfied with condi...ons. The company produced copper ...st year at 10.10c., the figures for the ...evious year having been 8.35c. The ...crease is accounted for by the higher ...ice of labor and supplies. The cost ... production for the present year is ...nning in the neighborhood of 9c, and ...r. Graves anticipates no difficulty in ...eeping it at or below that figure.

Rawhide Beats All.

Whatever may be the ultimate des...ny of Rawhide, the new Nevada min...g camp, whether it passes away to ...livion after a few hours upon the ...lden stage or becomes a permanent ...oducing camp, it is at least certain ...at the present stampede to the dis...ict puts all previous rushes of the ...st few years in the shade, and brings ...ck to the memory of old-timers the ...ays of the Comstock craze.

It is said that the late strike upon the Hooligan property has shown values of $76,000 per ton, and that the news has added even more zest to the scramble for property. The town is literally seething, money mad. University men elbow with lawless drunks and drink from the same bottle, every one is rushing hither and thither, making deals on the wing as they go, and consecutive and orderly thinking appears to be impossible. It is said that fifty automobiles are now engaged in carrying passengers at $10 per head, and that their capacity is taxed to the utmost. It is also reported that the Hayes & Monnette Development Company has secured two promising properties which will be developed by their mine manager, Rannells, and that the Red Top has just uncovered eight inches of ore that will run $200 per ton. A twenty-five foot vacant lot in the main thoroughfare has been leased for $400 per month.

The fever has already attacked Los Angeles in a virulent form, and every day some local men join the rush. Last night J. L. Boyle, vice-president of the Los Angeles-Nevada Stock Exchange, became a stampeder and expects to arrive at the new diggings on Saturday. The Times has arranged with him for authentic news of the present state of affairs, and, if they are satisfactory, will send its own correspondent to the camp at once.

Tecopa Deal on.

Information obtained yesterday confirms the story which appeared in this column yesterday with reference to rumors connecting the Tonopah Mining and Tecopa Mines in a merger being planned in Philadelphia, where many of the heaviest stockholders of both companies reside. It is further learned that the option upon the control of the Tecopa has been in existence for some time and that it will expire upon the seventh of March. Late messages received from Philadelphia make it practically certain that the deal will be closed before that time, but it is not yet definitely known whether the contemplated merger will be made or the control of Tecopa taken over by individual stockholders of the Tonopah Mining Company. In any event the two properties will be closely identified. The Sloan interests of Philadelphia have recently acquired a large interest in the Tecopa and are believed to be responsible for the contemplated amalgamation.

Chamber of Mines Meets.

At a well-attended meeting of the new directorate of the Chamber of Mines, held yesterday with President Fielding J. Stilson in the chair, the following new members were elected: L. F. Parsons, secretary Los Angeles Stock Exchange, Security Savings Bank, Mines & Farish, Los Angeles Saddlery and Finding Company, W. E. Wild, Pasadena; John H. Mahoney, Santa Maria; Investors' Protective Association, and the Pacific Tank Company.

The efforts of the Municipal League and other bodies in seeking to eliminate objectionable features from the proposed bill introduced into the House of Representatives by Mr. Crumpacker, so as to insure a correct census in 1910, were heartily approved.

Plans were discussed whereby a more perfect business relationship between the merchants of Los Angeles and the mining camps can be established, and this matter will be closely followed by the chamber.

F. A. Summerfeld, representing the new town of Hart, addressed the board on the progress and prosperity of that camp.

Movements of Mining Men.

George E. Pfunder, one of the most widely-known mining men operating in the Southwest and now interested in Hart and Searchlight, has secured an option upon the control of the Blossom mine in the latter camp and was in the city yesterday on his way to Butte, where he will confer with principals interested in the deal.

James W. Abbott, a prominent mining engineer, who is now extensively interested in Pioche, is a visitor in the city on his way back to the camp following a trip to Portland, Or., and other northern points.

H. W. Boyer, a member of the Los Angeles-Neveda Stock Exchange, of the firm of Boyer & Thomas, mining brokers, of Goldfield, has joined the Rawhide stampede and is now in that camp. Among other well-known brokers who have also gone to the front is A. K. Wheeler, of Goldfield. They report conditions as very lively in letters recently received by friends in this city.

BUYING ORANGE GROVES.

Twenty-eight Thousand for Glendora Place and One at Upland Is Sold at a Good Figure.

W. H. Gafford has purchased from Jesse C. Macquad an orange grove of twenty acres and a foothill ranch of eighty acres at Glendora for a consideration of $28,000. The sale was made through the agency of C. W. Comstock. With the ranch are included water rights, buildings, stocks and implements. As part payment the grantor accepts a vacant lot in Eagle Rock, on which he will build a handsome home.

T. R. Woodbridge has purchased the A. H. Regier grove at Upland, through the agency of L. M. Pratt & Co. and J. O. Enell. This property is at the northeast corner of Twenty-third street and San Antonio avenue, pland, and consists of five acres of Eureka lemons and five acres of Washington navels. The trees are ten years old. The consideration was $11,000.

C. W. Parsons Co. and S. Preston report the following sales: For O. C. Williams to R. C. Roberts of Utica, N. Y., a forty-foot lot, south side of Jefferson street, between Second and Third avenues, for a cash consideration of $1000. Mr. Roberts is improving this lot with a store building, which will be used for a grocery and meat market, and which will cost $2000. To John E. Parsons for Frank M. Tyler a five-room bungalow, south side of Jefferson street, between Sixth and Seventh avenues, for a consideration of $3200.

Seventy-five thousand dollars is the reported consideration paid by a wealthy Ohio man for the handsome home of Oliver C. Bryant in Westmoreland Place. The property is at the southwest corner of West Eleventh street and Westmoreland avenue and is one of the show places of the city. It is a two-story brick, stone and frame building, containing twenty-eight rooms, handsomely finished in rare woods, special hardware, electric light fixtures, and other costly finishings. It is in what is known as Clark and Bryan's Westmoreland Place tract. The sale was made through the agency of A. T. Jergins & Co.

The purchaser is a wealthy easterner with extensive mining interests in Mexico and other parts of the Southwest. He arrived in Los Angeles several weeks ago.

Editorial Pie Points

Scientists assert that in ten years the house cat will disappear. Yes, but it will come back.

"First families" do not always consist of families that come first; they are often those who "arrived" last.

Senator Foraker will fight to the last ditch. But he will fall into it when he comes to it, just the same.

Even though marriage is acknowledged to be merely a civil contract, ought not the contract be kept?

As the railroads get busy with business let us hope that they will have less time to bother with politics.

King Leopold is reported to be suffering from an incurable disease. The reference is probably to his morals.

If you want to see a nice, slick game on the international checkerboard just watch Manchuria for a while.

Fairbanks must certainly expect to be nominated. One of his newspapers has published an article praising Bryan.

Now that the Balkans have failed to break out after they had promised to do so again, it is hard to believe anything.

Tailors announce that tight trousers will be the fashion this year. All right; it is leap year and the girls must do the proposing.

It speaks well for the honor of men that none of them are going around boasting of the leap year proposals they have declined.

A prominent publisher says that every man is capable of writing at least one novel. And it looks as though they were all doing it.

Another good sign of the times—we are always on the lookout for them—is that bank embezzlements decreased $8,632,001 last year.

"It is our minds that keep us young," says an eastern college professor. Maybe so, but still it is not wise to entirely neglect our livers.

Mr. Fairbanks can excuse himself for using bad grammar by setting up the claim that he is a constant reader of Indiana's dialect poets.

It is now clear that Gov. John A. Johnson's tariff views would have more than offset the Swede vote had he been nominated for the Presidency.

"A woman is really as young as her waist line," says a cheerful idiot in a New York paper. Just as though the corset factories could forestall time.

A Chinese editor asserts that the United States is the only country that has a conscience. Coming from a Chinaman the compliment is to be valued.

Notwithstanding that Rudyard Kipling and a lot of other philosophers assert that money isn't everything, most people will continue to proceed on the theory that it is.

When it comes to a question of veracity between Pierpont Morgan and a French editor, even people who do not like Mr. Morgan will be inclined to give him the best of it.

There are said to be 167 different kinds of rheumatism, but we trust that Fighting Bob hasn't got more than two or three of them. Yet, what matter? He will soon be in California.

No Democrat asserts that Bryan will be elected. The most that the wildest of them is willing to venture is the prophecy that he will poll more votes than were polled for Parker.

A man in Arkansas has been pardoned from the penitentiary because he is a poet. Arkansas probably came to the conclusion that she can afford to let her poets run at large as well as Indiana.

We have carefully watched the dispatches from France, but as yet we have failed to learn whether or not anybody has loaned Count Boni Castellane 20 cents to pay the recent fine that was imposed on him.

A Chicago woman says she always feels ten years younger after eating a dish of sauerkraut. If sauerkraut had that effect on us we would tackle enough of it, right now, to get us back to that night forty years ago when we kissed a certain girl for the first time.

The fear is now entertained that the Independence League will not be strong enough in some of the States to make it possible to give everybody an opportunity to vote against Weary Willie, the hobos' delight.

An Iowa scientist asserts that most of our disease germs come from Mars. One might be inclined to laugh at this theory, but a second look at it will prove that it is just as worthy of belief as any of the other germ theories.

The St. Paul Pioneer Press announces the death of "Coal Oil Johnny." We are as sorry to hear it now as we were on all the other occasions when it occurred. It must be an awful thing for a man to be compelled to die so frequently.

There are eighteen counties in Kansas which have no representatives in the State penitentiary. But, as for that, our recollection of Kansas is that it must have at least eighteen counties that haven't anybody to send anywhere as representatives.

If Abraham Lincoln had lived until next year he would be 100 years of age and the Hearst newspapers would be caricaturing him as a scarecrow, instead of lauding him to the skies with the vast hypocrisy in which they are now engaged.

DIRECT PRIMARIES AND POLITICS.

We have had much clamor for a direct primary law in this State, and it is well that we try this way of nominating men for office. So far as we are aware, there has been no notable opposition to the measure. We think moreover that like the registration law and the Australian ballot system of voting, the direct primary will give the people a better opportunity of expressing their will, make boss influence a step farther away, and the buying of votes a little more difficult.

But that is all it will do. The dreamy, short-sighted reformers who think it will put the "machine" out of commission and the "boss" out of business will, as we have often maintained, be rudely awakened. A hint of this might have been gotten from the acquiescence of the bosses in the putting of the scheme in working order. The "machine" does not seem to have turned a cog to check the programme.

Not to indulge in abstract discussion, let us take a concrete example. Oregon has the direct primary in full operation. There it is carried out to its logical conclusion. The "boss" would seem to be rendered beyond the possibility of resuscitation. The Legislature is taken out of the reach of the machine by direct primary action which gives the people the opportunity to elect United States Senators by direct vote of the people. The majority vote imposes on the Legislature the duty to vote for the "people's choice" uncontrolled, uninfluenced by bosses or machines.

That is the way it looks in programmes made to order by "reformers." The way it works is not quite as laid down in the programme. A notorious Oregon roué tried several times to buy his way into the United States Senate when the Legislature was free. He failed every time. The direct primary was made effective with his aid and consent and by the active work of those with whom he "did politics" of the dirtiest kind. Note the next trick! When the law was in force the machine politicians in Oregon—Democrats and Republicans—were herded by the paid bosses and went to the registration offices and all registered as Republicans so they could "work" the direct primary law. When the primaries were held these all voted for the rich leader of the machine, for the corrupt user of money in politics, for Senator; and as they cast more votes than all others, it was mandatory on the Legislature to go through the perfunctory operation of casting their ballots for the Republican boss who always "ran with the old machine," and he was elected to the United States Senate.

And so we get back to first principles and land exactly where the great statesmen who shaped up our system of government began and ended. We today begin and end where Washington, Jefferson, Franklin, Clay, Lincoln and all the rest began and ended, with the individual voters. An intelligent citizenship, well informed on the issues of the day by a free and independent press, a citizenship in whose breast the fires of patriotism burn clearly, who take the trouble to learn the tendency of all issues before them, and then each man acts for himself, as he sees the matter, and as he thinks best—this is the only foundation on which free institutions can be built securely and the only programme devisable by which good government will ever be possible.

As Gov. Hughes says, parties are necessary to us under our system of government, and party organizations are to be encouraged. But any party, no matter how large, any clique, no matter how small, which attempts to stifle the conscience of the individual or to impair the exercise of his judgment, is wrong and dangerous. No matter what the professed purpose of such usurpation of the rights of the individual may be, the method is the method of the machine, the programme is the concoction of the boss, the result is inevitably the same: a government whose basis is the cunningly devised scheme of a few, lands the schemers in office, and promotes inefficient and generally corrupt government. One machine is as dangerous as the other, one boss as malign as another.

No plan, no scheme, no law will ever put the "machine" out of commission or make the "boss" impossible. Whenever the individual goes into any organization which deprives him of the right to exercise his own judgment and to listen to the voice of his own conscience, even to the moment when his vote drops into the ballot box, he is voting for "machine" politics, for "boss" rule, for bad government, and in the end for the overthrow of free institutions.

PUNISH THE WRONGDOERS.

A judge said a few days ago that it would be better to send the officials of a corporation guilty of violating laws to jail than to impose heavy fines on the corporation. Is not this suggestion evidently just?

Shallow persons, poorly informed about the facts of corporate activity, and chronically afflicted with inability to think, loudly applaud every time a heavy fine is imposed on a corporation. The applause is in proportion to the weight of the fine and has no reference to the gravity of the offense or the strength of the evidence. So long as a corporation, assumed to be a monopoly, is cinched, the applause is sure.

Who suffers? The officials who broke the law? Not a fraction of one per cent. of the fine in many cases. In some instances the people pay the fine, for the corporation takes it out of their pockets by raising the cost of the service. In all cases the fine falls first on the stockholders in proportion to the stock held by each. Unless the public can be mulcted, as shown above, the fine remains a burden on the stockholders. The big men, those "higher up," are not greatly affected, even although they pay large sums. But the burden lies heavily on the multitude of small stockholders, whose living often comes out of their holdings of stock in corporations.

There are corporations in this country the stock of which is scattered broadcast among 40,000 persons, or more. Cut the dividends of these and in a multitude of cases men and women are reduced to beggary. These persons had no more to do with the breaking of the law and knew no more of it than the antediluvians. It is a direct and manifest injustice to punish these innocent persons for a violation of law with which they had nothing to do. Nor do the large stockholders know any more than the small ones. In some instances the illegal practices are the result of instructions given by one or two directors and skillfully concealed from the knowledge of the others. In some cases an overzealous, careless, or ignorant person in a subordinate position does the illegal act following a custom prevalent in former times.

Our contention is that the person who broke the law and he who caused it to be broken should pay the penalty and that all innocent of wrong should go unpunished.

It is easy to say that all directors in a corporation should make it their business to ferret out breaches of law on the part of those connected with them in business. It is easy to say that stockholders should see to it that only honest directors are elected. It is always so easy to figure out a scheme on paper, but it is not so easy to make the scheme work to perfection. If no money is to be put into stocks until all who buy the stocks are certain that everything will work like the stars in their courses, there will be no corporate activity in the country. Without corporations the most of the business of the country would come to a standstill, and then we would go back to the old days when all commerce was done by barter "in kind."

To be sure, there are some of the "Unbaked" in such a state of half-kneaded dough that they dream this was the "golden age" because gold was unknown in it except to one in a million.

The injustice of over-heavy fines does not stop at the door of the innocent stockholders, but seriously affects the employés of the corporations.

THE RIGHT DIRECTION.

Of course Gompers and the other "reformers" are not expected to comprehend that. It is a fact a little below the surface and therefore below the reach of their thought-plummet. All populists say in their dreams that you can impose any rates on railroads, prohibit the employés from working more than half a day, then "sock" fines on them because one or two stockholders break the law, and pile up these pains and penalties until they reach the clouds, yet the same wages shall be paid in dull times, when hours are shorter, business slack and fines heavy, as in prosperous times when hours were longer, business rushing, fares higher and no fines to pay. That is one of the fine theories which will not work. When the rustic can eat his loaf yet have it in his hand the next time hunger comes on, then this theory will do service.

But so long as the sun rises in the East, water runs down hill and men walk on their feet, it will come to pass that if the earning power of a company be cut down, wages and dividends must fall in proportion, and those who depend on the dividends and wages will come to grief.

THE TELEPHONE CONTROVERSY.

Before the City Council comes to act upon the fixing of telephone rates scheduled for next Monday, we desire to give a little further consideration to this controversy in addition to that of Thursday morning.

Despite the strong objections which The Times has urged against the present two-telephone system of the city, we nevertheless declare, that, without hesitation or qualification, as the case stands, the general, broad principles of equity should not be lost sight of by the Council. It appears to us that, in view of the franchise granted to the Home Telephone Company by a previous Council, the present City Council may very well give fair consideration to this matter in the light of a contract entered into between the Council acting on the part of the city and the company then seeking encouragement to establish its plant here. Although, as we showed on Thursday morning, the court has decided that this contract could not legally bind succeeding Councils, yet the question of equity remains there in spite of the cold letter of the law.

Another matter to be considered, because it is in the nature of equity, is that this telephone company has spent, according to its own showing, a sum of about $5,000,000 in installing its plant; that the stock of the company is held by a large number of our people, whose money is thus invested in it, and therefore it is a simple matter of equity that no policy of confiscation or anything of that nature should be practiced on the part of the city. The stockholders have a right to obtain a fair interest on the money invested.

The third general principle of equity involved is that, from the public point of view, there seems to be no reason, either in law or equity, why the rates for one company should be fixed at a higher figure than the rates to be charged by the other company.

The court has decided that it is the duty of the Council to fix rates for these two companies as for all other public and semi-public utility concerns. Our opinion is that the principles of equity referred to here should be the guiding rule of action in the minds of the Council.

OUR CRUDE PENOLOGY.

The statement made by Judge Charles S. Whiteman of New York to the effect that as a result of his thirty years' experience in dealing with criminals, his conclusion is that it is practically impossible to reform a criminal after 30 years of age, and that women of the street, once they take to a life of shame, are irredeemable, is sad in the extreme. It is all the more so because the statement coming from one so well qualified to speak must have great weight. Judge Whiteman advises that life imprisonment is the only means to safeguard society and lessen the danger of crime.

The words are all the more impressive from the tone in which they are spoken and the reasons given for the views set forth. The speaker recognizes the only valid ground on which criminal punishment must stand. The laws do not contemplate the punishment of the criminal nor his reformation as their primary object. "Punitive laws" is not the right name for them. Society is not resentful. It is not the cry for blood that we hear in these laws. It is not the victim of the crime that is in the mind of society, so much as the protection of those who may be the object of next attack.

This is a new theory of penology. In the days of Moses, it was an "eye for an eye" and "a tooth for a tooth." "Whoso sheddeth man's blood, by man shall his blood be shed." But even then the motive was to deter the offender from repeating the offense by the infliction of pain on himself. That idea will not usually work. The criminal, although caught and punished ten times, will commit the same crime again, sure in his own mind that by experience he has gained skill which will prevent detection. So we come to the idea of putting the irreclaimable criminal where restraint prevents him from crime, and thus protecting society.

The idea in the mind of the New York judge is not new. Students of human nature in times past have not infrequently given it as their opinion that few persons of good morals ever strayed from the straight and narrow path of rectitude after the age of thirty, and that few criminals were ever reclaimed after reaching that age. Solomon is the first on record to this effect.

Taking the conclusion of Judge Whiteman with such force as it may commend itself, the duty of the State to see that children are properly brought up becomes very plain. The State exists for the protection of society. Crime is the influence which threatens the stability of society most. The child in whom the seeds of morality, obedience to the law and respect for the rights of others are planted and developed in a healthy growth is in most cases sure to be law-abiding in maturer years. The sentiments we acquire in early years must determine the course of our whole life.

There will be nice questions of the rights of parents to decide what teaching their children shall have, what associates they shall form, what reading shall be permitted. There will be a realignment of our notions. But by moderate, calm discussion of the subject we shall work out a solution. Many things we claim as natural rights will be declared detrimental to society and denied to us.

MISCHIEF IS AFOOT.

The news from Vancouver indicates that fuming anarchists are intent on provoking more bloodshed over the Japanese labor question and that some organization on this side of the line, probably the North American Asiatic Exclusion League, headed by that arch-agitator, O. V. Tveitmoe, is at their back. A few days ago the Vancouver branch of the league held a meeting and besought the public to aid it financially. It declared that its treasury was absolutely empty and that if the "good work" for which it was formed was to go on it must have money. The hat of the officer of the league who has the most swollen head was sent around and the magnificent sum of $43.45 was collected. That's not enough for a tea fight. But yesterday's dispatches say the league is now in funds, its finances being attended to by some person or association that prefers to remain in the background.

This Vancouver branch of the league represents only the rag, tag and bobtail of the northern seaport. Decent people who joined the association in the first frenzy of anti-Japanese feeling withdrew from it last week when the hotheads decided to hold another anti-Asiatic parade on March 7. These people recognized that the procession will produce trouble; it is evident now that it has been planned for that express purpose.

The organization of another parade after the experience of the last one is declared to be little short of criminal by no less a person than the first chairman of the league, who, when he heard of the movement, immediately resigned. He says wild-eyed agitators are behind the plan and he thinks the police should be instructed to prevent its accomplishment. It is recognized that parades and fandangos, which the anarchists get up because they are short on arguments, do infinitely more harm than good and that a cause which cannot demand attention without resort to reprehensible measures cannot be worthy of support and hence should be allowed to die.

It is becoming more and more evident every day that a large number of persons on the Pacific Coast, on the British as well as the American side, consider the exclusion movement not only ill-timed, but unnecessary. The great mass of the people has no sympathy with parades which lead to riots. There are right and wrong ways of calling attention to evils and the Anti-Asiatic League is deliberately choosing the wrong. It should be remembered, also, that the Canadian and Japanese governments have entered into an arrangement satisfactory to each, whereby Japanese immigration to British Columbia has practically ceased. As the first chairman, who resigned in disgust, said, "If there is any sober sense left in the councils of the league, it should be used to shut off the froth and hot air of the agitators who disgust us with their rantings."

HOROSCOPE FOR
Friday, February 28, 1908.

Now they who have full hands are well inclined;
And wisdom's words come from the aged mind.

Saturn is in benefic aspect with the moon. The 59th day, moon's age 26 days. Moon occults Uranus.

Ask favors, particularly in the evening. They who have full hands will be disposed to pour forth awards of price to the unhesitating seeker.

The earth has strength and wealth in its breast this day. They who delve in its remote fastnesses will find treasure. There is luck in laying out building plots, or in buying real estate. Houses will be well planned in this period.

"The gray head counselleth sagely" today.

Plan, cut out, alter, or try on gowns and hats.

Take heed this day in crossing crowded streets. There is carelessness in the atmosphere.

The woman whose birthdate this is will have an unexpected opportunity in May or June. News of curious import will reach her from a strange place.

The man whose birthdate this is must guard his employer's interests zealously this twelvemonth, for through an odd complication a loss to his employer will prove to be his own.

A busy life is before the boy born today. His fault will be a disposition to change without reason, for sheer desire of variety.

The girl born this day will probably travel to the Orient.

EDUCATIONAL WORK.

The announcement is made by the National Civic Federation that arrangements have been completed for 500 or more American school teachers to visit England, Scotland, Ireland and the continent of Europe next autumn for inspection of schools and methods of teaching in vogue there. The plan adopted is much the same as that followed by Alfred Moseley, who brought a large number of English teachers to America in 1904-1905. Mr. Moseley will cooperate with the National Civic Federation in the present movement.

Emily James Putnam, former dean of Barnard College, makes an earnest plea for what is commonly called "a classical education." She does not claim that it will insure the ability "to earn a living or to rear healthy offspring," but urges that those who would be benefited by culture, as distinguished from a practical education, should have a training in the Greek and Latin classes.

The Manufacturers' Association of Brooklyn, N. Y., is planning the establishment of trade schools and a mechanical museum for that city. The committee having the matter in hand, says: "The purpose of the plan is cooperation on the part of the employer, the employé, the public and the State acting through its Board of Education. The establishment of these trade schools must be a growth, and in no sense a creation, beginning with two or three under favorable conditions. They will work themselves out under the impulse of personal initiative, self-reliance and individual variation."

The universities of South America suffer from the feebleness of public interest, and rarely if ever does a person of wealth endow a professorship, contribute to the foundations of a university, or give it any financial support, unless the church has something to do with its management.

At Brown University a new way has been started to make the freshmen observe the traditions of the school. As at other colleges, there is at Brown a special form of cap that members of the freshman class must wear. Most colleges have a cap with a green button to distinguish the first-year men. All the freshmen are supposed to yield to the custom, but several Brown '11 men have been violating the law. Apparently the sophomore class didn't take the matter in hand thereby dealing violently with the freshmen. Instead the names of the violators of the rule were printed in the college paper. There were eight such names in a recent issue, put prominently on the first page.

CHICAGO'S MEAN CLIMATE, A LOS ANGELES MEAN TRICK.

(From the Chicago Evening American.)

LOS ANGELES (Cal.) Feb. 18, 1908.—[with]—Lovely Summer night. Am going to walk home by moonlight. Foothills ablaze with poppies and streets blooming with peek-a-boo shirtwaists. Loveliest weather of season.

JOHN.

The mollycoddle suburbanite who received that telegram last night at 10:45 o'clock is today under the care of four physicians, three strong arm patient handlers and several specialists.

But can you blame him?

Did it ever fail?

Just about the time your patience has dried its last ebb and your endurance looks like the battle flag of the republic some "kind friend" in the kindness of kind moods, hands you something similar to the above. The poor suburbanite who received this one may never recover his reason, and the strangest thing about it is the telegram was actually received in Chicago.

Suburbanite—he would be just as unfortunate by any other name—quit work at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon and went on the street.

At the Masonic Temple he found a wind strong enough to blow the mortgage off a farm.

It took his new $5 hat down toward Tenth street.

At Michigan avenue, near the Illinois Central, a wind blew his feet toward Rush street and his head toward Adams, and being bent in a sensible way alighted where one usually does on those occasions. When he reached the depot the trains were all one or more hours late in leaving.

When he reached home he plowed through six feet of snow, lost his way in a prairie, stepped into an open ditch, got snow up his sleeve to his elbow, lost his temper and his rubbers and finally scrambled into his home.

Then his wife sent him after a loaf of bread.

At last he got into his warm, comfortable bed. Next came the messenger boy and the telegram. Poppies, sunshine and moonlight! (Asininine!)

Wouldn't that turn your head?

EDUCATIONAL WORK.

Terry Wiskham, a seven-year-old boy of Grafmore, O., was recently refused promotion from the fifth to the seventh grade because of his age. His father brought mandamus proceedings against the board and today the Circuit Court handed down the decision, severely scoring the school board, and directing that it permit the boy to begin in the seventh grade at once. Before rendering the decision the boy was given a special examination and stood the test without a flaw. He is regarded as the most extraordinary lad in the State.

The village schoolmasters of China are usually scholars who have failed at least once in the government triennial examinations. After two failures the scholar turns without any hesitation to this lucrative employment—it furnishes him usually with two coarse meals a day. He needs no diplomas, no apparatus, no assistants; not even brains; only a fair retentive memory and a few old books. He simply puts out, a few days before his service expires, a flaming proclamation on red paper and announces that it is his intention to open a school and receive pupils—if they will come. From 6 in the morning until 5 in the evening, with one short interval for rice, amid shouting and howling which would silence the parrot house at the zoo, with voice and stick he devotes his life to the driving of Chinese characters into the almost impervious skulls of his pupils. But he perseveres, believing that no profession—except the Mandarin's—is so respected and so profession so honorable.

MUSIC AND THE STAGE.

Mrs. Patrick Campbell's managers have reconsidered their abandonment of her transcontinental tour, and as a result her company will make the jump from New York to San Francisco, and will appear in Los Angeles (probably) during the week of March 16.

Her opening bill here will doubtless be "Electra," and her repertoire includes a number of more familiar dark-complexioned dramas, among which are "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray," "The Notorious Mrs. Ebbsmith," and "Hedda Gabler."

Since the practical retirement of Ellen Terry, Mrs. Campbell is figuratively, at least, the leader of her sex on the English stage.

She will bring a large company here with her.

Howard Gould, former Los Angeles leading man, has taken the role of John Garrison, in "Wildfire," Lillian Russell's new play. Mr. Gould assumed the burden of the part with only one day's notice, receiving his assignment from Miss Russell in the morning, and appearing as her support the following night. He is now with her in Washington and other cities of that vicinity, and will be seen in New York later in the season.

Heinrich Conried announces that he intends to spend next winter resting and recuperating in Southern California.

He is also to be administrator-general of the "New Theater" in New York. After the close of the opera season this year he will go to Europe, remaining there until December. He will then return to America, devote himself to the work of the New Theater for a few weeks, and will proceed directly here, to remain until spring.

Oliver Morosco has just secured from Harrison Grey Fiske the rights to "Becky Sharp," which will be seen at the Burbank about April 1, with Blanche Hall in the title role. Another play scheduled for early production there is "The Marriage of Kitty."

Yesterday's rehearsal of the Woman's Orchestra was the most interesting event of that organization this year, for, at the request of President Cora Foy, Mme. Carreno played a Grieg concerto, with the orchestral accompaniment.

The enthusiasm of all concerned was delightful, and the artistic results were surprisingly good. Mme. Carreno expressed genuine astonishment at the superior musical atmosphere of the city, and averred that she had not seen its like in many weeks.

Her final recitation will be given at Simpson Auditorium tonight, and her programme will include the Beethoven sonata, Op. 27, No. 2; two preludes, nocturne and scherzo (Chopin;) a Beethoven Rondo; impromptu and "Erlking" (Schubert;) Tschaikowsky's nocturne and etudes by Smetana and MacDowell.

Al Malaikah Temple, A.A.O.N.M.S., now has a military band all its own. The officers are A. F. Frankenstein, president and director; Harley Hamilton, vice-president, and Robert Burns, secretary and treasurer.

Charter members are those named and O. J. Coen, C. W. Sexton, Robert M. Dunsmoor, R. Miller, C. L. Bagley, B. B. Lippman, Frank Albright, M. C. Nuner and Dr. Erwin.

The band will have weekly meetings at the Jefferson street auditorium. The organization is purely for fraternal and social purposes.

The locally well-known melodramatic stock company of the Grand Opera-house will commence its season a week from Sunday.

The Company will include Harry Von Meter, Florence Barker, Lillian Hayward, David Edwin, Lule Warrenton, Myrtle Selwyn and others.

The new Morosco-Montrose sailor song, "My Yankee Sailor Boy," went into its second edition yesterday. Lyrics of the fleet spell popularity these days.

The following announcement, somewhat confusing to say the least, appears in the New York Dramatic News, under the date of February 15: "Charles Blanchard, of Portland, Me., was taken sick on Thursday last at Centralia, Ill., sent to a hospital at Litchfield the following day, and died at that place Tuesday, January 4."

The only apparent way to straighten out such an obituary tangle is to add that Mr. Blanchard will be buried last September.

The Von Stein Academy gave a public recital yesterday afternoon in its building at No. 1501 South Grand avenue. Among the students heard were Miss Blanche Skelton, Miss Mona Newkirk, Mrs. Waller, Mrs. Sweringen, Miss Colletto Crane, Mrs. Barber, Miss Mary Campbell, Henry Whede, Clarence Bates and Ray Baldwin.

Rich Man from Detroit Gets Rattled and Tries to Run Friendship "Gag" on the Officers—Matter Finally Settled by His Paying for Case of Wine.

Thomas Barlum, millionaire merchant of Detroit, Mich., and one of the best known of the regular winter tourists to Southern California, was the most arrested man in Los Angeles yesterday. His friends enjoyed the joke greatly.

Last night Barlum had reached the stage where he put his hands up in the air at the mere sight of a uniform while the sound of the gong of the patrol wagon made him wander in search of a convenient patrol box to save the officers trouble.

The first arrest occurred at the Hollenbeck Hotel, the manager of which, John S. Mitchell, is one of Barlum's best friends in Los Angeles. The eastern merchant has been staying at the hotel.

Barlum, "barbered" and "shined" and dressed in the latest and neatest styles,

New Spring Suitings

All the handsome patterns that you're admiring in ready-to-wear garments; as well as some that are only to be found in the piece, are here in the new spring suitings, a number of which are on display in a Broadway window:

Most in favor are stripes, pin stripes, hairline stripes, shadow and novelty stripes, chevron stripes; and neat checks and mixtures as well; 58 inches wide. $2.75.

Other handsome spring novelties from $1.50 a yard up.

Fancy mohairs in silky finish, so stylish this season, here in stripes, checks and plaids, 42 to 46 inches wide; browns, black stripes, Copenhagen blues, tans and other beautiful shadings. $1.25.

Black Goods, $1 Yard

Voiles, cheviots, colleenes, plain and shadow checks, panamas, serges and like materials in fine, deep, lustrous black; values to $1.75 for $1.00.

Women's Winsome Suits

Women of discriminating taste are particularly pleased with our assortments of spring suits at forty-five dollars and thereabouts—suits handsome enough for street and semi-dress wear; serviceable to the last degree, and cut in inimitably graceful fashion by leading tailors. Detail of just one, selected at random from dozens:

$45.00—A gray and green stripe panama suit; made with three-button cutaway jacket, taffeta lined; inlaid collar of green moire; buttons on front, cuffs and back vents of self material, with green moire centers; slash pockets; gored skirt with box plait in front; three graduated folds above hem.

Save on Bedding

Too many silk comforters in stock before inventory. A discount of a straight third will quickly right matters, and bring some remarkable values your way, as well:

And a hundred pairs of manufacturer's sample blankets, of all qualities from inexpensive to fine, are sharply reduced from the prices we should have to ask for them if you bought in regular stocks.

Last two days of the sale of $30 Ostermoor Mattresses at $18.50; a chance that scores of wise people have availed themselves of in the last month; and a bargain that occurs but once a year. Buys yours today, if possible.

EVENTS IN LOCAL SOCIETY.

AN ENGAGEMENT, news of which will be received with interest by local college men, is that of H. Percival Oates and Miss Irene Louise Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Carter of No. 3922 Monte Vista street, Highland Park. Mr. Oates was a member of the famous relay team which held the Southern California intercollegiate championship for the seasons of 1900-1. He ran the second lap of the race which won for the U.S.C. the title of champions and secured for the 'varsity a handsome silver cup. The wedding, which will be solemnized, in the near future, will be the culmination of a romance which started when Miss Carter was but a child of 13. Mr. Oates met her then and at once fell in love with her pretty face and charm of manner, and it was arranged that they should be married after she reached the age of 18. The young people will occupy a home at Highland Park.

Bridge Party.

Mrs. F. H. Nichols of No. 977 Menlo avenue, will entertain this afternoon with the second of a series of bridge parties arranged for this season.

Mrs. Stanton Hostess.

Mrs. C. Q. Stanton of No. 760 Whittier street entertained yesterday with a pretty luncheon in honor of Mrs. William McCoy, a recent bride. The table was attractively ornamented with pink stock and candelabra. Unique little colonial bonnets, filled with pink blossoms, marked places for Mrs. McCoy, Mrs. John C. McCoy, Mrs. Victor Shaw, Mrs. C. C. Parker, Mrs. W. S. Bartlett, Mrs. Lanier Bartlett, Mrs. Harriet S. Wright, Mrs. Hancock Johnson, Mrs. George Wilshire, Mrs. D. W. Cunningham, Mrs. W. I. Hollingsworth and Miss Nute, a clever miniature painter from abroad.

Tea at Country Club.

Miss Grace Mellus of No. 234 West Adams street will be a charming hostess Saturday afternoon, when she will entertain with a daintily-appointed tea at the Country Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Pixley Guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pixley of No. 1153 West Twenty-seventh street, will be dinner guests at Huntington Hall Tuesday next. Later Mr. Pixley will address the young ladies.

Sunset "500" Club.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Brent entertained members of the Sunset "500" Club recently at their home, No. 1830 West Eleventh street. The guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Alex Burrus, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar German, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel S. Shepard, Mrs. J. G. Grady, Mr. Brooks, Miss Ramsay, Mr. Boyle, Mr. Lynch, Mrs. Mabel Kingman and Ralph Ware. The prizes were awarded to Mr. Brooks and Mrs. Edgar German. Carnations were effectively used in the decorating.

Interesting Visitors.

Mrs. J. H. E. Partington and daughter, Miss Blanche Partington, of San Francisco, are visiting at Ocean Park. They are the widow and daughter, respectively, of the late J. H. E. Partington, the famous English portrait painter.

The receiving line included Miss Vance, Miss de Laguna, Miss Arnold, Miss Phillips and Miss Beans. During the evening the minuet was danced by the following young people: Genevieve Lux, Marguerite Gosse, Olive Haviside, Clara Warren, Dorothy Parkinson, Eleanor Richards, Lillie Wendling, Kathleen Barker, Lillius Ford, Margaret Miller, Marion Judah, Minnie Miller, Edith Merrill, Zoe Smith, Edith Engelhard and Neva Koons.

TO IMPROVE SUNSET.

Hollywood Trustees Will Expend $150,000 on Two and Half Miles of the Boulevard.

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 27.—The City Trustees yesterday opened bids for the improvement of Sunset boulevard and the contract for the work will be awarded next Wednesday. Sunset boulevard, as it passes through Hollywood, is sixty feet wide between curbs and is beautifully shaded with giant pepper trees. It is proposed to macadamize the thoroughfare for a distance of two and one-half miles at an approximate cost of $150,000. This is said to be one of the largest contracts for macadam ever let in Southern California. A portion of the expense of building the road will be paid by the city out of a bond issue voted for that purpose. The balance will be paid by property owners on the street. The work will be done under the Vrooman Act. The following firms submitted bids: White & Gower, Hollywood; J. N. Pattillo, M. Sheldon and E. A. Howard, Los Angeles.

The second annual Hollywood Equestrian Tournament will take place Saturday, May 2, and the Tournament Committee is already actively at work. It is the purpose to make this year's event much more elaborate than the one given a year ago, and many interesting features have been planned. The tournament proper will be proceeded by a floral parade and in the evening a grand tournament ball will be given by the Hollywood, at which time the winner of the tournament will crown the Queen. A large number of entries have already been received for the tournament, both in the ladies' and men's classes.

The first plant and flower show ever given in Hollywood will take place on April 30 and May 1. The show will be given under the auspices of the Woman's Club of Hollywood. Entries to the show will be confined to the Cahuenga Valley, except in the professional classes. One unique feature of the show will be an exhibition of native flowers, gathered by the pupils of the different schools. A prize will be awarded the school showing the largest and most perfect collection.

A large dancing party was given tonight by the Hollywood Club in its handsome quarters in Wilcox auditorium. The clubrooms were beautifully decorated with pepper branches, palms and cut flowers. The following gentlemen composed the committee in charge of the arrangements: C. E. Toberman, J. M. Le Roy, James Leask, E. W. Elitt and F. W. Hance. There were about two hundred guests present.

The ladies of the Catholic Church gave an "old maids' convention" in Wilcox auditorium last night.

STOPS FRUIT THEFTS.

Energetic Action in Pomona Section Puts End to Stealing of Oranges.

POMONA, Feb. 27.—The efforts of the San Antonio Fruit Exchange to stop the wholesale stealing of oranges have met with gratifying success through the posting of warning signs about orchards of exchange members, and the appointment of deputy constables here and at North Pomona, Claremont, Lordsburg and San Dimas to apprehend marauders. When this vigilance was first put into effect, six arrests were made and each offender was tried, convicted and promptly sentenced to twenty-five days in jail by Justice Barnes. Of late, the reports from all districts are to the effect that there is now no open stealing, if any, from the groves, and that would-be offenders pass by as if there were no oranges within a hundred miles. A close watch still is maintained, however.

SHIPS MANY EGGS.

Charles C. Huff of the Walnut Grove poultry yards is shipping daily 330 dozen eggs to over fifty customers in Searchlight, Goldfield, Tonopah, Arizona, New Mexico, Canada and Mexico, and the business is constantly increasing. Mr. Huff secures his eggs from his own yards and buys from poultrymen at Chino and hereabouts. He ships eggs in special cartons, each egg being stamped and dated.

POMONA NOTES.

Some person or persons broke into the Tenth-street school last night and scattered glue over the desks, and made chalk marks about the building. The truant officer suspects some boys, and is on the watch for them.

Charles W. Churchill of Long Beach took possession today of a confectionery store on West Second street, which he purchased from W. B. Nangle, who now lives at Santa Paula.

At the Christian Women's District Missionary Convention, held here today, the speakers were Mrs. Poor of Long Beach, Mrs. S. Dobeney, State vice-president, and Dr. H. Guy of Tokio, Japan. The session closed tonight with an address by Rev. Reba B. Smith, State president.

Your Stomach Is Your Friend

If you have a good stomach and wish to keep it, steer clear of lard-cooked food. Lard is made from hog fat, and is more apt to be impure than it is to be clean and healthful.

Cottolene is the most reliable frying and shortening medium. It is a pure, wholesome, digestible product, that is bound to be more satisfactory than lard wherever it is given a fair test.

Besides being more healthful, Cottolene is more economical than lard or cooking butter, one-third less being required. It will, moreover, make more nutritious food than either lard or butter.

With all these advantages on the side of Cottolene, what argument have you for not using it? Your own grocer, if he is progressive, has Cottolene for sale. Buy a pail to-day, use it according to directions, and we will warrant you will never go back to the lard habit.

Colds And Chills Bring Kidney Backache

The winter months are hardest on the kidneys. Every draught, cold or chill throws added work upon these filters of the blood. Weakened kidneys quickly clog and cause a sudden stiffness of the back. Next comes a dull throbbing backache, varied with stabs of keenest pain, headaches, dizziness, lameness in the morning. It hurts to stoop, sit down or turn in bed. Usually the urine is discolored and passages too frequent or scanty. If all danger of gravel, dropsy, diabetes, Bright's disease is to be averted, begin using Doan's Kidney Pills as soon as you notice the first sign of backache or urinary trouble. This remedy quickly frees congested kidneys, relieves inflammation, heals, tones and strengthens. By restoring health to the kidneys Doan's cure backache permanently.

Keep Well By Keeping The Kidneys Well

The kidneys filter the blood. Their work goes on unceasingly. Well kidneys filter out each day an ounce of uric poison and nearly two pints of water. But if the kidneys work imperfectly and uric acid is retained, it causes rheumatic pain, gout, sciatica, nervousness, headache, gravel, heart trouble, etc. It attacks all the organs and weakens the system. Every change of the weather makes one miserable. The body is less able to resist grip, and the germs of disease. It is therefore important to keep the kidneys well, and if the kidneys are irregular, passages too frequent, scanty, pale or high color, it is best to help them right away. Doan's Kidney Pills bring quick relief, restore healthy kidneys and cure permanently.

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS CURE SICK KIDNEYS

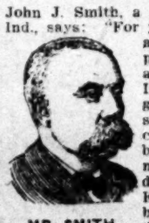
Los Angeles Proof

H. J. Gardner, living at 1010 Alpine street, Los Angeles, Cal., says: "I procured Doan's Kidney Pills several years ago at the Dean Drug Co., and they absolutely cured me of a severe case of kidney trouble which had bothered me for a number of years. My back ached so severely that at times when stooping I could not remain an erect position without placing my hands upon my knees and arising by degrees. Further inconvenience was caused by the kidney secretions, which were too frequent in action and passed with a scalding pain. I tried many remedies but was unable to find relief until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills. They soon banished the trouble, and I am glad to say that I have not had any sign of kidney complaint since."

Mrs. R. A. Russell, 416 E. 7th St., Los Angeles, Cal., says: "Several years ago I began to suffer severely from backache. Accompanying the dull constant aching across my kidney regions were sharp stitches through my loins, and if I remained upon my feet for a long time, or overworked my back became very weak. The kidneys did not act properly, the secretions were very painful, too frequent in action, and were also very unnatural in appearance. Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention. I procured a box at the Dean Drug Co. and the results I derived from their use could not have been more satisfactory. In a short time my back was strengthened, the pains disappeared and all disorders of the kidneys were corrected. I give Doan's Kidney Pills the credit for the great improvement in my health."

ABANDONED BY PHYSICIANS— CURED BY DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS.

John J. Smith, a prominent Grand Army man of 724 East Fourth St., New Albany, Ind., says: "For years my kidneys were out of order. The urine was either cloudy and stringy, or contained a red, gritty sediment. Passages were painful and scalding and compelled me to get up as often as six times a night. Though I doctored constantly, my back continued to ache. I was always tired, and my sight began to fail me. At last I had to give up and go to bed. Then dropsy set in. My feet and hands swelled enormously, and my heart became affected so badly that I could not lie down. For weeks I sat propped in a chair, gasping for breath, with my family sitting about fearing that I would die at any moment. My post comrades paid their last call. This was my condition when I quit taking the doctor's medicine and began with Doan's Kidney Pills. It seemed almost miraculous that after taking three boxes I was out on crutches, and soon after that I was able to lay them aside and walk with a cane. A year has now passed. I am perfectly sound and well, appetite good, weight 170, kidneys regular and no heart trouble. If anybody doubts this, let him write me or inquire of my neighbors."



MR. SMITH. (From a Photo.)

Los Angeles

Thomas Roby, Carpenter, of 542 Ruth Ave., Los Angeles, Cal., says: "There were such severe pains through my back and kidneys that I was forced to lie on my side. I was in this condition for over twenty years, and am unable to describe the suffering I endured during that time. My back was so weak that it hurt me severely to bend over and I found it very difficult to resume an erect position. I was also annoyed with other difficulties which arose from a disordered condition of my kidneys and I did not know what to do to find relief. Doan's Kidney Pills, having been highly recommended, I concluded to give them a trial, and procured a box at the Dean Drug Co. They banished the pains through my back, and regulated the action of my kidneys. Every kidney sufferer should know of the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills."

THE INFERIOR COURTS.

SHOPLIFTERS HEAVILY MULCTED BY POLICE JUDGE.

Pinkertons Say Pair Are "High-Class Store Workers" With Records in Several Middle West Cities. Dairy Inspector and Milk Company Officials Arrested.

Their manners and mode of speech indicating good breeding and education, and their clothes the latest fashion, Mrs. Anna Nelson and Mrs. Anna Williams, charged with shoplifting, yesterday appeared before Justice Austin in Police Court, and were fined $300 or 180 days.

Pinkerton detectives say the women are "high-class store workers." They were arrested in a Broadway department store, a few days ago. One woman was wearing a skirt that did not belong to her, and had a hat valued at $25 in a small bag.

The Pinkertons reported at that time that the women had records in Salt Lake, Denver and Chicago, and were expert shoplifters. Yesterday both pleaded guilty.

"I just walked in with Mrs. Williams, and we started to look at the dresses and things," said Mrs. Nelson. "I had not been acquainted with Mrs. Williams very long, and knew little about her. When I saw her take the hat and hide it in the bag she carried I was surprised. When she was arrested she had on a skirt belonging to the store, but she had put that on to try it and had forgotten to take it off again. We had no intention of taking anything that didn't belong to us. When she was arrested I simply went to the station with her, because I had known her. Then they filed this charge against me."

Mrs. Williams told much the same story. Both women had stayover tickets from Chicago, and both claimed to have relatives in the eastern city. They wound up by a plea for clemency.

"Fine feathers do not make fine birds," remarked Justice Austin, as he looked at the women. "The mere fact that you are both dressed well and have railway tickets to Chicago does not let you out on the charge of shoplifting. It is the order of the court that you pay $300 each, or in default spend 180 days in jail."

The women had claimed to have no friends here, but a well-dressed young man came forward quickly, paid Mrs. Nelson's fine, and left court promising to have Mrs. Williams's fine within a short time.

MILLIONAIRE IS "ARRESTED."

FOUR TIMES TAKEN IN CHARGE IN ONE DAY.

Rich Man from Detroit Gets Rattled and Tries to Run Friendship "Gag" on the Officers—Matter Finally Settled by His Paying for Case of Wine.

Thomas Barlum, millionaire merchant of Detroit, Mich., and one of the best known of the regular winter tourists to Southern California, was the most arrested man in Los Angeles yesterday. His friends enjoyed the joke greatly.

Last night Barlum had reached the stage where he put his hands up in the air at the mere sight of a uniform while the sound of the gong of the patrol wagon made him wander in search of a convenient patrol box to save the officers trouble.

The first arrest occurred at the Hollenbeck Hotel, the manager of which, John S. Mitchell, is one of Barlum's best friends in Los Angeles. The eastern merchant has been staying at the hotel.

Barlum, "barbered" and "shined" and dressed in the latest and neatest styles, was in the lobby, when two men slipped up behind him.

"Hands up," commanded one in a gruff voice.

Barlum's neatly-gloved hands reached upward.

Then the millionaire turned. "Hello! Bliss, Hello! McDonald," he fairly shouted as he grasped for the hands of the two men. But the men didn't thaw a little bit. One was Captain of Detectives McDonnell of Detroit and the other Dist.-Atty. Bliss of that city. Both are in Los Angeles to take Dr. Sloane back.

"None of that friendship gag now," said McDonnell. "We'll hear from you later. In the meantime I want to warn you that anything you may say will be used as evidence against you." The officers proceeded to tell Barlum that he was arrested on a charge of passing New York exchange certificates at the Hollenbeck and receiving money for them.

Barlum did not stop to figure that such action was no crime and became rattled. His friends, after working him up considerably, let him in on the fact that it was a joke on him. Barlum accepted this small favor thankfully. He said if he could only get Manager Mitchell to bite as badly as he did he would be happy.

The party repaired to Mitchell's room and the manager was solemnly informed that Barlum was under arrest. He was told to hold his trunk until further orders. Mitchell became alarmed at the predicament of his old friend. He called a porter and a bell boy and then most every one in the hotel. He had men running up stairs and men running down, and hurriedly telephoned to two well-known business men to put up $5000 bail.

Then the arresting began in earnest. The house officer at the hotel took Barlum in charge and declined to release him till he was duly identified. McDonnell was arrested and so was Bliss. Soon half the people in the hotel lobby were standing around with their hands up waiting to be arrested.

Finally Barlum, seeing the coast clear, started for the door and managed to leave the hotel. But Mitchell got even with him.

Just as the visitor was boarding a car, Patrolman Cowan grabbed him and told him he was under arrest. Barlum took out his notebook, made an entry of arrest number 23, and began to try to arrange habeas corpus proceedings in the street. Cowan did not know about habeas corpus. He had orders from Capt. Auble to arrest Barlum and he marched him to the Police Station.

There, at a solemn meeting in Capt. Auble's office, he was charged with violating ordinance No. 999923. The police did not tell him what that ordinance was because it does not exist.

At last for the sake of peace, Barlum agreed that he had violated it, whatever it was, and wanted to put up bail. At that stage of the game Mitchell appeared and the affair was settled. Barlum agreed to send a case of wine to Mitchell to pay for one bottle the latter had to open in the afternoon.

Last night, when Barlum went to bed he put newspapers all over the floor so that in case any one wanted to arrest him at night he would hear them coming.

DAIRY INSPECTOR ARRESTED.

A. Hal Doig, W. E. Starr and J. L. Starr, officials of the Holly Milk and Butter Company, were yesterday arraigned in Police Court on a charge of selling impure milk. J. L. Starr of No. 2815 Arlington street is a State milk inspector. The warrants were issued by Prosecuting Attorney Guy Eddie, after he had received many complaints from inspectors.

The men will enter pleas of not guilty Saturday morning, and will fight the case to the limit.

Attorney Eddie alleges that once in a while the conviction of a driver who handles impure milk is possible, but that the dairies are mainly responsible for the sales. He therefore planned the raid on the Holly Dairy. Other places will be investigated. The officials of the company stated yesterday that the milk was sanitary and was never watered.

PUBLIC SERVICE NEWS

$2000 cash and some personal property, while the remainder of the estate is divided equally between Mrs. Sherer and an uncle, A. M. Masser, Pekin, Ill.

TO CONDEMN. The city of Los Angeles yesterday filed in the Superior Court a condemnation suit against Peter de Fram and others, to open up Compton avenue from Twenty-third street to the right of way of the Pacific Electric Railway Company.

FILE CERTIFICATES. A certificate of change of place of business from Los Angeles to Santa Ana was filed with the County Clerk yesterday by the Automatic Billing Company, while the Bardsdale Crayon Oil Company filed notice of decrease of the capital stock from $500,000 to $30,000.

TO CHANGE NAME. The Alta California Beet Sugar Company yesterday filed a petition in the Superior Court for a change of name to Sacramento Valley Sugar Company, as better describing its business.

TRIAL RESET. Judge Smith yesterday reset for April 6 the trial of Wong Chong, Charlie Wing and Charlie Sam Ling, accused of the murder of Lam Sing, October 11 last.

NEW TRIAL ORDERED. Word was received in Los Angeles yesterday by Attorney A. D. Warner that the State Supreme Court has reversed the judgment in the trial of Walker vs. Chandler et al in the Kern County Superior Court for $5800 for the plaintiff, as well as the finding of the Appellate Court for $5000, and has ordered a new trial. This was a celebrated case, growing out of an oil war in 1901, during which Walker was riddled with bullets.

THE INFERIOR COURTS.

SHOPLIFTERS HEAVILY MULCTED BY POLICE JUDGE.

Pinkertons Say Pair Are "High-Class Store Workers" With Records in Several Middle West Cities. Dairy Inspector and Milk Company Officials Arrested.

Their manners and mode of speech indicating good breeding and education, and their clothes the latest fashion, Mrs. Anna Nelson and Mrs. Anna Williams, charged with shoplifting, yesterday appeared before Justice Austin in Police Court, and were fined $300 or 180 days.

Pinkerton detectives say the women are "high-class store workers." They were arrested in a Broadway department store, a few days ago. One woman was wearing a skirt that did not belong to her, and had a hat valued at $25 in a small bag.

The Pinkertons reported at that time that the women had records in Salt Lake, Denver and Chicago, and were expert shoplifters. Yesterday both pleaded guilty.

"I just walked in with Mrs. Williams, and we started to look at the dresses and things," said Mrs. Nelson. "I had not been acquainted with Mrs. Williams very long, and knew little about her. When I saw her take the hat and hide it in the bag she carried, I was surprised. When she was arrested she had on a skirt belonging to the store, but she had put that on to try it and had forgotten to take it off again. We had no intention of taking anything that didn't belong to us. When she was arrested I simply went to the station with her, because I had known her. Then they filed this charge against me."

Mrs. Williams told much the same story. Both women had stayover tickets from Chicago, and both claimed to have relatives in the eastern city. They wound up by a plea for clemency.

"Fine feathers do not make fine birds," remarked Justice Austin, as he looked at the women. "The mere fact that you are both dressed well and have railway tickets to Chicago does not let you out on the charge of shoplifting. It is the order of the court that you pay $300 each, or in default spend 180 days in jail."

The women had claimed to have no friends here, but a well-dressed young man came forward quickly, paid Mrs. Nelson's fine, and left court promising to have Mrs. Williams's fine within a short time.

STRENUOUS.

MILLIONAIRE IS "ARRESTED."

FOUR TIMES TAKEN IN CHARGE IN ONE DAY.

Rich Man from Detroit Gets Rattled and Tries to Run Friendship "Gag" on the Officers—Matter Finally Settled by His Paying for Case of Wine.

Thomas Barlum, millionaire merchant of Detroit, Mich., and one of the best known of the regular winter tourists to Southern California, was the most arrested man in Los Angeles yesterday. His friends enjoyed the joke greatly.

Last night Barlum had reached the stage where he put his hands up in the air at the mere sight of a uniform while the sound of the gong of the patrol wagon made him wander in search of a convenient patrol box to save the officers trouble.

The first arrest occurred at the Hollenbeck Hotel, the manager of which, John S. Mitchell, is one of Barlum's best friends in Los Angeles. The eastern merchant has been staying at the hotel.

Barlum, "barbered" and "shined" and dressed in the latest and neatest styles, was in the lobby, when two men slipped up behind him.

"Hands up," commanded one in a gruff voice.

Barlum's neatly-gloved hands reached upward.

Then the millionaire turned. "Hello! Bliss, Hello! McDonald," he fairly shouted as he grasped for the hands of the two men. But the men didn't thaw a little bit. One was Captain of Detectives McDonnell of Detroit and the other Dist.-Atty. Bliss of that city. Both are in Los Angeles to take Dr. Sloane back.

"None of that friendship gag now," said McDonnell. "We'll hear from you later. In the meantime I want to warn you that anything you may say will be used as evidence against you." The officers proceeded to tell Barlum that he was arrested on a charge of passing New York exchange certificates at the Hollenbeck and receiving money for them.

Barlum did not stop to figure that such action was no crime and became rattled. His friends, after working him up considerably, let him in on the fact that it was a joke on him. Barlum accepted this small favor thankfully. He said if he could only get Manager Mitchell to bite as badly as he did he would be happy.

The party repaired to Mitchell's room and the manager was solemnly informed that Barlum was under arrest. He was told to hold his trunk until further orders. Mitchell became alarmed at the predicament of his old friend. He called a porter and a bell boy and then most every one in the hotel. He had men running up stairs and men running down, and hurriedly telephoned to two well-known business ment to put up $5000 bail.

When the pair arrived with the money Mitchell was taken to one side and let in on the joke on himself. He sent for wine.

Then the arresting began in earnest. The house officer at the hotel took Barlum in charge and declined to release him till he was duly identified. McDonnell was arrested and so was Bliss. Soon half the people in the hotel lobby were standing around with their hands up waiting to be arrested.

Finally Barlum, seeing the coast clear, started for the door and managed to leave the hotel. But Mitchell got even with him.

Just as the visitor was boarding a car, Patrolman Cowan grabbed him and told him he was under arrest. Barlum took out his notebook, made an entry of arrest number 23, and began to try to arrange habeas corpus proceedings in the street. Cowan did not know about habeas corpus. He had orders from Capt. Auble to arrest Barlum and he marched him to the Police Station.

There, at a solemn meeting in Capt. Auble's office, he was charged with violating ordinance No. 999923. The police did not tell him what that ordinance was because it does not exist.

At last for the sake of peace, Barlum agreed that he had violated it, whatever it was, and wanted to put up bail. At that stage of the game Mitchell appeared and the affair was settled. Barlum agreed to send a case of wine to Mitchell to pay for one bottle the latter had to open in the afternoon.

Last night, when Barlum went to bed he put newspapers all over the floor so that in case any one wanted to arrest him at night he would hear them coming.

DAIRY INSPECTOR ARRESTED.

A. Hal Doig, W. E. Starr and J. L. Starr, officials of the Holly Milk and Butter Company, were yesterday arraigned in Police Court on a charge of selling impure milk. J. L. Starr of No. 2815 Arlington street is a State milk inspector. The warrants were issued by Prosecuting Attorney Guy Eddie, after he had received many complaints from inspectors.

The men will enter pleas of not guilty Saturday morning, and will fight the case to the limit.

Attorney Eddie alleges that once in a while the conviction of a driver who handles impure milk is possible, but that the dairies are mainly responsible for the sales. He therefore planned the raid on the Holly Dairy. Other places will be investigated. The officials of the company stated yesterday that the milk was sanitary and was never watered.

PASADENA CHARITY BALL IS A BRILLIANT AFFAIR.

Equal to Any Which Has Preceded It in Splendor and Fashion—Proceeds for the Children's Training Society—Mean Little Cur Causes Serious Injury to Policeman.

Office of The Times, No. 28 S. Raymond Ave.

PASADENA, Feb. 28.—No more brilliant function is given each season in Pasadena than the annual charity ball, and that which took place yesterday evening was equal to any which has preceded it, in splendor and fashion. It was given as usual at Hotel Green and the proceeds will be used for the benefit of the Pasadena Children's Training Society.

Those to whom the distinction and success of the affair are due are Mmes. Arthur A. Libby, Charles Cranz Perkins, Charles Russell, Harrison I. Drummond, H. Page Warden, Edward H. Groenendyke and Edward R. Kellam, who formed the Committee of Arrangement.

The great hostelry was illuminated from basement to dome and was beautifully decorated with plants and flowers. The Moorish drawing room showed a simple treatment in yellow, acacia bloom and dull green foliage finding an effective background in the rich green mural tints and hangings of the room. In the lobby flowering plants and fir trees were massed and the Romanesque room, which was used as a reception room, was decorated with quantities of green. The mantel was banked with maiden hair ferns and foliage plants, in the window embrasures were potted palms, and Boston ferns were placed in nooks and corners.

The ballroom was decorated merely with banks of jonquils and ferns on the window ledges and groups of tall palms and potted shrubs screening the space reserved for the orchestra.

Preceding the ball a number of dinner parties were given by patrons, both at the hotel and at private residences, and dancing did not begin until long after 9 o'clock.

Supper was served in the grill room and colonial dining room throughout the evening, and the floral decorations in these refectories was simple. Ferns and carnations alone were used in the colonial dining room and bright geraniums in the grill room.

The brilliancy of the scene was accentuated by the elegance of the costumes worn by the women, the flash of hundreds of gems, the sheen of early silks and satins and the beauty of elegant laces. The Four Hundred of Pasadena was present and there were many people from Eastern cities who lent distinction to the affair.

The patronesses, most of whom were present, were Mmes. Samuel Allerton, Arturo Bandini, Charles C. Bragdon, Norman Bridge, Sumner Bugbee, B. Rush, Theodore Coleman, Michael Gadsby, Charles D. Daggett, Caroline E. Dobbins, Allen R. Dodworth, Arthur J. Eddy, George G. Green, George W. Guyer, Adalbert Fennyes, C. F. Holder, J. H. Holmes, Edward R. Hall, John Jacob Hunker, F. M. Hutchinson, Theodore Irwin, J. H. Jameson, E. M. Kelly, Louis Laflin, Tom Lambert, H. M. Lutz, H. K. Macomber, Emily Macy, Gertrude Macy, William MacCormack, Clinton L. Morehous, Lawrence Newman, Frank W. Parker, Frank P. Perkins, William Plummer, Walter Raymond, Francis F. Rowland, Delia Senter, J. Smith, William Stanton, H. B. Stillman, Frances B. Swan, William M. Turner, John A. Warden, Pliny Watson, R. M. Wotkyns, Walter S. Wright.

Conspicuous among the handsome gowns worn were those of Mrs. Clinton P. Morehous, who wore an elaborate Paris costume of cream, lace velvet, heavily trimmed with Adrian lace and cloth-of-gold. Her jewels were diamonds.

Mrs. Edward R. Kellam, whose gown was a shell pink cloth of gold, trimmed with heavy, hand-wrought lace, with diamond ornaments.

Mrs. Arthur A. Libby wore a princhey costume of black tulle, made décolleté, with diamond ornaments.

Mrs. Edward H. Groenendyke was charming in heliotrope satin with garniture of gold lace. Her jewels were diamonds and pearls.

Mrs. H. Page Warden's gown was a Paris costume of pink liberty satin, with garniture of rare lace and pearl ornaments.

CHARITY BALL DINNER.

Replete with every dainty accessory was the charity ball dinner given last night at Hotel Maryland, in the golden oak dining-room, by Mrs. B. K. McMechen of Pittsburgh. The table was decorated with a profusion of violets and pink roses. After the dinner the party proceeded to the ball at the Hotel Green. Mrs. McMechen's guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pitcairn, Mr. and Mrs. H. Page Warden, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. George Watson, Mrs. Snyder and Mrs. Dews.

NEWMAN CLUB BANQUET.

With scarlet for the color scheme, the members of the Newman Club sat down last night at Hotel Raymond to their annual banquet and ladies' night. Rt. Rev. Richard Scannal, bishop of Omaha, was the guest of honor, and Count Bozenta and Mme. Mojeska were prominently seated near the head of the table.

The toasts were: "Our Holy Father, the Pope," Rt. Rev. Richard Scannel; "The President of the United States," Prof. Vincent Lutoslowski of the University of Cracow, Austrian Poland; "The Catholic Layman," Theodore Savage of San Francisco; "The Ladies," John S. McGroarty of Los Angeles. Joseph Scott, president of the club, acted as toastmaster.

POLICEMAN IS HURT.

Snapping and yelping, a little, fierce dog entangled himself in the bicycle ridden by Patrolman George L. Rice last evening, and that officer is lying in bed with his left elbow joint shattered. Rice was proceeding to his duties last evening about 6 o'clock. He was riding a wheel at Marengo avenue and Douglas street, on a steep grade, when a mean little cur rushed from the pavement, snapped at the spokes of his machine, got all mixed therein, and caused the accident. Rice threw out his left hand to break the force of the fall when the bicycle went down. He struck the ground heavily, because he could not control the machine on the grade. The two bones of the forearm were fractured at the elbow joint, and it is thought that one of them is split. He was taken to his home for treatment.

BRAVELY STOPS RUNAWAY.

Daring and cool was the act of Frank Greef, a telegraph messenger boy, who stopped a grocery wagon and team careering along without a driver on Fair Oaks avenue. Young Greef was riding his bicycle on an errand when he saw the runaway. He sprinted after it. When he caught the rear of the wagon he vaulted from his flying wheel, climbed to the front of the wagon, grasped the reins and brought the plunging horse to a standstill just as it was headed for an automobile. The horse was left standing on West California street. It was frightened, and in a few jumps had snapped the hitching bolt from its bridle. It ran thence to Fair Oaks, and was captured before it reached the congested district of the city. Young Greef makes light of his gallant act.

KNOCKS HOLE IN LAUNCH TRUST.

REDONDO MAN RUDELY STRIKES THE MONOPOLY.

Scheme to Corner Transportation of Visitors Inspecting Battleship Fleet Receives Setback and There Is Good Prospect for Division of Business.

REDONDO, Feb. 27. — Manager Thomas of the Redondo Pavilion caused a stir at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce last night, when he told about the efforts to monopolize for one of the neighboring coast towns all the available launches during the presence of the Atlantic battleship fleet.

The proposition merely contemplated the cornering of the entire launch supply of Southern California, from Santa Barbara to San Diego. Moreover, the thing was almost an accomplished fact when President Burnett of the Redondo Beach Chamber of Commerce became cognizant of it. Agents of this latter-day shipping trust had visited every point on the neighboring coast. Even Redondo entertained one of its angels unawares, and this was a mistake, for the visitor was careless here and left his track uncovered. Mr. Thomas got to Santa Barbara three hours behind the man who went to tie up all the launches there, but the Redondo man outwitted his antagonist and secured contracts with four launch owners, and the other man "got left." Other launches were secured at Long Beach and elsewhere, so that this city is fully supplied, and prepared to take care of the thousands expected to pass over its piers.

WANT TERMINAL RATES.

The meeting of the Chamber of Commerce last night was held at the pavilion, and was specially for the purpose of discussing the question of securing terminal rates for Los Angeles ports. President Burnett, in stating the object of the meeting, recalled the recent consultation between representatives of the Hawaiian Promotion Committee and the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, held at Hotel Redondo last Monday, under the auspices of the local organization. He said that while the contract would assure two cargoes a month for five years or more, inbound from the islands, the question of outbound cargoes from the Coast still remained a serious one, and that unless the same could be provided, the hope of the permanent establishment of a regular line of steamers through Redondo might fail, in spite of the vast help in this direction promised by the wood and tie contract. Finally, he announced that Monday's consultation had resulted practically in the conclusion that everything depended on the establishment of such rates from the East as would place Los Angeles seaports, and particularly Redondo, on the same basis with San Francisco and Puget Sound points. In order to accomplish this it was essential that Redondo should have terminal rates; that is, become a terminal point in the same manner as Los Angeles itself, in fixing through water rates from eastern shipping centers to the Coast.

President Burnett pointed out that this very desirable boon had been withheld from Los Angeles seaports heretofore.

A resolution was adopted, declaring that "the merchants of this city and of Los Angeles will be greatly handicapped in furnishing such return freight in competition with San Francisco and Seattle, unless they can be placed upon an equal basis in the matter of freight rates," and "that the Redondo Beach Chamber of Commerce hereby declares its belief that the establishment of terminal rates to Los Angeles seaports is not only demanded by considerations of justice, but is necessary to promote the best interests of Los Angeles and of Southern California."

A committee consisting of H. B. Ainsworth, W. T. Maddex and B. F. Sprinkle, was appointed to take charge of the matter and advance local interests in connection with the enterprise.

NOT A HOUSE FOR RENT.

Another matter illustrative of an interesting phase of local prosperity brought to the attention of the Chamber of Commerce last night, was the fact that there is not a single vacant house for rent in the town and very few flats or rooms suitable for homes for people coming here with the intention to remain permanently. Incidents were cited where numbers of such people had been forced to seek other locations for lack of accommodations. One member stated that he knew of five instances in the past few weeks of families which were in search of permanent residences being forced to go elsewhere.

Steps were taken to relieve their situation as far as possible. Non-resident property owners are to be encouraged to build cottages on their vacant grounds for renting purposes, and the newspapers were requested to publish a statement of the conditions as an encouragement to other property holders who lack the courage to make investments at a time when more than the usual courage is required. Hon. L. F. Wells announced that he and several other members were about to start a building and loan association for the purpose of helping those who are financially unable to build.

CURVED BEACH RIPPLES.

The matter of entertaining the fleet was taken up and a committee on that item was appointed consisting of C. H. Burnett, R. E. Mattisan, E. C. Thomas, L. F. Wells, C. J. Crellier, O. C. Human, J. P. Luxford, F. J. Fulk, Capt. Walters and Dr. Hancock.

A resolution was adopted asking the City Trustees to appropriate $1000 to help entertain the three fleets under Admiral Sebree, Admiral Swinburne and Admiral Evans, all of which are expected here. Another resolution was adopted asking the city of Hermosa Beach to join with Redondo in entertaining the fleets and to appropriate $100 for a like purpose.

Chairman Moore of the Civic League has called a meeting of the organization for Friday evening at the City Hall. He announced that the investigating committee would be prepared to make a full report on the sewer construction proposition.

BONES TELL OF A GREAT MAN.

LANDSLIDE REVEALS A HUMAN REMNANT OF LONG AGO.

Mysterious Find in the Hills up the Coast from Santa Monica—Samples of Earthy Things About the Little Volcano of Pulga Canyon Sent to Assay Offices.

SANTA MONICA, Feb. 27.—Out of the Malibu Rancho, that treasure house of mystery, comes the story of the finding yesterday of the bones of what must at one time long ages ago have been the tenement of a man of gigantic proportions. A physician who was in the mountains at the time and saw the bones declares that they must have been those of a man fully seven and a half feet in height.

Although the jaw and teeth are in a good state of preservation their appearance would indicate great age. They were found about forty feet below the surface of the ground, in the vicinity of Carbon Cañon, and were discovered when a landslide exposed them to view. They were found by Charles Baker, who will have them sent to the State University for the purpose of having it determined to what age they belonged. The femur is also in a good state of preservation, being several inches longer than the same bone from the leg of a man of normal size.

The finding of the bones of Indians and of the other races that roamed these mountains before the arrival of the padres is not infrequent. Numerous relics of an ancient civilization have been found, together with stone images and implements, but the present discovery is the first to have been made of any bones that would go to show that the first inhabitants were of abnormal size.

SAVORS OF SULPHUR.

Samples of the shale, asphaltum, oil seepage and igneous rock from the embryo volcano of Pulga Cañon have been sent to assay offices in Los Angeles for the purpose of having the composition of the croppings determined. This is being done with an object of developing the find. The springs in the near-by cañons are impregnated with sulphur, and there is a prospect that hot sulphur springs may be developed, in which event a health resort and sanatorium would, no doubt, be established in the vicinity of the smoking hill.

Should the indications of oil warrant the experiment, a drill is to be erected and a well sunk. Explosives have been ordered, and a churn drill will be at the scene of the fiery outcropping Sunday, when a shot will be fired in an effort to open up the vein of oil or natural gas, should there be one.

A dozen years ago oil-well drillers were operating in the vicinity of the present zone of excitement, and at that time several small fortunes were spent in sinking holes that refused to yield anything of value. A few years later not fewer than three shafts and tunnels were sunk in Temescal Cañon, a few rods distant, in an effort to uncover valuable deposits of coal that were supposed to lie beneath the hills. But these prospects yielded no return and the mines were abandoned to the bats and mountain lions.

Land speculators are following close upon the heels of the discoverers of the smoldering fissures. Efforts are being made to secure options on acreage in the immediate vicinity, and one sale has already been consummated. Harry Sexton of Santa Monica Cañon today purchased twenty-five acres from the Pina estate, being a part of the original Marquis ranch. The consideration at which the land changed hands was not made public.

RATES ADOPTED AT LOW NOTCH.

LONG BEACH COUNCIL MAKES A HEAVY REDUCTION.

Water Company Protests Against the Action Taken by the City's Governing Body, but Is Referred to the Courts for Redress—Plan for Reopening Suspended Bank.

LONG BEACH, Feb. 27.—The City Council this morning adopted a new schedule of water rates, which will go into effect on July 1. The schedule is about a 35 per cent. reduction from the rates governing at present. Yesterday the Councilmen in caucus carefully went over each section and agreed upon certain modifications, adjourning with the understanding that the ordinance as revised would be adopted; but this morning changed their minds and slashed off the section permitting a charge for sprinkling lawns and yards and removed the meter limit for laundries and manufacturing establishments. As finally adopted, a flat rate is given for three-room houses including bath, toilet and yard use of 75 cents; four-room houses, $1, and each additional room 5 cents. Meter rates for domestic use are fixed at 10 cents and for manufacturing purposes 6 cents per thousand gallons.

The water company representatives protested against the cut, which, it asserted, would entail a loss of $25,000 a year, but was told that if the rate was not fair, it had redress in the courts, when it would devolve upon the company to show that their valuation of its plant is not exaggerated.

At a mass meeting of citizens last night a unanimous expression was made of taking immediate steps to acquire a municipal water plant, but no organization was effected, and it is likely that the system of rates adopted today may have the effect of holding the matter in abeyance for a while.

FOR PLANING MILL.

Plans Perfected at Ocean Park for a Building to House Plant to Dress Lumber.

OCEAN PARK, Feb. 27.—Plans are being perfected for the erection of a two-story building of brick in which to house the Ocean Park Planing mill. The location selected is on Main street. F. C. Wolff is at the head of the enterprise, and expects to soon have a mission furniture factory in operation to replace the one that was recently destroyed by fire. Local people have subscribed for stock in the enterprise, and a complete equipment will be installed as soon as the building can be made ready to accommodate it. There are enough orders on hand to keep the plant busy for several months, and the indications are that the project will be a success from the start.

FOR TOURIST HOTEL.

Wesley Roberts is spending the week here, looking up the project of organizing a company and erecting a tourist hotel of not less than a hundred rooms. He speaks encouragingly of the outlook, and says if it is determined that such an enterprise would be a paying investment there would be no difficulty in enlisting the necessary capital. He wants to build at one of the beach towns, and says the enterprise will be carried out at the resort that offers the best legitimate investment.

CLAREMONT.

CLAREMONT, Feb. 27.—Young orators here are preparing for the annual intercollegiate prohibition oratorical contest for Southern California, which will be held at Whittier April 11.

Mrs. H. T. Jenkins of the School of Art and Design has begun a nine weeks' course in the study of design.

The junior preparatory class has elected the following officers: President, Wane Chase; vice-president, Amy Pelfey; secretary, Mary Woodford; treasurer, Leo Wire.

WHAT SCIATICA IS A FORM OF NEURALGIA AFFECTING THE SCIATIC NERVE.

Why It Is Called Sciatic Rheumatism and How Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, the Great Nerve Tonic, Cure It.

Sciatica is neuralgia of the sciatic nerve. Its origin is generally rheumatic and is the direct result of taking cold. For this reason the disease is commonly known as "sciatic rheumatism."

Lack of blood is almost always associated with neuralgia. One medical authority has defined neuralgia as "the cry of the nerves for better blood." This is true because the nerves receive their nourishment through the blood. Build up the blood, the impoverished nerves are fed and the neuralgic pains disappear.

Absolute rest is the best aid to proper medical treatment. Rest and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will cure most cases. This treatment cured Mr. W. Q. Wilcoxon, the well-known jeweler, of 535 Main street, Coshocton, Ohio, who is enthusiastic about the remedy. He says:

"I suffered for nearly two years with sciatica. The pain extended from my hip to the heel of the left foot and was so terrible that I could only hobble around with the use of a cane. I could not sit down without suffering intense pain and even to turn over in bed hurt me so that I could hardly endure it. The only rest I could get was by having my leg propped up. I could not put on or take off my shoes and stockings without assistance.

"I was under the care of four doctors and took several medicines but not one of them did me any good. Electricity also failed to help me. One day I read of a cure of sciatica by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and wrote to the person who was cured for information about his case. The reply praised the pills so highly that I began to take them at once. The pills just hit my case and in two weeks' time I was a great deal better. I took them a while longer and was cured and have never been troubled with sciatica since."

Pain that seems almost unbearable is a characteristic of sciatic rheumatism. In some cases the pain is knifelike, sharp or shooting; in others it is dull and aching. In acute cases there is some fever but in the more frequent chronic cases there is little or no heat in the affected part.

Sciatica is stubborn in resisting treatment and the patient frequently suffers for years. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do not simply relieve pain but they cure diseases causes by depraved or vitiated blood. They actually make new blood and have therefore a direct and powerful curative effect on such diseases as rheumatism, anaemia, general debility and after-effects of the grip. As the nerves depend upon the blood for nourishment and medication, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are unequaled for the treatment of even the most severe nervous disorders, such as neuralgia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance and locomotor ataxia. As a tonic for the blood and nerves they are used everywhere with the greatest success, building up wasted bodies and bringing the glow of health to pale and sallow cheeks.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

SHORT UGLY WORD?

FRACTURES TRUTH, DOES SOMEBODY.

TESTIMONY DIFFERENT IN SAN BERNARDINO TRIAL.

Wide Variance in Statements of Witnesses in Damage Suit Against Railroad Company—Fireman Injured in Train Crash Sues for Damages—Case of an Open Switch.

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 27.—Miss Bessie Dagenhart of Redlands has created a sensation in the suit for $20,000 instituted by W. H. Van Leuven and others against the San Bernardino Valley Traction Company. The suit is to recover $20,000 for the loss of a blooded horse, which was killed at Redlands last May, by a Traction car. She flatly contradicted the testimony of Theodore Painter, a wealthy resident of Redlands, and two other main witnesses for the prosecution. On the stand, as a witness for the company, she declared that Painter had helped the motorman from the car after the accident, that the car stopped at once, was going at a moderate rate of speed, Painter declared that the motorman had leaped from the car before the collision and that it was traveling twenty-five miles an hour. Miss Dagenhart also testified that Messrs. Thomas and Stewart, who were driving the horse, stated at the time that no one was responsible for the accident, that the horse had shied, leaping upon the track.

DEMANDS DAMAGES.

Fireman J. F. McKenney, who was injured a year ago by the derailment of a Santa Fé train at the packing-house siding a mile north of Colton, this morning, through Attorneys Dickson & Byrne, commenced an action for damages against the Santa Fé and Salt Lake Railroad companies for $45,000, claiming to have been permanently injured.

He alleges that the Santa Fé was responsible for failure to provide a safe track and roadbed for him to work on as a trainman and alleges that the trainmen of the Salt Lake were negligent in not closing the switch to the siding, and in leaving a string of cars on the siding.

McKenney's train was proceeding on the main line, when it suddenly encountered the open switch, which had been used a short time before by a Salt Lake crew. His train was going rapidly and plunged into the string of Salt Lake cars. The engine and several cars were wrecked, and McKenney was injured so that he was confined in the hospital for twelve months.

CHILD TO MARRY.

Irene Brown, the 16-year-old girl over whom a shooting affair recently occurred at Oro Grande, resulting in the indictment of her stepfather, H. Hartman, charged with assault to kill her, has secured a license to marry Charles Gillett, a young cattleman, whose infatuation for the child led to the shooting. The marriage is to take place here Sunday. Miss Brown denies the report that the nuptials will result in her refusal to prosecute her stepfather. The case has attracted considerable notice owing to the action of the grand jury in asking for the resignation of the peace officers of Victorville, for alleged negligence of duty in failing to immediately arrest Hartman.

TRADE BOARD SPREAD.

Tomorrow night the third annual banquet of the San Bernardino Board of Trade will be held at the Stewart. Among the speakers will be Rev. Dr. Will A. Knighten of Los Angeles; W. S. Clancey, president of the Board of Trade of Riverside; C. B. Hamilton, president of the Board of Trade of Colton; F. P. Meserve, president of the Board of Trade of Redlands, and C. L. Fraser, president of the Board of Trade of Highland.

SAFE HALF BLOWN OPEN.

Burglars at Chino Fail to Get Any Booty at Department Store Visitation.

CHINO, Feb. 27.—The Chino department store was entered by burglars at about 2:30 o'clock this morning. The visitors blew open the outer doors of the safe, but apparently took fright at that stage in their operations, for they left without further molestation. They took nothing.

This is the third time that the store has been entered by burglars in five weeks. On previous occasions small quantities of goods were taken. Officers are seeking for the perpetrators, but have only small clews to work on.

COLTON.

COLTON, Feb. 27.—The ground has been broken and the foundation is being laid for the new Carnegie Library, which will be located at the corner of Eighth and G streets.

The Los Angeles High School baseball team will play the Colton High School team on the Colton grounds Saturday afternoon.

The members of the Presbyterian congregation are planning a banquet in honor of their pastor, Rev. E. L. R. McClellan, to be given March 12, at the church parlors.

COMPANIONS GATHER.

San Bernardino Valley Association of Military Order of Loyal Legion Is Formed.

RIVERSIDE, Feb. 27.—The San Bernardino Valley Association of Companions of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion of the United States was organized last night at a banquet given at the Glenwood refectory. It was a distinguished body of war officers that gathered around the board, with Col. W. R. Smedberg, recorder of the California Commandery, as toastmaster. Among those who responded to toasts were Col. C. Mason Kinne of San Francisco, Rear-Admiral O. W. Farenholdt of San Francisco and Capt. A. G. Mills of New York. Songs were sung, accompanied by Signor Valenza on the harp, and plans for the California Commandery, as well as the newly-organized valley association, were discussed.

Capt. M. J. Daniels of Riverside was chosen president of the new association, with F. E. Hotchkiss of Redlands as first vice-president; L. C. Waite of Riverside, second vice-president, and Paul G. Moore of Redlands, secretary and treasurer. Others present were Dr. C. A. Sanborn, August Sanborn and E. H. Bryan of Redlands, E. R. Howard, J. R. Strang, Lewis Kimball, G. Rouse and Frank A. Miller of Riverside.

CARS EVERY FIFTEEN MINUTES.

With orange shipments which have averaged a car every fifteen minutes for the past week, the Riverside packing-houses have been working almost to their full capacity. The shipments for the week, the largest of the season thus far, amounted to 214 carloads of oranges and ten carloads of lemons, bringing the total shipments for the season up to 1196 cars oranges and 126 cars of lemons. The fruit is in prime condition and reaches the market with very little decay.

RIVERSIDE NOTES.

A lecture was delivered by Rev. Robert S. Fisher, pastor of the First Methodist Church, last evening for the benefit of the Porto Rico fund, which the Epworth League is raising for missionary work on that island. The league has been especially interested in this work because of the fact that a former pastor of the local church, Dr. B. S. Haywood, is now superintendent of missions at Porto Rico. The lecture was on the subject, "The Red Dog." Seventy-five dollars was raised for the fund.

N. S. Pettit and Miss Emma N. Hadley, both of Los Angeles, were married in the County Clerk's office yesterday afternoon. Rev. Herbert E. Benton, pastor of All Souls Universalist Church, performed the ceremony.

HAS TWENTY-FOUR KIDS.

Perris Valley Rancher Enthusiastic Over the Raising of Angora Goats.

PERRIS, Feb. 27.—Dr. E. E. Sill, a rancher living two miles south of town, has twenty-four kids. This does not refer to the size of the doctor's family, but to the number of youthful Angoras that frolic over the hills and satisfy their perverted tastes on the greasewood and sage brush in preference to the green grass and pasture in the valleys. The doctor is very enthusiastic over the goat industry, and is letting his small herd increase. There is feed on the hills and waste lands for thousands of goats, and as it costs but little or nothing to raise them, and they bring $5 per head when dressed, when 6 months old, there seems to be a good profit in the business. The local market take all he can raise at present, and by many the meat is said to be preferable to lamb or mutton.

The past few days of warm sunshine is making the grain shoot up very rapidly, and each day seems to make a marked difference in the appearance of the fields.

The students of the High School have organized a tennis club, and are now playing tournaments preparatory to challenging the high schools of Hemet and Riverside a little later in the spring.

Mrs. E. E. Waters, who has been visiting old friends here, left yesterday for her home at San Diego.

Product of the Country About San Jacinto Goes Out at Lively Pace.

SAN JACINTO, Feb. 27.—Since the rains of the last of January and the first of this month, owners of hay about San Jacinto have been letting their product go at a rapid rate. At least 300 tons, or thirty carloads, have been shipped out within the past three weeks, and today one man has contracted to sell a lot of 300 tons of barley hay to a Los Angeles firm for immediate delivery, at $12 per ton, f.o.b., San Jacinto. It is estimated that $10,000 worth of hay will be shipped from the valley before the first of May.

MANY LAND BUYERS.

Many land buyers have been in the valley this week, and a number of purchases have been made by newcomers. The comparatively cheap lands about San Jacinto are attracting the attention of homeseekers, and as a consequence the town is full of strangers.

Angelo Domenigoni this week purchased 320 acres of grain and pasture land, 160 acres adjoining his ranch on the north and 160 acres near St. John Cañon in Diamond Valley.

ELSINORE.

ELSINORE, Feb. 27.—The funeral of Mrs. L. D. Clark was held yesterday in the Methodist Church. She was born in 1854, and with her family had resided in Elsinore since 1885.

Hugh Heiney of Los Angeles, who with his wife and son spent some time in Elsinore, has purchased six lots on Lewis and Sumner avenues, and will build.

Capt. I. B. Dutton, an Elsinore pioneer, now of Los Angeles, is here for a few days with his son, Roy Dutton, and wife, also of Los Angeles.

INDIAN SCHOOL INDORSED.

One Is to Be Located in Center of Cocopah Settlement Below the Border.

CALEXICO, Feb. 27.—An industrial school for Indian youths is to be located in the center of the Cocopah Indian settlement, several miles below Mexicali, in Mexican territory. Señor Manuel Cuesta, resident Mexican Consul at Calexico, has taken much interest in the advancement of educational interests among the Mexicans since he was stationed here two years ago. Señor Cuesta a short time ago secured the indorsement of the Mexican officials for a plan to erect a $16,000 brick school building and establish a general school at Mexicali. Now he has received the indorsement of the superintendent of schools and of Minister Fomento Moreno for the project of establishing the industrial school for the Indians of the Cocopah reservation. They will be taught useful trades and given an opportunity to absorb as much "book learning" as possible.

CHAMBER'S OFFICIALS.

The Calexico Chamber of Commerce has elected the following directors: J. A. Morrison, H. H. Griswold, H. T. Cory, Ray Edgar, L. A. Potter, J. F. Giles, W. T. Heffernan, F. C. Herrman, A. M. Shenk, S. McHarg and E. S. McCollum.

Calexico will vote on the question of incorporation as a city of the sixth class, April 6.

The Heber Congregational Church, located near Calexico, has been given the place of honor in the list of home mission churches of this denomination, as its activities, socially and financially, considering its age and membership, have exceeded any other home mission church of the Congregationalists in Southern California.

Reports of rich returns from the "Uncle Sam" mines, in the Cocopah Mountains, below Calexico about forty miles, have caused much interest to be taken in that region, and many outfits have gone from this town to the mountains for prospecting.

A tract of 160 acres at Heber is being set to grapes by Will S. Fawcett of Santa Ana. He will also have 160 acres of cantaloupes and thirty acres each of tomatoes and string beans.

CANTALOUPE PROSPECT.

IMPERIAL, Feb. 27.—The crop of canteloupes this season for Imperial Valley is estimated between seven and eight thousand acres. Eighty per cent. of the acreage is now planted, and it is expected that shipments will Legin May 20 and run to fifty cars per day during the season. The first asparagus has appeared for shipment to eastern markets.

HORRIBLE PULL.

DRAG OF TEAM NEARLY KILLS.

EMPLOYEE OF IRVINE RANCH IS SERIOUSLY INJURED.

Caught by Plow, He Is Drawn for a Hundred Yards Across Field—Concussion of the Brain Is Feared. Youthful Groom Uses Marriage License Just a Year Old.

SANTA ANA, Feb. 27.—F. H. Walton, an employé of the Irvine ranch, was dragged for 100 yards this morning by a team hitched to a plow, and received injuries from which it is believed he will die. Walton was using a hand plow in the big yard back of the barn at the Irvine ranch-house, east of Tustin.

No one saw the accident, the first known of it being when the body was dragged to the stable by the team, but the indications are that Walton's team tried to turn before he reached the end of a furrow. He evidently stepped out to slap the horses with the lines, having no whip, scared the animals and started them on the run toward the stable. In some manner Walton was jerked by the lines in front of the plow, his trousers catching on the plowshare, and he was dragged across an open space in which were a number of stones. The back of his neck and head are injured, and concussion of the brain is feared.

The stable boy at the ranch found the unconscious man lying under the plow. Walton was taken to the Santa Ana Hospital, where he now is. He had been employed at the ranch for a year. He has a brother in Oklahoma.

USES YEAR-OLD LICENSE.

A marriage license issue a year ago today was used today when Robert H. Humphreys of Los Angeles was married to Miss Brownie M. Hill of New York City. When Humphreys got the license on February 27, 1907, he expected to use it within a few days, but he was doomed to disappointment, for his prospective bride was detained in the East. The document was held until today, when the couple were married by Rev. T. C. Miller, pastor of the First Methodist Church of this city. Each of the parties is 23 years of age.

SANTA ANA BRIEFS.

One of the longest runs the fire department of this city has ever had came at midnight last night in response to an alarm turned in from a box at the corner of North Main street and Buffalo avenue. The firemen found no fire, and no trace of the person who turned in the alarm.

The inspection of Co. L will be held tomorrow night by Col. Wilhelm. The headquarters of the Seventh Regiment are to be inspected on Saturday, and Saturday night the regimental hospital corps will receive inspection.

BALBOA DIVERSIONS.

BALBOA, Feb. 27.—On Wednesday evening Balboa society was given a glimpse of the "good old days 'way back East," when Mmes. Gage and Jackson entertained at a popcorn party at the "Top-a-hawkin" bungalow. Everybody had a hand in the corn popping, and the "pulling." Apples were suspended on strings from the ceiling and victims, blindfolded and with hands bound behind them, were invited to take a "bite." Other old-fashioned games were played, and the later hours were spent at "500." Festoons of popcorn, white and red, hung from the gas jets and gave the room an artistic effect.

SKATING PARTY.

W. W. Wilson entertained a party of fifty Huntington Beach people and as many more home folk at a skating party last night. The Huntington Beach Orchestra furnished music.

HOBO UNGRATEFUL.

Steals Horse of Ranchman Who Had Befriended Him, but Later He Is Arrested.

VENTURA, Feb. 27.—Rancher Wegge of the Casitas Pass, this county, was the victim of a rascally and ungateful hobo yesterday. The fellow was passing along the Casitas highway and stopped at the Wegge home for something to eat. He was given a square meal and also a good bed for the night, but arose early and stole a horse from his benefactor with which to continue his journey. He was captured by the Santa Barbara Sheriff.

Jack McPherson, son of Charles McPherson of the Mound, while handling a small rifle yesterday accidentally shot himself in the hip near the groin. The wound is only a slight flesh wound. As the bullet causes no trouble it has not been extracted.

A large number of Eagles went from this city, Oxnard and Santa Paula yesterday to attend the funeral of the late C. H. Cobb of Santa Barbara, formerly of this county.

The Ventura County Game Preserve Association met here yesterday and named the following board of directors: C. C. Teague, Santa Paula; Charles Doplon, Oxnard; Paul Charlebois, Ventura; James Gibson, Nordhoff, and John Burson, Ventura. C. C. Teague was elected President; John Burson, secretary, and Dr. Streets, treasurer.

SANTA BARBARA.

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 27.—Bearing a special commission from Gov. Gillett, H. Weinstock, a merchant of Sacramento, is on his way to New Zealand to investigate the system of compulsory arbitration of labor disputes in force in that country, and in which, Mr. Weinstock explains, interest has been revived by recent utterances of the President. Mr. Weinstock will first visit Mexico, Cuba, Europe and India.

LOMPOC.

LOMPOC, Feb. 27.—A music club has been organized here, with A. C. Whittemore, president; R. A. Lazier, vice-president, and Miss Helen Long secretary and treasurer. E. J. Couch has been selected as leader and Mrs. Ora Fitzpatrick as pianist.

At the last meeting of the Brotherhood that was held at the Manse, an address of unusual interest was that given by Horticultural Commissioner Schuyler, who urged that the Brotherhood take up the matter of planting shade trees along the principal streets of this city.

W. A. Schuyler says that all indications point to a very heavy crop of cherries about here this season.

FALLBROOK.

FALLBROOK, Feb. 27.—There are being shipped from this town to San Diego and Los Angeles 450 tons of olives to be converted into oil and pickles.

STATUTE BARS DAMAGES.

Notorious Case in Riverside Results in Verdict for the Rich Defendant.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RIVERSIDE, Feb. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The suit which has been pending in the courts for a long time in which Miss Ommie Harkey demanded $30,000 damages of John Tibbet for an assault on her, alleged to have been committed in June, 1900, and which has been on trial for six days, resulted in a verdict at midnight tonight in favor of the defendant. The jury's verdict was announced to be solely on account of the statute of limitations.

When the suit was brought the mother stated that the plaintiff was born August 27, 1887. In the trial she testified that the birth was August 27, 1888. On the latter showing the girl was under 19 years of age when she sued, and, therefore, not competent to sue. Tibbets is a wealthy man and pretty well known about town.

FOR BIG FORECLOSURE.

Suit Involving Half-Million Dollars in Bonds Is Brought in San Diego.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 27.—Suit to foreclose a half million dollars of the mortgage bonds of the San Diego Cuyamaca and Eastern Railroad, was commenced this afternoon in the Superior Court by M. Freeman. It is understood that Mr. Freeman is the representative of the Southern Pacific Company, and that the short road eastward from here into the foothills will ultimately fall into Southern Pacific possession through this action.

MEN'S DISEASES

All Are Curable

There's no drawing the line between curable and incurable diseases. Each individual case must be considered. Most doctors claim that among that class of diseases peculiar to men one or two are incurable. This idea is wrong. I have demonstrated that it is wrong, for I cure all diseases of men. The truth is, that some cases of curable diseases are incurable, and some cases of so-called incurable diseases are easily curable by the right methods. I by no means claim the ability to cure any and every case that may come to my office, but I claim to cure most of the cases that others cannot cure, and I always refuse treatment where conditions indicate that I will be unable to obtain thorough and lasting results.

DR. TAYLOR
The Leading Specialist

Varicocele

I cure varicocele in one week. I do no cutting whatever, nor do I employ caustic. I have replaced these harsh methods by a mild and gentle treatment that accomplishes the work thoroughly, without pain and without detaining the patient from business.

Contracted Disorders

I cure Contracted Diseases thoroughly and in less time than is commonly required to even cure partially. Do not endanger your health and power by relying upon patent nostrums or other uncertain measures.

Specific Blood Poison

My treatment for Specific Blood Poison neutralizes and eliminates the very last taint of virus from the system, and all this is accomplished without the use of dangerous minerals. I afford you a complete and permanent cure.

Stricture

I cure Stricture by a method that causes the obstructing tissue to dissolve away. No cutting, no dilating, no pain.

My Treatment for Weakness

Functional derangement, such as prematureness, loss of power, etc., is neither a "weakness" nor a disease. It is a symptom of prostatic disorder. To stimulate activity by the use of powerful tonics is an easy matter, but such results are merely temporary drug effects. Most doctors treat "weakness" in this manner because they do not know how to cure the real cause of the derangement. I am the only physician employing scientific and successful methods. I use no tonics at all. My treatment is a local one entirely, and corrects every abnormal condition of that vital center, the prostate gland. My cures are real cures and are permanent.

When Others Fail I Cure MEN!

MY FEE FOR A CURE IS ONLY $10

In Any Uncomplicated Case

PAY AFTER I CURE YOU

Such disorders as Weakness, Varicocele, Hydrocele, Stricture, Contracted Diseases, Contagious Blood Poison and nervous complications therefrom are very common to men. But from long experience I find it holds true that fully half the cases coming to me for treatment suffer not so much from the original malady as from the result of improper medical attention. Family physicians have not the special knowledge of these diseases and cannot take the time to thoroughly study each case. Trying patent medicines is wasting money and always does harm. Experience with electric belts and such appliances further destroys the sufferer's confidence. The specialist "cheap" fees cannot be depended upon.

Come to me at once. It will cost you nothing to have a private confidential talk with me about your troubles.

Office hours, 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Sundays, 9 to 12 only.

THE MARKETS.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Very little business was transacted on the local market yesterday. The general tendency of prices was a holding one, and only in a few lines were there declines. The demand for vegetables was better in fancy stock than in others, and separations were really plentiful for the first time. There was a drop in this, and it sold as low as 45 cents a pound. Considerable fresh celery root was selling well at 6 cents a pound. Chives were firm at $1 a dozen bunches.

Large arrivals of eggs were a continued feature—60 cases on the Produce Exchange, and more outside. There was apparent weakness in the stock, no bids of any sort or case-counts were offered. The supply on and is well scattered, and the prices will continue downward. Yesterday they were dropped a cent per dozen in all grades, and no top figures on candled stock now is 27 cents.

Butter was not heavily offered, and the prices are wavering. Fresh creamery was received in large quantities, and arrivals totaled 20,645 pounds. The prices were unchanged in any grade.

The cheese list was well looked after, and the prices are firm. Offerings were greater than it has been for a long time. Edam was placed on sale, and like nearly all other varieties showed weakness. Ten longhorns and a tub of imported Swiss were sold on change. There were no reported receipts.

Firmness was noticeable in the offerings of potatoes. This was due to light arrivals for three days, yesterday only 1827 sacks came in, and offerings were confined to Early Rose and Burbank Highlands. According to reports there are some heavy shipments on the way, and several cars were offered to arrive within the week.

There were no onion receipts, and offerings are light. No sales were reported. Garlic was sold in small lots and the price paid for it indicates considerable strength. Two sacks of beans were the only reported arrivals of that commodity. Pinks and Limas were offered.

Sweet potatoes are moving regularly at very firm prices. Receipts were 103 sacks, and the inquiry was very light. Popcorn was well featured on the call, and a ton was sold. The prevailing quotation on this is from $4 to $30 a ton.

Poultry and other products of the same nature are firm. There were a few fractional changes in the quotations, but these were not made by any change in the demand but by no present supply. Fish were plentiful and there were a few changes in the pork market, particularly in the smoked meats, where the tendency continues downward.

Copper Supplies Decrease.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Thus far in February the United Metals Selling Company has sold 89,000,000 pounds of copper, the bulk of it to England and Germany. These sales have cleaned up the surplus supplies of copper held by the concerns which sell through the United Metals Selling Company. It was stated in official quarters yesterday that there is now less refined copper unsold in the United States than there has been in many years. The copper brought prices averaging slightly under 13 cents.

LOS ANGELES STOCK EXCHANGE.

DAY IS SLOW WITH SHARES.

UNDERTONE IS QUIET AND THE BIDDING LIFELESS.

Approach of Assessment Period Causes Disinclination to Trade on Local Bourse—Home Preferred Is Handled at Slight Decline and Associated Is Only Oil Stock Handled.

There was fair business on the floor of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange during the call yesterday, but the general undertone of the market was sleepy, and there seemed to be a lethargic feeling among the traders. The approach of the assessment period, when taxes will be levied on all stock companies and corporations, always has a tendency to restrict business in the stock market.

Home preferred was again the leading trader. Fifty shares were sold yesterday at 49.75, showing a decline of ¼ point on the selling price of the preceding day. The close was at 49.50@50.00, down ½ and ¼, respectively, compared with Wednesday's closing.

Twenty shares of Santa Monica Bay Home Telephone were sold at 80.50, and the stock closed at 77.50@81.00, up ½ point, compared with the previous closing bid. Ten shares of United States Long Distance sold on the call also. The price was at 47.00, and the stock closed offered at 47.50, with no bid, the asked price showing a decline of three points from the previous offering. Los Angeles Investment Company stock was handled to the extent of 100 shares at 2.20, and the stock closed at 2.00@2.25, up five points on the bid of the previous session. Other industrials were inactive.

Ten shares of Associated Oil stock changed hands on early call at 29.25, showing an advance of ¼ point on the selling price of the previous session. The stock was quoted at 29.25@29.50, unchanged on the bid, and ½ lower on the asked, compared with Wednesday's closing. Few important changes were registered in the quotations on the remainder of the list, and no other stock was handled during the call.

Bank stocks were inactive as to trading, and little active bidding was heard for the issues. Several changes were registered among the quotations, mostly in a downward direction. Merchants' National was off 13 points, at 250.00 bid, with none offered. Southern Trust Company closed at 90.00@93.00, off six points on the bid. Others were unchanged. Bonds were inactive and the list was practically neglected.

Four hundred shares of Furnace Creek Copper changed hands on the mining call at prices opening at 26 and closing at 27½, this constituting the entire trade in mining stocks for the day. The close was offered at 28, without a bid. Johnnie closed with quotations at 11¾@12¾.

LOS ANGELES-NEVADA EXCHANGE.

MARKET SHOWS BETTER TONE.

GENERAL DECLINE APPEARS TO HAVE BEEN CHECKED.

Rawhide Boom Has Forced Heavy Sales of Goldfield Issues—Daisy Gains Three Points—Florence up Ten, Merger Fifteen—Other Leaders Practically Stationary.

While the volume of business was maintained at satisfactory levels, there was little of interest developed at yesterday's sessions of the Los Angeles-Nevada Stock Exchange, and the major portion of the transactions were confined to cheap issues of little monetary value. The transfers, however, covered a wider range than usual, and there was a decidedly better tone in the Goldfield leaders late in the afternoon session. It is not believed that there will be any material advance in the market while the present Rawhide stampede is continued. People are going by hundreds from Goldfield and other Nevada points, and in many cases Goldfield holdings are being thrown on the market for anything they will bring in order to provide the wherewithal to join the rush. Added to this the depression in speculation in New York tends to hold public demand within narrow lines.

Among the Goldfield leaders Daisy still maintains its position as the scalping favorite, though the transactions yesterday were smaller than for some days past. Trading opened at 1.65—one point up from the previous day—and maintained that level throughout the formal session. At the informal there was a noticeable strengthening on advices of upward movement in San Francisco and the regular price was forced up to 1.67—a net gain for the day of three points. Sales amounted to 2600 shares.

Combination Fraction was traded in to the extent of only 700 shares, but prices were a little better and showed a net gain for the day of one point above previous sales. Florence sold in two-board lots at 4.60—previous day's price—and then advanced to 4.70 on 4.10 on small lots, a net gain of ten points. Consolidated sold in two small lots at the informal session at 4.82½, and 4.85, a gain of fifteen points from last sale on Wednesday morning. Jumbo Extension maintained former levels with sales of 1000 shares, and there was a tendency to added strength late in the day. Little Florence appeared on the sales list with transfers of 2000 shares at from 21 to 22, and there was some demand for Triangle at slightly lower figures. The balance of the day's trading was confined to cheap issues, among them Searchlight Parallel, Eureka, Milltown Fraction and April Fool Extension.

LOS ANGELES-NEVADA EXCHANGE QUOTATIONS.

Yesterday's Forecast and Report.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, Los Angeles, Feb. 27.—(Reported by A. B. Wollaber, Local Forecaster.) At 5 o'clock a.m. the barometer registered 29.78; at 5 p.m., 29.73. Thermometer for the corresponding hours showed 50 deg. and 68 deg. Relative humidity, 5 a.m., 96 per cent.; 5 p.m., 78 per cent. Wind, 5 a.m., southeast, velocity 4 miles; 5 p.m., southwest, velocity 10 miles. Maximum temperature, 62 deg.; minimum, 49 deg. Barometer reduced to sea level.

Weather Conditions.—There has been a decided fall in pressure over the Pacific Slope during the last twenty-four hours, attending the eastward movement of the depression central off the Washington coast Wednesday morning. This storm has caused light precipitation in the Northwest, and a general increase in cloudiness in the coast districts of Southern California. Misting fog prevails along the southern coast this morning. The eastern storm is passing to sea off the New England coast, but unsettled weather with considerable precipitation continues in the States east of the Mississippi River. In the Mississippi Valley, the weather is fair and cold. The conditions this morning are favorable for unsettled weather in Los Angeles and vicinity during the next thirty-six hours, probably with showers.

Forecasts.—Local forecast for Los Angeles and vicinity: Unsettled weather, probably with showers, tonight and Friday; east to south winds.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 27.—Rainfall data:

Los Angeles	10.65	10.86
San Diego	6.38	7.06

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27.—The storm over Western Montana this morning has moved eastward, and now overlies Northern Nevada. It has caused generally cloudy weather over the Pacific Slope, with light rains in portions of Oregon and Washington and on the northern coast of California. The pressure is falling steadily in all districts. The temperature has fallen generally over the Pacific Slope. Conditions are favorable for cloudy weather with showers in California and Nevada. Friday. Forecast:

San Francisco and vicinity: Cloudy, with showers, Friday; fresh southwest winds.

Santa Clara Valley: Cloudy, with showers, Friday; fresh southwest winds.

Sacramento Valley: Cloudy, with showers, Friday; fresh south winds.

San Joaquin Valley: Cloudy, with showers, Friday; fresh south winds.

Los Angeles and vicinity: Cloudy, with showers, Friday; fresh west winds.

Arizona: Fair Friday; Saturday, snow in northwest; fair in southern portion.

GENERAL EASTERN.

WHEAT DISPLAYS STRENGTH.

WEAK START IS SOON OVERCOME.

Opening Is Lower Because of Decline of More Than One Pence at Liverpool, but Sentiment Changes Before the End of the First Fifteen Minutes of Trading.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—The wheat market opened weak because of a decline of more than one pence at Liverpool. Before the end of the first fifteen minutes' trading, however, sentiment had changed to the bull side, and throughout the remainder of the day the market showed unusual strength. The domestic situation was the chief bullish influence. Primary receipts were still running very light, the total arrivals today being 231,000 bushels, against 681,000 bushels on the same day last year. The demand for cash wheat here and at outside markets was strong, several reports being received from the southwest telling of damage by the Hessian fly. Demand was general with shorts and prominent bulls leading in the buying. The market closed strong near the highest point. May opened 1-4 to 3-8 to ¼ to 5-8 lower at 96@96 1-4, advanced to 96 3-8@96¾, and closed at 96 3-8.

The corn market was strong all day on active demand by shorts and commission houses. The factors responsible for the brisk demand were small receipts, large clearances, talk of small farm reserves and the sharp advance in wheat. The close was strong. May opened 1-8 lower to 1-8 higher at 60 7-8@61 1-8, advanced to 62, and closed at 61 7-8.

Oats were strong because of advance in wheat and corn. Trade was light. May opened unchanged to 1-8 lower at 52 7-8@53, advanced to 53 5-8, and closed there.

Provisions were firm, despite an easier market for live hogs. The strength of wheat and corn was the chief bullish influence. At the close May pork was up 15 at 11.85. Lard shout 10 higher at 7.85. Ribs were 10 to 12½ higher at 6.55.

Cash quotations were as follows: Flour was firm; No. 2 s. ing wheat, 1.07@1.10; No. 2, 97@1.09; No. 2 red, 94½@98½; No. 3 corn, 53½@ 58½; No. 2 yellow, 61@62; No. 2 oats, 53@53½; No. 3 white, 51½@52½; No. 2 rye, 82; fair to choice malting barley, 60@63; No. 1 northwestern flaxseed, 1.18; clover, contract grades, 19.95; short ribs, sides (loose,) 5.87½@6.37½; mess pork, per bbl., 11.25@11.37½; lard, per 100 lbs., 7.77½; short clear sides (boxed,) 6.37½@ 6.67½; whisky, basis of high wines, 1.36.

New York Cotton Market.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO FRED DORR.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—In Liverpool the liquidation of the March straddle continues, creating weakness there through the order of high grade staple cotton not immediately needed. It would appear that there is also an Egyptian account in Liverpool, which has also been liquidated. We find an improving demand reported by many manufacturers who complain that trade has been checked by pessimistic views of our local goods merchants. Receipts were practically nothing, showing the strength of the Southern holders. The cotton market was quiet and steady, and local traders are opposed to the market and are selling cotton.

Liverpool advices say: "Alexandria cables indicate that buyers think the worst is over and the outlook for cotton is brighter.

Boston Copper Market.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO FRED DORR.]

BOSTON, Feb. 27.—The market opened firmer and fairly active, was dull throughout the middle of the day, but began to improve steadily in the early afternoon, and broadened out nicely during the latter part of the day. The trading was chiefly in the coppers, and they responded sharply to better demand. Amalgamated was again the leader, being bought heavily for New York account, and buying of Butte Coalition, which was one of the most active issues largely from same source. The general market was a little reactionary at the end, and sagged from highest prices, but closed with substantial net gains for the day.

Inside interests state, without reservation, that the recent heavy demand for copper metal has completely wiped out all surplus stock in this country, and altogether there is not enough supply on hand, if there should be a cessation of output from any important producers, to supply requirements even on the present basis of consumption for a single week. One large consumer, within past week, is known to have bought 2,225,000 pounds from an independent producer. The Butte camp, where the matters have been in bad shape for many months, is greatly excited over the prospects of resumption, as it will mean a return of prosperity.

Advices from London, by mail, are to the effect that early this month the Calumet & Hecla Mining Company was trying to sell lake copper in France on even terms with electrolytic.

SENSIBLE.

"TATER" PATCH FOR RUSSIANS.

Dana Bartlett Seeks the Free Use of Land.

Spuds to Be Grown on Large Scale Near City.

Bewhiskered Molokane Don't Ask Charity.

Dana Bartlett gathered a large number of Russians at Bethlehem Institution yesterday and submitted to them a plan for going into the raising of potatoes on the community plan.

In fact, that is the plan upon which the Russians do everything; when some have work and others have none, the latter share in the income. There are 2000 of them in Los Angeles; some have means, the majority have not. But they will not accept charity.

If the people of the city have an idea that the Russian colony is supported by the money that is given to the various charities for feeding the unemployed, they are resting under a false impression. Dana Bartlett said yesterday.

"The Russians will not accept charity; they are willing to be helped into a way of earning a living, but those out of work are supported by those who have work or have independent means. When I spoke about having a picture of a group of them in the paper this morning, they objected and began to scatter for fear a photographer was in sight. They said: 'If our picture is in the paper some one will cut it out and send it back to Russia to show that we haven't been able to make good in America.' They are all organized into a 'Brotherhood,' and they look out for each other, and they are never among those who ask for food."

"There are among these Russians some men of considerable means, and under their leadership thousands of acres of land have been secured in Mexico at $1.25 an acre, and with the exception of about fifty families, they will go south in the near future. Those who do not want to go, told Mr. Bartlett yesterday:

"We do not want to be citizens of Mexico; we want to be Americans."

Would Plant Potatoes.

Type of the local Russians for whom land is sought that they may grow crop on community plan.

The plant suggested by Mr. Bartlett to give them a start, is to secure donation of the use of about 100 acres of unused land, near the city, where they may plant potatoes. His attention has been directed to a piece of land at Tropico, owned by Victor Ponet, with the suggestion that as it is lying idle, it may be secured for the purpose. There are in fact, thousands of acres of the same kind, and it is desired to secure it as nearly in a body as possible, so that some of the interested growers will constantly have their eyes on the crop. They will go into the patch, men, women and children, putting in and caring for the crop, their way being to set apart a plot to each group of families, into which they are subdivided according to the villages in Russia from which they came. They are all natural farmers, and will leave no foot of ground untilled.

Mr. Bartlett says that if people will come forward and offer him the use of the ground, he feels confident that the more fortunate Russians among them will "grub-stake" the enterprise, though they may need the loan of some plows, and possibly some aid in buying seed potatoes. Whatever is done, should be done at once, so that the crop can be put in before the coming of the March rains.

The be-whiskered Russians stood in bunches along Vignes street, all the forenoon, discussing the proposition, and their earnest manner and smiling faces indicated that they felt pleasure at the outlook.

One of the largest donations that has reached Bethlehem Institution, came yesterday from the employés of the Globe Mills, who sent 330 sacks of cornmeal.

"Paris," he said. "I thought he was going to stay in town and work all this winter."

Then he shrugged his shoulders.

He made it his business not to inquire too closely into anything that Cuthbert did, in which he showed himself to be unlike the majority of those people who give to others; and assuredly he was generous enough to his half-brother. For Cuthbert, of course, had the major portion of anything their mother had, and Rupert's first action (when he had realized that he had the command of so much money) had been to surround his mother with every comfort.

He bought her the house in which she now lived, she had her own carriage, and a very ample income. He gave her, in fact, exactly the sum equivalent to that which he spent on himself.

Matthew Woolgar had left him the money unreservedly—everything save a legacy to his sister, an old, crippled and humble woman, had passed "To the son of the best man I ever knew." But Rupert himself had certain theories. He felt convinced that this money would never have come to him if Woolgar had not seen in him the proper medium through which this immense wealth could be handled judiciously, and it was his one desire, his one anxiety, that he should prove worthy of the immense trust which had been placed in his hands.

The schemes about which he had spoken to Agnes Brenton the night before were no paltry things; they were planned on the most generous lines.

There was scarcely a public charity to which Haverford did not already subscribe largely, and his private expenditure of this kind was almost without limit, but he intended to do more, much more. And his keenest, his most living sympathy was with those people among whom he worked so long; it was on these toilers and out of them that this great wealth had been gleaned in the first instance, and Rupert resolved to give back to them in full measure. Nothing was too large or too important that dealt with their welfare and the good of their rising generation.

Already there had sprung up in that smoke-grimed factory town a monument dedicated to the memory of the man who had enriched him and the man who had given birth to him. It took the form of a large institution designated for the practical education and the physical and moral uplifting of his old comrades.

Life in the factory served to stunt the growth and stultify the intellect of those who did not possess, like himself, that piercing, that vitalizing determination to keep looking upwards. It was to such as these that Haverford determined the major part of Matthew Woolgar's money should go.

After leaving Kensington he went back to the city, where he had an office, and it was late in the afternoon before he reached the house that was, perhaps, the sole reason why he had elected to make London his headquarters.

Matthew Woolgar had raised up to himself a veritable palace. Money had been lavished on this house like water. The art experts of the various great continental centers had been busy for months and months finding treasures with which to garnish this lordly dwelling place.

But Rupert Haverford's benefactor had never lived in the house. His real home had been the shabby worker's cottage, where he had dwelt in those far-off years before his wife and son had died, and when power and greatness had not even dawned on the horizon of his future.

When first Rupert Haverford had passed through room after room of that magnificent house which Matthew Woolgar had built, his feeling had been one of oppression, and, in a sense, pain. Everything was so beautiful, everything was so cold. That element of desolation, of heart loneliness, which must have driven the wealth-burdened man to sit and smoke in his old wooden armchair by the broken-down fireplace in that humble north-country cottage made itself felt to Rupert almost too sharply.

That had been more than two years ago, and his influence and the crowded, and to him wonderful, circumstances in those two years had made a change in everything—in himself and in all that surrounded him. Still, though the world had fluttered in and out of these rooms very often, this wonderful house remained only a house; it was never a home. That element of solitude, that deadness, as it were, that clings about the atmosphere of museums and other treasure storehouses, continued to oppress Rupert.

It was too big for one person.

And today, coming freshly from the cheery, sociable homelike influence of Yelverton, Rupert was sensibly affected by this sense of solitude, this mockery of empty grandeur.

Happily, a vast amount of correspondence awaited him, and he set himself at the task at once.

Letters bombarded him wherever he went—the world seemed peopled with beggars.

It was a matter requiring great tact and discrimination, this giving to those who asked. Naturally there were other letters. Invitations poured in upon Rupert Haverford. There was scarcely a great house which had not thrown open its doors to him.

Already his small dinners had taken to themselves a cachet. If he had responded to all the invitations which were poured upon him he would scarcely have had a moment to himself. As it was, he felt that he was drifting more swiftly into the stream of society than he had any desire or intention of doing.

Not once, but a dozen times, he had told himself of late that he must change this.

Life for him had a serious meaning. It was full of serious projects.

Sometimes when he was a guest at the table of some illustrious personage, or sometimes when he would be standing in a ballroom watching the dancers and listening to the strains of softest music, he would lose himself, as it were; he would go back in his imagination to those days when he had stood working with the humblest of the factory hands, working and dreaming for the time when he should be free. Working, not for the bubbling gaiety, but for those big, those noble ambitions which his father had set before him as his ideals when he had been a child of only a few years.

He threw aside the letters now, and leaned back in his chair.

It was perhaps the first time he had let himself challenge himself.

With one of those curious tricks that imagination plays us at times he was suddenly wafted from the cosy warmth of his room to that cold, damp mist of the day before. He was walking through the white fog with Charlie Lancing nestling close to him.

If he were to turn his back on London, on society, on that life which he had been circling about him of late, he must turn his back on this woman, she, and she alone, was the magnet that held him so tenaciously, and she would be content to go with him. . . .
